2.a. If, for any 12-month period, an insurer proposes to cancel or nonrenew personal lines residential policies to an extent not authorized by subparagraph 1. for the purpose of reducing exposure to hurricane claims, the insurer must file a phaseout plan with the department at least 90 days prior to the effective date of the plan. In the plan, the insurer must demonstrate to the department that the insurer is protecting market stability and the interests of its policyholders. The plan may not be implemented unless it is approved by the department. In developing the plan, the insurer must consider policyholder longevity, the use of voluntary incentives to accomplish the reduction, and geographic distribution. The insurer must demonstrate that under the plan the insurer will not cancel or nonrenew more policies in the 12-month period than the largest number of similar policies the insurer canceled or nonrenewed for any reason in any 12-month period between August 24, 1989, and August 24, 1992.

b. If the insurer considers the number of cancellations and nonrenewals under sub-subparagraph a. to be insufficient, the insurer may apply for approval of additional cancellations or nonrenewals on the basis of an unreasonable risk of insolvency. In evaluating a request under this sub-subparagraph, the department shall consider and shall require the insurer to provide information relevant to: the insurer's size, market concentration, and general financial condition; the portion of the insurer's business in this state represented by personal lines residential property insurance; the reasonableness of assumptions with respect to size, frequency, severity, and path of hurricanes; the reinsurance available to the insurer and potential recoveries from the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund; and the extent to which the insurer's assets have been voluntarily transferred by dividend or otherwise from the insurer to its stockholders, parent companies, or affiliated companies since June 1, 1996, or the date on which this section became law, whichever was later. In the implementation of exposure reductions under this sub-subparagraph, the department and the insurer shall consider such factors as policyholder longevity, the use of voluntary incentives to accomplish the exposure reduction, and geographic distribution.

c. A policy shall not be counted as having been canceled or nonrenewed for purposes of this subsection if any of the following apply:

(I) The policy was canceled or nonrenewed for an underwriting reason unrelated to the risk of loss from hurricane exposure, nonpayment of premium, or any other lawful reason that is unrelated to the risk of loss from hurricane exposure. The department shall consider the reason specified in the notice of cancellation or nonrenewal to be the reason for the cancellation or nonrenewal unless the department finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the stated reason was not the insurer's actual reason for the cancellation or nonrenewal.

(II) The cancellation or nonrenewal was initiated by the insured.

(III) The insurer has offered the policyholder replacement or alternative coverage at approved rates, which coverage meets the requirements of the secondary mortgage market.

d. In addition to any other cancellations or nonrenewals subject to the limitations in this subsection, a policy shall be considered as having been canceled or nonrenewed for purposes of this subsection if:

(I) The insurer implements a rate increase under the use-and-file provisions of s. 627.062(2)(a)2., which rate increase exceeds 150 percent of the increase ultimately approved by the department, and, while the rate filing was pending, the policyholder voluntarily canceled or nonrenewed the policy and obtained replacement coverage from another insurer, including the Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association; or

(II) The insurer reduces the commission to an agent by more than 25 percent and the agent thereafter places the risk with another insurer, including the Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association, or the Florida Windstorm Underwriting Association.

e. The department must approve or disapprove an application for a waiver within 90 days after the department receives the application for waiver.

3. In addition to the cancellations or nonrenewals authorized under this section, an insurer may cancel or nonrenew policies to the extent authorized by an exemption from or waiver of either the moratorium created by chapter 93-401, Laws of Florida, or the moratorium phaseout under former s. 627.7013(2).

4. Notwithstanding any provisions of this section to the contrary, this section does not apply to any insurer that, prior to August 24, 1992, filed notice of such insurer's intent to discontinue writing insurance in this state under s. 624.430, and for which a finding has been made by the department, the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services, or a court that such notice satisfied all requirements of s. 624.430. Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize an insurer to withdraw from any line of property insurance business for the purpose of reducing exposure to risk of hurricane loss if such withdrawal commenced at any time that the moratorium under chapter 93-401, Laws of Florida, or the moratorium phaseout under this section is in effect.

5. The following actions by an insurer do not constitute cancellations or nonrenewals for purposes of this subsection:

a. The transfer of a risk from one admitted insurer to another admitted insurer, unless the terms of the new or replacement policy place the policyholder in default of a mortgage obligation.

b. An increase in the hurricane deductible applicable to the policy, unless the new deductible places the policyholder in default of a mortgage obligation or the deductible exceeds the limits specified in s. 627.701.

c. Any other lawful change in coverage that does not place the policyholder in default of a mortgage obligation.

d. A cancellation or nonrenewal that is part of the same action as the removal of a policy including windstorm or hurricane coverage from the Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association.

6. In order to assure fair and effective enforcement of this subsection, each insurer shall, no later than October 1, 1996, report to the department the policy number of each policy subject to this subsection, arranged by county. The report shall include the policy number for each personal lines residential policy that was in force on June 1, 1996, or the date this section became law, whichever was later. Beginning October 1, 1996, each insurer shall also report, on a monthly basis, all cancellations and nonrenewals of policies included in such policy list and the reasons for the cancellations and nonrenewals.

(c) The department may adopt rules to implement this subsection.

(d) This section shall cease to operate at such time as the department determines that the insured value of all residential properties insured by the Florida Windstorm Underwriting Association and all properties insured by the Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association under policies providing wind coverage, combined, has remained below $25 billion for 3 consecutive months, based on exposure data reported to the department by the associations.

(e) This subsection is repealed on June 1, 2004 ~~2001~~.

Section 18. Paragraphs (o) and (w) of subsection (1) of section 626.9541, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

626.9541 Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices defined.—

(1) UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION AND UNFAIR OR DECEPTIVE ACTS.—The following are defined as unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices:

(o) Illegal dealings in premiums; excess or reduced charges for insurance.—

1. Knowingly collecting any sum as a premium or charge for insurance, which is not then provided, or is not in due course to be provided, subject to acceptance of the risk by the insurer, by an insurance policy issued by an insurer as permitted by this code.

2. Knowingly collecting as a premium or charge for insurance any sum in excess of or less than the premium or charge applicable to such insurance, in accordance with the applicable classifications and rates as filed with and approved by the department, and as specified in the policy; or, in cases when classifications, premiums, or rates are not required by this code to be so filed and approved, premiums and charges in excess of or less than those specified in the policy and as fixed by the insurer. This provision shall not be deemed to prohibit the charging and collection, by surplus lines agents licensed under part VIII of this chapter, of the amount of applicable state and federal taxes, or fees as authorized by s. 626.916(4), in addition to the premium required by the insurer or the charging and collection, by licensed agents, of the exact amount of any discount or other such fee charged by a credit card facility in connection with the use of a credit card, as authorized by subparagraph (q)3., in addition to the premium required by the insurer. This subparagraph shall not be construed to prohibit collection of a premium for a universal life or a variable or indeterminate value insurance policy made in accordance with the terms of the contract.

3.a. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for a policy of motor vehicle liability, personal injury protection, medical payment, or collision insurance or any combination thereof or refusing to renew the policy solely because the insured was involved in a motor vehicle accident unless the insurer's file contains information from which the insurer in good faith determines that the insured was substantially at fault in the accident.

b. An insurer which imposes and collects such a surcharge or which refuses to renew such policy shall, in conjunction with the notice of premium due or notice of nonrenewal, notify the named insured that he or she is entitled to reimbursement of such amount or renewal of the policy under the conditions listed below and will subsequently reimburse him or her or renew the policy, if the named insured demonstrates that the operator involved in the accident was:

- (I) Lawfully parked;
- (II) Reimbursed by, or on behalf of, a person responsible for the accident or has a judgment against such person;
- (III) Struck in the rear by another vehicle headed in the same direction and was not convicted of a moving traffic violation in connection with the accident;
- (IV) Hit by a "hit-and-run" driver, if the accident was reported to the proper authorities within 24 hours after discovering the accident;
- (V) Not convicted of a moving traffic violation in connection with the accident, but the operator of the other automobile involved in such accident was convicted of a moving traffic violation;
- (VI) Finally adjudicated not to be liable by a court of competent jurisdiction;
- (VII) In receipt of a traffic citation which was dismissed or nolle prossed; or
- (VIII) Not at fault as evidenced by a written statement from the insured establishing facts demonstrating lack of fault which are not rebutted by information in the insurer's file from which the insurer in good faith determines that the insured was substantially at fault.

c. In addition to the other provisions of this subparagraph, an insurer may not fail to renew a policy if the insured has had only one accident in which he or she was at fault within the current 3-year period. However, an insurer may nonrenew a policy for reasons other than accidents in accordance with s. 627.728. This subparagraph does not prohibit nonrenewal of a policy under which the insured has had three or more accidents, regardless of fault, during the most recent 3-year period.

4. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for, or refusing to renew, a policy for motor vehicle insurance solely because the insured committed a noncriminal traffic infraction as described in s. 318.14 unless the infraction is:

a. A second infraction committed within an 18-month period, or a third or subsequent infraction committed within a 36-month period.

b. A violation of s. 316.183, when such violation is a result of exceeding the lawful speed limit by more than 15 miles per hour.

5. Upon the request of the insured, the insurer and licensed agent shall supply to the insured the complete proof of fault or other criteria which justifies the additional charge or cancellation.

6. No insurer shall impose or request an additional premium for motor vehicle insurance, cancel or refuse to issue a policy, or refuse to renew a policy because the insured or the applicant is a handicapped or physically disabled person, so long as such handicap or physical disability does not substantially impair such person's mechanically assisted driving ability.

7. No insurer may cancel or otherwise terminate any insurance contract or coverage, or require execution of a consent to rate endorsement, during the stated policy term for the purpose of offering to issue, or issuing, a similar or identical contract or coverage to the same insured with the same exposure at a higher premium rate or continuing an existing contract or coverage with the same exposure at an increased premium.

8. No insurer may issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance contract or coverage, or require execution of a consent to rate endorsement, for the purpose of offering to issue, or issuing, a similar or identical contract or coverage to the same insured at a higher premium rate or continuing an existing contract or coverage at an increased premium without meeting any applicable notice requirements.

9. No insurer shall, with respect to premiums charged for motor vehicle insurance, unfairly discriminate solely on the basis of age, sex, marital status, location of the risk, accidents more than 3 years old, or scholastic achievement.

10. Imposing or requesting an additional premium for motor vehicle comprehensive or uninsured motorist coverage solely because the insured was involved in a motor vehicle accident or was convicted of a moving traffic violation.

11. No insurer shall cancel or issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance policy or contract without complying with any applicable cancellation or nonrenewal provision required under the Florida Insurance Code.

12. No insurer shall impose or request an additional premium, cancel a policy, or issue a nonrenewal notice on any insurance policy or contract because of any traffic infraction when adjudication has been withheld and no points have been assessed pursuant to s. 318.14(9) and (10). However, this subparagraph does not apply to traffic infractions involving accidents in which the insurer has incurred a loss due to the fault of the insured.

(w) Soliciting or accepting new or renewal insurance risks by insolvent or impaired insurer prohibited; penalty.—

1. Whether or not delinquency proceedings as to the insurer have been or are to be initiated, but while such insolvency or impairment exists, no director or officer of an insurer, except with the written permission of the Department of Insurance, shall authorize or permit the insurer to solicit or accept new or renewal insurance risks in this state after such director or officer knew, or reasonably should have known, that the insurer was insolvent or impaired. "Impaired" includes impairment for capital or surplus, as defined in s. 631.011(12)(9) and (13)(10).

2. Any such director or officer, upon conviction of a violation of this paragraph, is guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

626.9552 Single interest insurance.—

(1) When single interest insurance is written at the expense of the purchaser or borrower in connection with a finance or loan transaction, a clear and concise statement must be furnished the purchaser or borrower advising the purchaser or borrower that the insurance effected is solely for the interest of the financing entity, and that no protection thereunder exists for the benefit of the purchaser or borrower. When single interest insurance is written, no effort may be made by the insurer to recover the amount of any payment from the borrower. Single interest insurance policies must be clearly stamped or printed on the declarations page, "Single Interest Only—No Subrogation." Single interest insurance is to be placed only after it has been determined that no other kind of insurance can be placed on the risk, except with the consent of the purchaser or borrower. Single interest may be written in cases of inland marine installment sales floater policies. If insurance cannot be obtained for the dual protection of the purchaser or borrower, and the seller or lender or financing entity for all the coverages contemplated, or if obtained, is canceled by the insurer before expiration, the seller or lender or financing entity may obtain insurance to protect his or her interest in the motor vehicle or other personal property, and the purchaser or borrower may be required to pay the cost thereof. In such event the seller or lender or financing entity shall promptly notify the purchaser or borrower that such insurance cannot be obtained, or has been canceled, and credit to the purchaser or borrower the difference between the amount charged for dual protection insurance and the actual cost of such single interest insurance, less, in the event of cancellation, the earned premium on the dual interest insurance for the period it was in force. If the purchaser or borrower procures acceptable dual interest insurance within 30 days after the date of such notice and provides the seller or lender, or finance entity with evidence that the premium therefore has been paid, there is no charge to him or her for the single interest coverage. As used in this section, the term "financing entity" means a finance company, bank, or other lending institution. However, those lenders licensed under the Consumer Finance Act, chapter 516, must provide coverage issued in the name of the borrower containing the customary mortgagee or loss payee clause.

(2) If a certificate is issued under a master policy, the same coverage as provided in an individual policy will apply.

(3) The provisions of this section do not apply to title insurance as defined in s. 624.608.

Section 20. Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 627.062, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.062 Rate standards.—

(2) As to all such classes of insurance:

(a) Insurers or rating organizations shall establish and use rates, rating schedules, or rating manuals to allow the insurer a reasonable rate of return on such classes of insurance written in this state. ~~Copies~~ ~~A copy~~ of rates, rating schedules, rating manuals, premium credits or discount schedules, and surcharge schedules, and changes thereto, shall be filed with the department under one of the following procedures:

1. If the filing is made at least 90 days before the proposed effective date and the filing is not implemented during the department's review of the filing and any proceeding and judicial review, then such filing shall be considered a "file and use" filing. In such case, the department shall finalize its review by issuance of a notice of intent to approve or a notice of intent to disapprove within 90 days after receipt of the filing. The notice of intent to approve and the notice of intent to disapprove constitute agency action for purposes of the Administrative Procedure Act. Requests for supporting information, requests for mathematical or mechanical corrections, or notification to the insurer by the department of its preliminary findings shall not toll the 90-day period during any such proceedings and subsequent judicial review. The rate shall be deemed approved if the department does not issue a notice of intent to approve or a notice of intent to disapprove within 90 days after receipt of the filing.

2. If the filing is not made in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph 1., such filing shall be made as soon as practicable, but no later than 30 days after the effective date, and shall be considered a "use and file" filing. An insurer making a "use and file" filing is potentially subject to an order by the department to return to policyholders portions of rates found to be excessive, as provided in paragraph (h).

Section 21. Subsection (4) is added to section 627.0625, Florida Statutes, to read:

627.0625 Commercial property and casualty risk management plans.—

(4) Commercial motor vehicle policies that are issued to satisfy mandatory financial responsibility requirements of a state or local government must provide first dollar coverage to third-party claimants without a deductible. With respect to such practices, the department may adopt rules necessary to assure that claims are administered fairly as required by law.

Section 22. Subsection (8) of section 627.0651, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.0651 Making and use of rates for motor vehicle insurance.—

(8) Rates are not unfairly discriminatory if averaged broadly among members of a group; nor are rates unfairly discriminatory even though they are lower than rates for nonmembers of the group. However, such rates are unfairly discriminatory if they are not actuarially measurable and credible and sufficiently related to actual or expected loss and expense experience of the group so as to assure that nonmembers of the group are not unfairly discriminated against. Use of a single United States Postal Service zip code as a rating territory shall be deemed unfairly discriminatory. An insurer may not impose a surcharge or discount for liability coverages based on the type of vehicle without providing acceptable actuarial justification.

Section 23. Section 627.385, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

(b) Provide a comprehensive scheme for the receivership of insurers.

(c) Establish this state as a reciprocal state in those states which, in substance and effect, enact the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Rehabilitation and Liquidation Model Act or the Uniform Insurers Liquidation Act.

(d) Make more efficient the administration of insurer receiverships on an interstate and international basis.

(g) Enhance the efficiency and economy of liquidation through clarification and specification of the law to minimize legal uncertainty and litigation.

(h) Lessen the problems of interstate rehabilitation and liquidation of an entity subject to the provisions of this part by facilitating cooperation between states in the liquidation process and by extension of the scope of personal jurisdiction over debtors of the insurer outside this state.

(i) Establish a system which equitably apportions any unavoidable loss.

(j) Maximize recovery of assets for the benefit of the insurer and its policyholders, creditors, and estate.

(2) This part shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes stated in subsection (1) and shall specifically authorize the department in its capacity as administrator, conservator, rehabilitator, receiver, liquidator, or similar capacity to pursue any actions for damages or other recoveries on behalf of the insurer and its policyholders, creditors, and estate.

insurer has been violated. In the furtherance of such investigation, the department may:

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for CS for SB 466 accepts the Senate position on retention of the current law standard of just cause as a disciplinary standard, and maintenance of the burden of proof on the public employer. It modifies the employee grievance process to reduce time frames for completion but limits the ability of a hearing tribunal to mitigate the actions of the agency head.

The Conference Committee Amendment eliminates the special master in labor impasse proceedings and changes the legislative disposition of labor and management disagreements.

The House recedes from its positions on changes to affirmative action and decertification of a police labor union. It further accedes to two Senate positions on developing federally approved tax shelters for accrued leave payments and alternative retirement plans for casual labor employees.

The Senate recedes from its position on management pay tied to performance and accedes to the House positions on the transfer of PERC to the Department of Management Services and on limitations in the use of casual labor (OPS).

The Senate accepts a House position on a smaller and less formalized advisory body for private sector management review of career service changes.

The Conference Committee Amendment coordinates the payment of employee incentives with policies established in the Appropriations Bill and permits year-end redemption of annual leave.

Alternative language is incorporated in the Conference Committee Amendment to specify the conditions under which the public employer will pay for work-related training in public universities and community colleges.

The Conference Committee Amendment provides for the transfer of some 16,000 management, supervisory, and confidential employees from the Career Service System to the Selected Exempt Service System and raises the formula from .5 percent to 1 percent of career service positions which may be placed in this Senior Management Service Class.

Adoption of any plan is contingent on: the department receiving appropriate favorable rulings from the Internal Revenue Service; the department negotiating under the provisions of chapter 447, Florida Statutes, where applicable; and the Comptroller making appropriate changes to the state payroll system. The department's request for proposals by vendors for such plans may require that the vendors provide market-risk or volatility ratings from recognized rating agencies for each of their investment products. The department shall provide for a system of continuous quality assurance oversight to ensure that the program objectives are achieved and that the program is prudently managed.

If any employee is adversely affected by payment of an excise tax or any Internal Revenue Service penalty by electing to withdraw funds within 30 days, the plan shall include a provision which will provide the employee with no less cash than if the employee had not participated in the plan.

(3) These contracts may be used by any other pay plans or personnel systems in the executive, legislative, or judicial branches of government upon approval of the appropriate administrative authority.

(4) Notwithstanding the terminal pay provisions of s. 110.122, Florida Statutes, the department may contract for a tax-sheltered plan for leave and special compensation pay for employees terminating over

The frequency of payments into the plan shall be determined by the department or as provided in the General Appropriations Act. This plan or plans shall provide the greatest tax benefits to the employees and maximize the savings to the state.

(5) The department shall determine by rule the design of the plans and the eligibility of participants.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to remove plan participants from the scope of s. 110.122(5), Florida Statutes.

This appropriation to Administered Funds shall be processed in the same manner as if it had been made in the General Appropriations Act.

Section 49. If any provision of this act or its application to any particular person or circumstance is held invalid, that provision or its application shall be deemed severable and shall not affect the validity of other provisions or applications of this act.

A facility offering services for fewer than three persons is within the meaning of this definition if it holds itself out to the public to be an establishment which regularly provides such services.

(9)(8) "Geriatric outpatient clinic" means a site for providing outpatient health care to persons 60 years of age or older, which is staffed by a registered nurse or a physician assistant.

(13)(12) "Nursing home facility" means any facility which provides nursing services as defined in part I of chapter 464 and which is licensed according to this part.

(16)(15) "Respite care" means admission to a nursing home for the purpose of providing a short period of rest or relief or emergency alternative care for the primary caregiver of an individual receiving care at home who, without home-based care, would otherwise require institutional care.

(17)(16) "Resident care plan" means a written plan developed, maintained, and reviewed not less than quarterly by a registered nurse, with participation from other facility staff and the resident or his or her designee or legal representative, which includes a comprehensive assessment of the needs of an individual resident, the type and frequency of services required to provide the necessary care for the resident to attain or maintain the highest practicable physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being, a listing of services provided within or outside the facility to meet those needs, and an explanation of service goals. The resident care plan must be signed by the director of nursing and the resident, the resident's designee, or the resident's legal representative.

(18)(17) "Resident designee" means a person, other than the owner, administrator, or employee of the facility, designated in writing by a resident or a resident's guardian, if the resident is adjudicated incompetent, to be the resident's representative for a specific, limited purpose.

The agency shall recognize a person as a voluntary board member following submission of a statement to the agency by the director and the not-for-profit corporation or organization which affirms that the director conforms to this definition. The statement affirming the status of the director must be submitted to the agency on a form provided by the agency.

Section 3. The Agency for Health Care Administration and the Office of the Attorney General shall jointly study the potential use of electronic monitoring devices in nursing home facilities licensed under part II of chapter 400, Florida Statutes. The study shall include, but not be limited to, a review of the current use of electronic monitoring devices by nursing home facilities and their residents and other health care facilities; an analysis of other state laws and proposed legislation related to the mandated use of electronic monitoring devices in nursing home facilities; an analysis of the potential ramifications of requiring facilities to install such devices when requested by or on behalf of a resident; the impact of the devices on the privacy and dignity of the resident on whose behalf the device is installed and other residents who may be affected by the device; the potential impact on improving the care of residents; the potential impact on the care environment and on staff recruitment and retention; appropriate uses of any tapes if mandated by law, including methods and timeframes for reporting any questionable incidents to the facility and appropriate regulatory agencies; appropriate security needed to protect the integrity of tapes for the protection of the resident and direct-care staff; and the potential ramifications on the care environment of allowing the use of recorded tapes in legal proceedings, including any exceptions that should apply if prohibited. The Agency for Health Care Administration shall lead the study and shall submit the findings and recommendations of the study to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives by January 1, 2002.

Section 4. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.023, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.023 Civil enforcement.—

(1) Any resident whose rights as specified in this part are ~~violated deprived or infringed upon~~ shall have a cause of action ~~against any licensee responsible for the violation~~. The action may be brought by the resident or his or her guardian, by a person or organization acting on behalf of a resident with the consent of the resident or his or her guardian, or by the personal representative of the estate of a deceased resident ~~regardless of the cause of death. If the action alleges a claim for the resident's rights or for negligence that caused the death of the resident, the claimant shall be required to elect either survival damages pursuant to s. 46.021 or wrongful death damages pursuant to s. 768.21 when the cause of death resulted from the deprivation or infringement of the decedent's rights.~~ If the action alleges a claim for the resident's rights or for negligence that did not cause the death of the resident, the personal representative of the estate may recover damages for the negligence that caused injury to the resident. The action may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce such rights and to recover actual and punitive damages for any violation of ~~deprivation or infringement on~~ the rights of a resident or for negligence. Any resident who prevails in seeking injunctive relief or a claim for an administrative remedy is entitled to recover the costs of the action, and a reasonable attorney's fee assessed against the defendant not to exceed $25,000. Fees shall be awarded solely for the injunctive or administrative relief and not for any claim or action for damages whether such claim or action is brought together with a request for an injunction or administrative relief or as a separate action, except as provided under s. 768.79 or the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure. Sections 400.023-400.0238 provide the exclusive remedy for a cause of action for recovery of damages for the personal injury or death of a nursing home resident arising out of negligence or a violation of rights specified in s. 400.022. This section does not preclude theories of recovery not arising out of negligence or s. 400.022 which are available to a resident or to the agency. The provisions of chapter 766 do not apply to any cause of action brought under ss. 400.023-400.0238. ~~Any plaintiff who prevails in any such action may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees, costs of the action, and damages, unless the court finds that the plaintiff has acted in bad faith, with malicious purpose, and that there was a complete absence of a justiciable issue of either law or fact. A prevailing defendant may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to s. 57.105. The remedies provided in this section are in addition to and cumulative with other legal and administrative remedies available to a resident and to the agency.~~

(2) In any claim brought pursuant to this part alleging a violation of resident's rights or negligence causing injury to or the death of a resident, the claimant shall have the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that:

- (a) The defendant owed a duty to the resident;
- (b) The defendant breached the duty to the resident;
- (c) The breach of the duty is a legal cause of loss, injury, death, or damage to the resident; and
- (d) The resident sustained loss, injury, death, or damage as a result of the breach.

Nothing in this part shall be interpreted to create strict liability. A violation of the rights set forth in s. 400.022 or in any other standard or guidelines specified in this part or in any applicable administrative standard or guidelines of this state or a federal regulatory agency shall be evidence of negligence but shall not be considered negligence per se.

~~(2) Attorneys' fees shall be based on the following criteria:~~

- ~~(a) The time and labor required;~~
- ~~(b) The novelty and difficulty of the questions;~~
- ~~(c) The skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;~~
- ~~(d) The preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to the acceptance of the case;~~
- ~~(e) The customary fee;~~
- ~~(f) Whether the fee is fixed or contingent;~~
- ~~(g) The amount involved or the results obtained;~~
- ~~(h) The experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys;~~
- ~~(i) The costs expended to prosecute the claim;~~
- ~~(j) The type of fee arrangement between the attorney and the client;~~
- ~~(k) Whether the relevant market requires a contingency fee multiplier to obtain competent counsel;~~
- ~~(l) Whether the attorney was able to mitigate the risk of nonpayment in any way.~~

(3) In any claim brought pursuant to s. 400.023, a licensee, person, or entity shall have a duty to exercise reasonable care. Reasonable care is that degree of care which a reasonably careful licensee, person, or entity would use under like circumstances.

(4) In any claim for resident's rights violation or negligence by a nurse licensed under part I of chapter 464, such nurse shall have the duty to exercise care consistent with the prevailing professional standard of care for a nurse. The prevailing professional standard of care for a nurse shall be that level of care, skill, and treatment which, in light of all relevant surrounding circumstances is recognized as acceptable and appropriate by reasonably prudent similar nurses.

(5)(3) A licensee shall not be liable for the medical negligence of any physician rendering care or treatment to the resident except for the administrative services of a medical director as required in this part. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to protect a licensee, person, or entity from liability for failure to provide a resident with appropriate observation, assessment, nursing diagnosis, planning, intervention, and evaluation of care by nursing staff.

(6) The resident or the resident's legal representative shall serve a copy of any complaint alleging in whole or in part a violation of any rights specified in this part to the Agency for Health Care Administration at the time of filing the initial complaint with the clerk of the court for the county in which the action is pursued. The requirement of providing a copy of the complaint to the agency does not impair the resident's legal rights or ability to seek relief for his or her claim.

(7) An action under this part for a violation of rights or negligence recognized herein is not a claim for medical malpractice, and the provision of s. 768.21(8) do not apply to a claim alleging death of the resident.

~~(4) Claimants alleging a deprivation or infringement of adequate and appropriate health care pursuant to s. 400.022(1)(k) which resulted in personal injury to or the death of a resident shall conduct an investigation which shall include a review by a licensed physician or registered nurse familiar with the standard of nursing care for nursing home residents pursuant to this part. Any complaint alleging such a deprivation or infringement shall be accompanied by a verified statement from the reviewer that there exists reason to believe that a deprivation or infringement occurred during the resident's stay at the nursing home. Such opinion shall be based on records or other information available at the time that suit is filed. Failure to provide records in accordance with the requirements of this chapter shall waive the requirement of the verified statement.~~

~~(5) For the purpose of this section, punitive damages may be awarded for conduct which is willful, wanton, gross or flagrant, reckless, or consciously indifferent to the rights of the resident.~~

~~(6) To recover attorney's fees under this section, the following conditions precedent must be met:~~

~~(a) Within 120 days after the filing of a responsive pleading or defensive motion to a complaint brought under this section and before trial, the parties or their designated representatives shall meet in mediation to discuss the issues of liability and damages in accordance with this paragraph for the purpose of an early resolution of the matter.~~

~~1. Within 60 days after the filing of the responsive pleading or defensive motion, the parties shall:~~

~~a. Agree on a mediator. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, the defendant shall immediately notify the court, which shall appoint a mediator within 10 days after such notice.~~

~~b. Set a date for mediation.~~

~~c. Prepare an order for the court that identifies the mediator, the scheduled date of the mediation, and other terms of the mediation. Absent any disagreement between the parties, the court may issue the order for the mediation submitted by the parties without a hearing.~~

~~2. The mediation must be concluded within 120 days after the filing of a responsive pleading or defensive motion. The date may be extended only by agreement of all parties subject to mediation under this subsection.~~

~~3. The mediation shall be conducted in the following manner:~~

~~a. Each party shall ensure that all persons necessary for complete settlement authority are present at the mediation.~~

~~b. Each party shall mediate in good faith.~~

4—All aspects of the mediation which are not specifically established by this subsection must be conducted according to the rules of practice and procedure adopted by the Supreme Court of this state.

(b)—If the parties do not settle the case pursuant to mediation, the last offer of the defendant made at mediation shall be recorded by the mediator in a written report that states the amount of the offer, the date the offer was made in writing, and the date the offer was rejected. If the matter subsequently proceeds to trial under this section and the plaintiff prevails but is awarded an amount in damages, exclusive of attorney's fees, which is equal to or less than the last offer made by the defendant at mediation, the plaintiff is not entitled to recover any attorney's fees.

(c)—This subsection applies only to claims for liability and damages and does not apply to actions for injunctive relief.

(d)—This subsection applies to all causes of action that accrue on or after October 1, 1999.

(7)—Discovery of financial information for the purpose of determining the value of punitive damages may not be had unless the plaintiff shows the court by proffer or evidence in the record that a reasonable basis exists to support a claim for punitive damages.

(8)—In addition to any other standards for punitive damages, any award of punitive damages must be reasonable in light of the actual harm suffered by the resident and the egregiousness of the conduct that caused the actual harm to the resident.

Section 5. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.0233, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.0233 Presuit notice; investigation; notification of violation of resident's rights or alleged negligence; claims evaluation procedure; informal discovery; review.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Claim for resident's rights violation or negligence" means a negligence claim alleging injury to or the death of a resident arising out of an asserted violation of the rights of a resident under s. 400.022 or an asserted deviation from the applicable standard of care.

(b) "Insurer" means any self-insurer authorized under s. 627.357, liability insurance carrier, joint underwriting association, or uninsured prospective defendant.

(2) Prior to filing a claim for a violation of a resident's rights or a claim for negligence, a claimant alleging injury to or the death of a resident shall notify each prospective defendant by certified mail, return receipt requested, of an asserted violation of a resident's rights provided in s. 400.022 or deviation from the standard of care. Such notification shall include an identification of the rights the prospective defendant has violated and the negligence alleged to have caused the incident or incidents and a brief description of the injuries sustained by the resident which are reasonably identifiable at the time of notice. The notice shall contain a certificate of counsel that counsel's reasonable investigation gave rise to a good-faith belief that grounds exist for an action against each prospective defendant.

1. Internal review by a duly qualified facility risk manager or claims adjuster;

2. Internal review by counsel for each prospective defendant;

3. A quality assurance committee authorized under any applicable state or federal statutes or regulations; or

4. Any other similar procedure that fairly and promptly evaluates the claims.

Each defendant or insurer of the defendant shall evaluate the claim in good faith.

(b) At or before the end of the 75 days, the defendant or insurer of the defendant shall provide the claimant with a written response:

1. Rejecting the claim; or

2. Making a settlement offer.

(c) The response shall be delivered to the claimant if not represented by counsel or to the claimant's attorney, by certified mail, return receipt requested. Failure of the prospective defendant or insurer of the defendant to reply to the notice within 75 days after receipt shall be deemed a rejection of the claim for purposes of this section.

(4) The notification of a violation of a resident's rights or alleged negligence shall be served within the applicable statute of limitations period; however, during the 75-day period, the statute of limitations is tolled as to all prospective defendants. Upon stipulation by the parties, the 75-day period may be extended and the statute of limitations is tolled during any such extension. Upon receiving written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, of termination of negotiations in an extended period, the claimant shall have 60 days or the remainder of the period of the statute of limitations, whichever is greater, within which to file suit.

(6) Upon receipt by a prospective defendant of a notice of claim, the parties shall make discoverable information available without formal discovery as provided in subsection (7).

(7) Informal discovery may be used by a party to obtain unsworn statements and the production of documents or things as follows:

(a) Unsworn statements.—Any party may require other parties to appear for the taking of an unsworn statement. Such statements may be used only for the purpose of claims evaluation and are not discoverable or admissible in any civil action for any purpose by any party. A party seeking to take the unsworn statement of any party must give reasonable notice in writing to all parties. The notice must state the time and place for taking the statement and the name and address of the party to be examined. Unless otherwise impractical, the examination of any party must be done at the same time by all other parties. Any party may be represented by counsel at the taking of an unsworn statement. An unsworn statement may be recorded electronically, stenographically, or on videotape. The taking of unsworn statements is subject to the provisions of the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure and may be terminated for abuses.

(b) Documents or things.—Any party may request discovery of relevant documents or things. The documents or things must be produced, at the expense of the requesting party, within 20 days after the date of receipt of the request. A party is required to produce relevant and discoverable documents or things within that party's possession or control, if in good faith it can reasonably be done within the timeframe of the claims evaluation process.

(8) Each request for and notice concerning informal discovery pursuant to this section must be in writing, and a copy thereof must be sent to all parties. Such a request or notice must bear a certificate of service identifying the name and address of the person to whom the request or notice is served, the date of the request or notice, and the manner of service thereof.

(9) If a prospective defendant makes a written settlement offer, the claimant shall have 15 days from the date of receipt to accept the offer. An offer shall be deemed rejected unless accepted by delivery of a written notice of acceptance.

(10) To the extent not inconsistent with this part, the provisions of the Florida Mediation Code, Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, shall be applicable to such proceedings.

(11) Within 30 days after the claimant's receipt of the defendant's response to the claim, the parties or their designated representatives shall meet in mediation to discuss the issues of liability and damages in accordance with the mediation rules of practice and procedures adopted by the Supreme Court. Upon stipulation of the parties, this 30-day period may be extended and the statute of limitations is tolled during the mediation and any such extension. At the conclusion of mediation the claimant shall have 60 days or the remainder of the period of the statute of limitations, whichever is greater, within which to file suit.

Section 6. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.0234, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.0234 Availability of facility records for investigation of resident's rights violations and defenses; penalty.—

(1) Failure to provide complete copies of a resident's records, including, but not limited to, all medical records and the resident's chart, within the control or possession of the facility in accordance with s. 400.145 shall constitute evidence of failure of that party to comply with good-faith discovery requirements and shall waive the good-faith certificate and presuit notice requirements under this part by the requesting party.

(2) No facility shall be held liable for any civil damages as a result of complying with this section.

Section 7. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.0235, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.0235 Certain provisions not applicable to actions under this part.—An action under this part for a violation of rights or negligence recognized under this part is not a claim for medical malpractice, and the provisions of s. 768.21(8) do not apply to a claim alleging death of the resident.

Section 8. Effective May 15, 2001, section 400.0236, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.0236 Statute of limitations.—

(1) Any action for damages brought under this part shall be commenced within 2 years from the time the incident giving rise to the action occurred or within 2 years from the time the incident is discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence; however, in no event shall the action be commenced later than 4 years from the date of the incident or occurrence out of which the cause of action accrued.

(2) In those actions covered by this subsection in which it can be shown that fraudulent concealment or intentional misrepresentation of fact prevented the discovery of the injury, the period of limitations is extended forward 2 years from the time that the injury is discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but in no event for more than 6 years from the date the incident giving rise to the injury occurred.

(3) This section shall apply to causes of action that have accrued prior to the effective date of this section; however, any such cause of action that would not have been barred under prior law may be brought within the time allowed by prior law or within 2 years after the effective date of this section, whichever is earlier, and will be barred thereafter. In actions where it can be shown that fraudulent concealment or intentional misrepresentation of fact prevented the discovery of the injury, the period of limitations is extended forward 2 years from the time that the injury is discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but in no event more than 4 years from the effective date of this section.

400.0237 Punitive damages; pleading; burden of proof.—

(1) In any action for damages brought under this part, no claim for punitive damages shall be permitted unless there is a reasonable showing by evidence in the record or proffered by the claimant which would provide a reasonable basis for recovery of such damages. The claimant may move to amend her or his complaint to assert a claim for punitive damages as allowed by the rules of civil procedure. The rules of civil procedure shall be liberally construed so as to allow the claimant discovery of evidence which appears reasonably calculated to lead to admissible evidence on the issue of punitive damages. No discovery of financial worth shall proceed until after the pleading concerning punitive damages is permitted.

(2) A defendant may be held liable for punitive damages only if the trier of fact, based on clear and convincing evidence, finds that the defendant was personally guilty of intentional misconduct or gross negligence. As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Intentional misconduct" means that the defendant had actual knowledge of the wrongfulness of the conduct and the high probability that injury or damage to the claimant would result and, despite that knowledge, intentionally pursued that course of conduct, resulting in injury or damage.

(b) "Gross negligence" means that the defendant's conduct was so reckless or wanting in care that it constituted a conscious disregard or indifference to the life, safety, or rights of persons exposed to such conduct.

(3) In the case of an employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity, punitive damages may be imposed for the conduct of an employee or agent only if the conduct of the employee or agent meets the criteria specified in subsection (2) and:

(a) The employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity actively and knowingly participated in such conduct;

(b) The officers, directors, or managers of the employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity condoned, ratified, or consented to such conduct; or

(c) The employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity engaged in conduct that constituted gross negligence and that contributed to the loss, damages, or injury suffered by the claimant.

(4) The plaintiff must establish at trial, by clear and convincing evidence, its entitlement to an award of punitive damages. The "greater weight of the evidence" burden of proof applies to a determination of the amount of damages.

(5) This section is remedial in nature and shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 10. Section 400.0238, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.0238 Punitive damages; limitation.—

(1)(a) Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c), an award of punitive damages may not exceed the greater of:

1. Three times the amount of compensatory damages awarded to each claimant entitled thereto, consistent with the remaining provisions of this section; or

2. The sum of $1 million.

(b) Where the fact finder determines that the wrongful conduct proven under this section was motivated primarily by unreasonable financial gain and determines that the unreasonably dangerous nature of the conduct, together with the high likelihood of injury resulting from the conduct, was actually known by the managing agent, director, officer, or other person responsible for making policy decisions on behalf of the defendant, it may award an amount of punitive damages not to exceed the greater of:

1. Four times the amount of compensatory damages awarded to each claimant entitled thereto, consistent with the remaining provisions of this section; or

2. The sum of $4 million.

(c) Where the fact finder determines that at the time of injury the defendant had a specific intent to harm the claimant and determines that the defendant's conduct did in fact harm the claimant, there shall be no cap on punitive damages.

(d) This subsection is not intended to prohibit an appropriate court from exercising its jurisdiction under s. 768.74 in determining the reasonableness of an award of punitive damages that is less than three times the amount of compensatory damages.

(e) In any case in which the findings of fact support an award of punitive damages pursuant to paragraph (b) or paragraph (c), the clerk of the court shall refer the case to the appropriate law enforcement agencies, to the state attorney in the circuit where the long-term care facility that is the subject of the underlying civil cause of action is located, and, for multijurisdictional facility owners, to the Office of the Statewide Prosecutor; and such agencies, state attorney, or Office of the Statewide Prosecutor shall initiate a criminal investigation into the conduct giving rise to the award of punitive damages. All findings by the trier of fact which support an award of punitive damages under this paragraph shall be admissible as evidence in any subsequent civil or criminal proceeding relating to the acts giving rise to the award of punitive damages under this paragraph.

(2) The claimant's attorney's fees, if payable from the judgment, are, to the extent that the fees are based on the punitive damages, calculated based on the final judgment for punitive damages. This subsection does not limit the payment of attorney's fees based upon an award of damages other than punitive damages.

(3) The jury may neither be instructed nor informed as to the provisions of this section.

(4) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the amount of punitive damages awarded pursuant to this section shall be equally divided between the claimant and the Quality of Long-Term Care Facility Improvement Trust Fund, in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) The clerk of the court shall transmit a copy of the jury verdict to the State Treasurer by certified mail. In the final judgment the court shall order the percentages of the award, payable as provided herein.

(b) A settlement agreement entered into between the original parties to the action after a verdict has been returned must provide a proportionate share payable to the Quality of Long-Term Care Facility Improvement Trust Fund specified herein. For purposes of this paragraph, a proportionate share is a 50-percent share of that percentage of the settlement amount which the punitive damages portion of the verdict bore to the total of the compensatory and punitive damages in the verdict.

(c) The Department of Banking and Finance shall collect or cause to be collected all payments due the state under this section. Such payments are made to the Comptroller and deposited in the appropriate fund specified in this subsection.

(d) If the full amount of punitive damages awarded cannot be collected, the claimant and the other recipient designated pursuant to this subsection are each entitled to a proportionate share of the punitive damages collected.

(5) This section is remedial in nature and shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 11. Subsection (1) and paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 768.735, Florida Statutes, are amended and subsection (3) is added to that section to read:

768.735 Punitive damages; exceptions; limitation.—

(1) Sections 768.72(2)-(4), 768.725, and 768.73 do not apply to any civil action based upon child abuse, abuse of the elderly under chapter 415, or abuse of the developmentally disabled ~~or any civil action arising under chapter 400~~. Such actions are governed by applicable statutes and controlling judicial precedent. This section does not apply to claims brought pursuant to s. 400.023 or s. 400.429.

(2)(a) In any civil action based upon child abuse, abuse of the elderly under chapter 415, or abuse of the developmentally disabled, ~~or actions arising under chapter 400~~ and involving the award of punitive damages, the judgment for the total amount of punitive damages awarded to a claimant may not exceed three times the amount of compensatory damages awarded to each person entitled thereto by the trier of fact, except as provided in paragraph (b). This subsection does not apply to any class action.

(3) This section is remedial in nature and shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 12. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 415.1111, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

415.1111 Civil actions.—A vulnerable adult who has been abused, neglected, or exploited as specified in this chapter has a cause of action against any perpetrator and may recover actual and punitive damages for such abuse, neglect, or exploitation. The action may be brought by the vulnerable adult, or that person's guardian, by a person or organization acting on behalf of the vulnerable adult with the consent of that person or that person's guardian, or by the personal representative of the estate of a deceased victim without regard to whether the cause of death resulted from the abuse, neglect, or exploitation. The action may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce such action and to recover actual and punitive damages for any deprivation of or infringement on the rights of a vulnerable adult. A party who prevails in any such action may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees, costs of the action, and damages. The remedies provided in this section are in addition to and cumulative with other legal and administrative remedies available to a vulnerable adult. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any civil action for damages against any licensee or entity who establishes, controls, conducts, manages, or operates a facility licensed under part II of chapter 400 relating to its operation of the licensed facility shall be brought pursuant to s. 400.023, or against any licensee or entity who establishes, controls, conducts, manages, or operates a facility licensed under part III of chapter 400 relating to its operation of the licensed facility shall be brought pursuant to s. 400.429. Such licensee or entity shall not be vicariously liable for the acts or omissions of its employees or agents or any other third party in an action brought under this section.

Section 13. Subsection (17) is added to section 400.0255, Florida Statutes, to read:

400.0255 Resident transfer or discharge; requirements and procedures; hearings.—

(17) The provisions of this section apply to transfers or discharges that are initiated by the nursing home facility, and not by the resident or by the resident's physician or legal guardian or representative.

Section 14. Subsection (3) of section 400.062, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.062 License required; fee; disposition; display; transfer.—

(3) The annual license fee required for each license issued under this part shall be comprised of two parts. Part I of the license fee shall be the basic license fee. The rate per bed for the basic license fee shall be established annually and shall be $50 per bed. The agency may adjust the per bed licensure fees by the Consumer Price Index based on the 12 months immediately preceding the increase ~~must be reasonably calculated~~ to cover the cost of regulation under this part, ~~but may not exceed $35 per bed.~~ Part II of the license fee shall be the resident protection fee, which shall be at the rate of not less than 25 cents per bed. The rate per bed shall be the minimum rate per bed, and such rate shall remain in effect until the effective date of a rate per bed adopted by rule by the agency pursuant to this part. At such time as the amount on deposit in the Resident Protection Trust Fund is less than $1 million ~~$500,000~~, the agency may adopt rules to establish a rate which may not exceed $10 per bed. The rate per bed shall revert back to the minimum rate per bed when the amount on deposit in the Resident Protection Trust Fund reaches $1 million ~~$500,000~~, except that any rate established by rule shall remain in effect until such time as the rate has been equally required for each license issued under this part. Any amount in the fund in excess of $2 million ~~$800,000~~ shall revert to the Health Care Trust Fund and may not be expended without prior approval of the Legislature. The agency may prorate the annual license fee for those licenses which it issues under this part for less than 1 year. Funds generated by license fees collected in accordance with this section shall be deposited in the following manner:

(a) The basic license fee collected shall be deposited in the Health Care Trust Fund, established for the sole purpose of carrying out this part. When the balance of the account established in the Health Care Trust Fund for the deposit of fees collected as authorized under this section exceeds one-third of the annual cost of regulation under this part, the excess shall be used to reduce the licensure fees in the next year.

(b) The resident protection fee collected shall be deposited in the Resident Protection Trust Fund for the sole purpose of paying, in accordance with the provisions of s. 400.063, for the appropriate alternate placement, care, and treatment of a resident removed from a nursing home facility on a temporary, emergency basis or for the maintenance and care of residents in a nursing home facility pending removal and alternate placement.

Section 15. Subsections (2) and (5) of section 400.071, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsections (11) and (12) are added to that section, to read:

Any request by a licensee that a nursing home become inactive must be submitted to the agency and approved by the agency prior to initiating any suspension of service or notifying residents. Upon agency approval, the nursing home shall notify residents of any necessary discharge or transfer as provided in s. 400.0255.*

(3) *The agency may not renew a license if the applicant has failed to pay any fines assessed by final order of the agency or final order of the Health Care Financing Administration under requirements for federal certification. (4) The licensee shall submit a signed affidavit disclosing any financial or ownership interest that a licensee has held within the last 5 years in any entity licensed by the state or any other state to provide health or residential care which entity has closed voluntarily or involuntarily; has filed for bankruptcy; has had a receiver appointed; has had a license denied, suspended, or revoked; or has had an injunction issued against it which was initiated by a regulatory agency. The affidavit must disclose the reason such entity was closed, whether voluntarily or involuntarily.

400.118 Quality assurance; early warning system; monitoring; rapid response teams.—

(2)(a) The agency shall establish within each district office one or more quality-of-care monitors, based on the number of nursing facilities in the district, to monitor all nursing facilities in the district on a regular, unannounced, aperiodic basis, including nights, evenings, weekends, and holidays. Quality-of-care monitors shall visit each nursing facility at least quarterly. Priority for additional monitoring visits shall be given to nursing facilities with a history of resident patient care deficiencies. Quality-of-care monitors shall be registered nurses who are trained and experienced in nursing facility regulation, standards of practice in long-term care, and evaluation of patient care. Individuals in these positions shall not be deployed by the agency as a part of the district survey team in the conduct of routine, scheduled surveys, but shall function solely and independently as quality-of-care monitors. Quality-of-care monitors shall assess the overall quality of life in the nursing facility and shall assess specific conditions in the facility directly related to resident patient care, including the operations of internal quality improvement and risk management programs and adverse incident reports. The quality-of-care monitor shall include in an assessment visit observation of the care and services rendered to residents and formal and informal interviews with residents, family members, facility staff, resident guests, volunteers, other regulatory staff, and representatives of a long-term care ombudsman council or Florida advocacy council.

(b) Findings of a monitoring visit, both positive and negative, shall be provided orally and in writing to the facility administrator or, in the absence of the facility administrator, to the administrator on duty or the director of nursing. The quality-of-care monitor may recommend to the facility administrator procedural and policy changes and staff training, as needed, to improve the care or quality of life of facility residents. Conditions observed by the quality-of-care monitor which threaten the health or safety of a resident shall be reported immediately to the agency area office supervisor for appropriate regulatory action and, as appropriate or as required by law, to law enforcement, adult protective services, or other responsible agencies.

(c) Any record, whether written or oral, or any written or oral communication generated pursuant to paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) shall not be subject to discovery or introduction into evidence in any civil or administrative action against a nursing facility arising out of matters which are the subject of quality-of-care monitoring, and a person who was in attendance at a monitoring visit or evaluation may not be permitted or required to testify in any such civil or administrative action as to any evidence or other matters produced or presented during the monitoring visits or evaluations. However, information, documents, or records otherwise available from original sources are not to be construed as immune from discovery or use in any such civil or administrative action merely because they were presented during monitoring visits or evaluations, and any person who participates in such activities may not be prevented from testifying as to matters within his or her knowledge, but such witness may not be asked about his or her participation in such activities. The exclusion from the discovery or introduction of evidence in any civil or administrative action provided for herein shall not apply when the quality-of-care monitor makes a report to the appropriate authorities regarding a threat to the health or safety of a resident.

Section 19. Section 400.1183, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.1183 Resident grievance procedures.—

(1) Every nursing home must have a grievance procedure available to its residents and their families. The grievance procedure must include:

(a) An explanation of how to pursue redress of a grievance.

(b) The names, job titles, and telephone numbers of the employees responsible for implementing the facility's grievance procedure. The list must include the address and the toll-free telephone numbers of the ombudsman and the agency.

(c) A simple description of the process through which a resident may, at any time, contact the toll-free telephone hotline of the ombudsman or the agency to report the unresolved grievance.

(d) A procedure for providing assistance to residents who cannot prepare a written grievance without help.

(2) Each facility shall maintain records of all grievances and shall report annually to the agency the total number of grievances handled, a categorization of the cases underlying the grievances, and the final disposition of the grievances.

(3) Each facility must respond to the grievance within a reasonable time after its submission.

(4) The agency may investigate any grievance at any time.

(5) The agency may impose an administrative fine, in accordance with s. 400.121, against a nursing home facility for noncompliance with this section.

Section 20. Section 400.121, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.121 Denial, suspension, revocation of license; moratorium on admissions; administrative fines; procedure; order to increase staffing.—

(1) The agency may deny an application, revoke, or suspend a license, or impose an administrative fine, not to exceed $500 per violation per day, against any applicant or licensee for the following violations by the applicant, licensee, or other controlling interest: ~~for~~

(a) A violation of any provision of s. 400.102(1);-

(b) A demonstrated pattern of deficient practice;

(c) Failure to pay any outstanding fines assessed by final order of the agency or final order of the Health Care Financing Administration pursuant to requirements for federal certification. The agency may renew or approve the license of an applicant following the assessment of a fine by final order if such fine has been paid into an escrow account pending an appeal of a final order;

(d) Exclusion from the Medicare or Medicaid program; or

(e) An adverse action by a regulatory agency against any other licensed facility that has a common controlling interest with the licensee or applicant against whom the action under this section is being brought.

If the adverse action involves solely the management company, the applicant or licensee shall be given 30 days to remedy before final action is taken. If the adverse action is based solely upon actions by a controlling interest, the applicant or licensee may present factors in mitigation of any proposed penalty based upon a showing that such penalty is inappropriate under the circumstances.

All hearings shall be held within the county in which the licensee or applicant operates or applies for a license to operate a facility as defined herein.

(2) ~~Except as provided in s. 400.23(8), a $500 fine shall be imposed~~ The agency, as a part of any final order issued by it under this part, may impose such fine as it deems proper, except that such fine may not exceed $500 for each violation. Each day a violation of this part occurs constitutes a separate violation and is subject to a separate fine, but in no event may any fine aggregate more than $5,000. A fine may be levied pursuant to this section in lieu of and notwithstanding the provisions of s. 400.23. Fines paid by any nursing home facility licensee under this subsection shall be deposited in the Resident Protection Trust Fund and expended as provided in s. 400.063.

(3) The agency shall revoke or deny a nursing home license if the licensee or controlling interest operates a facility in this state that:

(a) Has had two moratoria imposed by final order for substandard quality of care, as defined by Title 42, C.F.R. part 483, within any 30-month period;

(b) Is conditionally licensed for 180 or more continuous days;

(c) Is cited for two class I deficiencies arising from unrelated circumstances during the same survey or investigation; or

(d) Is cited for two class I deficiencies arising from separate surveys or investigations within a 30-month period.

The licensee may present factors in mitigation of revocation, and the agency may make a determination not to revoke a license based upon a showing that revocation is inappropriate under the circumstances.

(4)(3) The agency may issue an order immediately suspending or revoking a license when it determines that any condition in the facility presents a danger to the health, safety, or welfare of the residents in the facility.

(5)(4)(a) The agency may impose an immediate moratorium on admissions to any facility when the agency determines that any condition in the facility presents a threat to the health, safety, or welfare of the residents in the facility.

(b) Where the agency has placed a moratorium on admissions on any facility two times within a 7-year period, the agency may suspend the license of the nursing home and the facility's management company, if any. ~~The licensee shall be afforded an administrative hearing within 90 days after the suspension to determine whether the license should be revoked.~~ During the suspension, the agency shall take the facility into receivership and shall operate the facility.

(6)(5) An action taken by the agency to deny, suspend, or revoke a facility's license under this part, ~~in which the agency claims that the facility owner or an employee of the facility has threatened the health, safety, or welfare of a resident of the facility,~~ shall be heard by the Division of Administrative Hearings of the Department of Management Services within 60 ~~120~~ days after the assignment of an administrative law judge receipt of the facility's request for a hearing, unless the time limitation is waived by both parties. The administrative law judge must render a decision within 30 days after receipt of a proposed recommended order. ~~This subsection does not modify the requirement that an administrative hearing be held within 90 days after a license is suspended under paragraph (4)(b).~~

(7)(6) The agency is authorized to require a facility to increase staffing beyond the minimum required by law, if the agency has taken administrative action against the facility for care-related deficiencies directly attributable to insufficient staff. Under such circumstances, the facility may request an expedited interim rate increase. The agency shall process the request within 10 days after receipt of all required documentation from the facility. A facility that fails to maintain the required increased staffing is subject to a fine of $500 per day for each day the staffing is below the level required by the agency.

(8) An administrative proceeding challenging an action taken by the agency pursuant to this section shall be reviewed on the basis of the facts and conditions that resulted in such agency action.

(9) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, agency action in an administrative proceeding under this section may be overcome by the licensee upon a showing by a preponderance of the evidence to the contrary.

(10) In addition to any other sanction imposed under this part, in any final order that imposes sanctions, the agency may assess costs related to the investigation and prosecution of the case. Payment of agency costs shall be deposited into the Health Care Trust Fund.

Section 21. Subsection (12) is added to section 400.126, Florida Statutes, to read:

400.126 Receivership proceedings.—

(12) Concurrently with the appointment of a receiver, the agency and the Department of Elderly Affairs shall coordinate an assessment of each resident in the facility by the Comprehensive Assessment and Review for Long-Term-Care (CARES) Program for the purpose of evaluating each resident's need for the level of care provided in a nursing facility and the potential for providing such care in alternative settings. If the CARES assessment determines that a resident could be cared for in a less restrictive setting or does not meet the criteria for skilled or intermediate care in a nursing home, the department and agency shall refer the resident for such care, as is appropriate for the resident. Residents referred pursuant to this subsection shall be given primary consideration for receiving services under the Community Care for the Elderly program in the same manner as persons classified to receive such services pursuant to s. 430.205.

Section 22. Subsections (14), (15), (16), (17), (18), (19), and (20) are added to section 400.141, Florida Statutes, to read:

400.141 Administration and management of nursing home facilities.—Every licensed facility shall comply with all applicable standards and rules of the agency and shall:

(14) Submit to the agency the information specified in s. 400.071(2)(e) for a management company within 30 days after the effective date of the management agreement.

(15) Submit semiannually to the agency, or more frequently if requested by the agency, information regarding facility staff-to-resident ratios, staff turnover, and staff stability, including information regarding certified nursing assistants, licensed nurses, the director of nursing, and the facility administrator. For purposes of this reporting:

(a) Staff-to-resident ratios must be reported in the categories specified in s. 400.23(3)(a) and applicable rules. The ratio must be reported as an average for the most recent calendar quarter.

(b) Staff turnover must be reported for the most recent 12-month period ending on the last workday of the most recent calendar quarter prior to the date the information is submitted. The turnover rate must be computed quarterly, with the annual rate being the cumulative sum of the quarterly rates. The turnover rate is the total number of terminations or separations experienced during the quarter, excluding any employee terminated during a probationary period of 3 months or less, divided by the total number of staff employed at the end of the period for which the rate is computed, and expressed as a percentage.

(c) The formula for determining staff stability is the total number of employees that have been employed for more than 12 months, divided by the total number of employees employed at the end of the most recent calendar quarter, and expressed as a percentage.

(d) A nursing facility that has failed to comply with state minimum-staffing requirements for 2 consecutive days is prohibited from accepting new admissions until the facility has achieved the minimum-staffing requirements for a period of 6 consecutive days. For the purposes of this paragraph, any person who was a resident of the facility and was absent from the facility for the purpose of receiving medical care at a separate location or was on a leave of absence is not considered a new admission. Failure to impose such an admissions moratorium constitutes a class II deficiency.

(16) Report monthly the number of vacant beds in the facility which are available for resident occupancy on the day the information is reported.

(17) Notify a licensed physician when a resident exhibits signs of dementia or cognitive impairment or has a change of condition in order to rule out the presence of an underlying physiological condition that may be contributing to such dementia or impairment. The notification must occur within 30 days after the acknowledgement of such signs by facility staff. If an underlying condition is determined to exist, the facility shall arrange, with the appropriate health care provider, the necessary care and services to treat the condition.

(18) If the facility implements a dining and hospitality attendant program, ensure that the program is developed and implemented under the supervision of the facility director of nursing. A licensed nurse, licensed speech or occupational therapist, or a registered dietitian must conduct training of dining and hospitality attendants. A person employed by a facility as a dining and hospitality attendant must perform tasks under the direct supervision of a licensed nurse.

(19) Report to the agency any filing for bankruptcy protection by the facility or its parent corporation, divestiture or spin-off of its assets, or corporate reorganization within 30 days after the completion of such activity.

(20) Maintain liability insurance coverage that is in force at all times.

(21) Maintain in the medical record for each resident a daily chart of certified nursing assistant services provided to the resident. The certified nursing assistant who is caring for the resident must complete this record by the end of his or her shift. This record must indicate assistance with activities of daily living, assistance with eating, and assistance with drinking, and must record each offering of nutrition and hydration for those residents whose plan of care or assessment indicates a risk for malnutrition or dehydration.

Facilities that have been awarded a Gold Seal under the program established in s. 400.235 may develop a plan to provide certified nursing assistant training as prescribed by federal regulations and state rules and may apply to the agency for approval of its program.

400.1413 Volunteers in nursing homes.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature to encourage the involvement of volunteers in nursing homes in this state. The Legislature also acknowledges that the licensee is responsible for all the activities that take place in the nursing home and recognizes the licensee's need to be aware of and coordinate volunteer activities in the nursing home. Therefore, a nursing home may require that volunteers:

(a) Sign in and out with staff of the nursing home upon entering or leaving the facility.

(b) Wear an identification badge while in the building.

(c) Participate in a facility orientation and training program.

(2) This section does not affect the activities of state or local long-term-care ombudsman councils authorized under part I.

Section 24. Section 400.147, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.147 Internal risk management and quality assurance program.—

(1) Every facility shall, as part of its administrative functions, establish an internal risk management and quality assurance program, the purpose of which is to assess resident care practices; review facility quality indicators, facility incident reports, deficiencies cited by the agency, and resident grievances; and develop plans of action to correct and respond quickly to identified quality deficiencies. The program must include:

(a) A designated person to serve as risk manager, who is responsible for implementation and oversight of the facility's risk management and quality assurance program as required by this section.

(b) A risk management and quality assurance committee consisting of the facility risk manager, the administrator, the director of nursing, the medical director, and at least three other members of the facility staff. The risk management and quality assurance committee shall meet at least monthly.

(c) Policies and procedures to implement the internal risk management and quality assurance program, which must include the investigation and analysis of the frequency and causes of general categories and specific types of adverse incidents to residents.

(d) The development and implementation of an incident reporting system based upon the affirmative duty of all health care providers and all agents and employees of the licensed health care facility to report adverse incidents to the risk manager, or to his or her designee, within 3 business days after their occurrence.

(e) The development of appropriate measures to minimize the risk of adverse incidents to residents, including, but not limited to, education and training in risk management and risk prevention for all nonphysician personnel, as follows:

1. Such education and training of all nonphysician personnel must be part of their initial orientation; and

2. At least 1 hour of such education and training must be provided annually for all nonphysician personnel of the licensed facility working in clinical areas and providing resident care.

(f) The analysis of resident grievances that relate to resident care and the quality of clinical services.

(2) The internal risk management and quality assurance program is the responsibility of the facility administrator.

(3) In addition to the programs mandated by this section, other innovative approaches intended to reduce the frequency and severity of adverse incidents to residents and violations of residents' rights shall be encouraged and their implementation and operation facilitated.

(4) Each internal risk management and quality assurance program shall include the use of incident reports to be filed with the risk manager and the facility administrator. The risk manager shall have free access to all resident records of the licensed facility. The incident reports are part of the work papers of the attorney defending the licensed facility in litigation relating to the licensed facility and are subject to discovery, but are not admissible as evidence in court. A person filing an incident report is not subject to civil suit by virtue of such incident report. As a part of each internal risk management and quality assurance program, the incident reports shall be used to develop categories of incidents which identify problem areas. Once identified, procedures shall be adjusted to correct the problem areas.

(5) For purposes of reporting to the agency under this section, the term "adverse incident" means:

(a) An event over which facility personnel could exercise control and which is associated in whole or in part with the facility's intervention, rather than the condition for which such intervention occurred, and which results in one of the following:

1. Death;

2. Brain or spinal damage;

3. Permanent disfigurement;
4. Fracture or dislocation of bones or joints;
5. A limitation of neurological, physical, or sensory function;
6. Any condition that required medical attention to which the resident has not given his or her informed consent, including failure to honor advanced directives; or
7. Any condition that required the transfer of the resident, within or outside the facility, to a unit providing a more acute level of care due to the adverse incident, rather than the resident's condition prior to the adverse incident;

- (b) Abuse, neglect, or exploitation as defined in s. 415.102;
- (c) Abuse, neglect and harm as defined in s. 39.01;
- (d) Resident elopement; or
- (e) An event that is reported to law enforcement.
- (6) The internal risk manager of each licensed facility shall:

(a) Investigate every allegation of sexual misconduct which is made against a member of the facility's personnel who has direct patient contact when the allegation is that the sexual misconduct occurred at the facility or at the grounds of the facility;

(b) Report every allegation of sexual misconduct to the administrator of the licensed facility; and

(c) Notify the resident representative or guardian of the victim that an allegation of sexual misconduct has been made and that an investigation is being conducted.

(7) The facility shall initiate an investigation and shall notify the agency within 1 business day after the risk manager or his or her designee has received a report pursuant to paragraph (1)(d). The notification must be made in writing and be provided electronically, by facsimile device or overnight mail delivery. The notification must include information regarding the identity of the affected resident, the type of adverse incident, the initiation of an investigation by the facility, and whether the events causing or resulting in the adverse incident represent a potential risk to any other resident. The notification is confidential as provided by law and is not discoverable or admissible in any civil or administrative action, except in disciplinary proceedings by the agency or the appropriate regulatory board. The agency may investigate, as it deems appropriate, any such incident and prescribe measures that must or may be taken in response to the incident. The agency shall review each incident and determine whether it potentially involved conduct by the health care professional who is subject to disciplinary action, in which case the provisions of s. 456.073 shall apply.

(8)(a) Each facility shall complete the investigation and submit an adverse incident report to the agency for each adverse incident within 15 calendar days after its occurrence. If after a complete investigation, the risk manager determines that the incident was not an adverse incident as defined in subsection (5), the facility shall include this information in the report. The agency shall develop a form for reporting this information.

(b) The information reported to the agency pursuant to paragraph (a) which relates to persons licensed under chapter 458, chapter 459, chapter 461, or chapter 466 shall be reviewed by the agency. The agency shall determine whether any of the incidents potentially involved conduct by a health care professional who is subject to disciplinary action, in which case the provisions of s. 456.073 shall apply.

(c) The report submitted to the agency must also contain the name of the risk manager of the facility.

(d) The adverse incident report is confidential as provided by law and is not discoverable or admissible in any civil or administrative action, except in disciplinary proceedings by the agency or the appropriate regulatory board.

(9) Each facility subject to this section shall report monthly any liability claim filed against it. The report must include the name of the resident, the date or dates of the incident leading to the claim, if applicable, and the type of injury or violation of rights alleged to have occurred. This report is confidential as provided by law and is not discoverable or admissible in any civil or administrative action, except in such actions brought by the agency to enforce the provisions of this part.

(10) The agency shall review, as part of its licensure inspection process, the internal risk management and quality assurance program at each facility regulated by this section to determine whether the program meets standards established in statutory laws and rules, is being conducted in a manner designed to reduce adverse incidents, and is appropriately reporting incidents as required by this section.

(11) There is no monetary liability on the part of, and a cause of action for damages may not arise against, any risk manager for the implementation and oversight of the internal risk management and quality assurance program in a facility licensed under this part as required by this section, or for any act or proceeding undertaken or performed within the scope of the functions of such internal risk management and quality assurance program if the risk manager acts without intentional fraud.

(12) If the agency, through its receipt of the adverse incident reports prescribed in subsection (7), or through any investigation, has a reasonable belief that conduct by a staff member or employee of a facility is grounds for disciplinary action by the appropriate regulatory board, the agency shall report this fact to the regulatory board.

(13) The agency may adopt rules to administer this section.

(14) The agency shall annually submit to the Legislature a report on nursing home adverse incidents. The report must include the following information arranged by county:

(a) The total number of adverse incidents.

(b) A listing, by category, of the types of adverse incidents, the number of incidents occurring within each category, and the type of staff involved.

400.148 Medicaid "Up-or-Out" Quality of Care Contract Management Program.—

(1) The Legislature finds that the federal Medicare program has implemented successful models of managing the medical and supportive-care needs of long-term nursing home residents. These programs have maintained the highest practicable level of good health and have the potential to reduce the incidence of preventable illnesses among long-stay residents of nursing homes, thereby increasing the quality of care for residents and reducing the number of lawsuits against nursing homes. Such models are operated at no cost to the state. It is the intent of the Legislature that the Agency for Health Care Administration replicate such oversight for Medicaid recipients in poor-performing nursing homes and in assisted living facilities and nursing homes that are experiencing disproportionate numbers of lawsuits, with the goal of improving the quality of care in such homes or facilitating the revocation of licensure.

(2) The Agency for Health Care Administration shall develop a pilot project in selected counties to demonstrate the effect of assigning skilled and trained medical personnel to ensure the quality of care, safety, and continuity of care for long-stay Medicaid recipients in the highest-scoring nursing homes in the Florida Nursing Home Guide on the date the project is implemented. The agency is authorized to begin the pilot project, subject to appropriation, in the highest-scoring homes in counties where such services are immediately available. On January 1 of each year of the pilot project, the agency shall submit to the appropriations and substantive committees of the Legislature and the Governor an assessment of the program and a proposal for expansion of the program to additional facilities. The staff of the pilot project shall assist regulatory staff in imposing regulatory sanctions, including revocation of licensure, pursuant to s. 400.121 against nursing homes that have quality-of-care violations.

(3) The pilot project must ensure:

(a) Oversight and coordination of all aspects of a resident's medical care and stay in a nursing home;

(b) Facilitation of close communication between the resident, the resident's guardian or legal representative, the resident's attending physician, the resident's family, and staff of the nursing facility;

(c) Frequent onsite visits to the resident;

(d) Early detection of medical or quality problems that have the potential to lead to adverse outcomes and unnecessary hospitalization;

(e) Close communication with regulatory staff;

(f) Immediate investigation of resident quality-of-care complaints and communication and cooperation with the appropriate entity to address those complaints, including the ombudsman, state agencies, agencies responsible for Medicaid program integrity, and local law enforcement agencies;

(g) Assistance to the resident or the resident's representative to relocate the resident if quality-of-care issues are not otherwise addressed; and

(h) Use of Medicare and other third-party funds to support activities of the program, to the extent possible.

(4) The agency shall model the pilot project activities after such Medicare-approved demonstration projects.

(5) The agency may contract to provide similar oversight services to Medicaid recipients.

(6) The agency shall, jointly with the Statewide Public Guardianship Office, develop a system in the pilot project areas to identify Medicaid recipients who are residents of a participating nursing home or assisted living facility who have diminished ability to make their own decisions and who do not have relatives or family available to act as guardians in nursing homes listed on the Nursing Home Guide Watch List. The agency and the Statewide Public Guardianship Office shall give such residents priority for publicly funded guardianship services.

Section 26. Section 400.1755, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.1755 Care for persons with Alzheimer's disease or related disorders.—

(1) As a condition of licensure, facilities licensed under this part must provide to each of their employees, upon beginning employment, basic written information about interacting with persons with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder.

(2) All employees who are expected to, or whose responsibilities require them to, have direct contact with residents with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder must, in addition to being provided the information required in subsection (1), also have an initial training of at least 1 hour completed in the first 3 months after beginning employment. This training must include, but is not limited to, an overview of dementias and must provide basic skills in communicating with persons with dementia.

(3) An individual who provides direct care shall be considered a direct caregiver and must complete the required initial training and an additional 3 hours of training within 9 months after beginning employment. This training shall include, but is not limited to, managing problem behaviors, promoting the resident's independence in activities of daily living, and skills in working with families and caregivers.

(a) The required 4 hours of training for certified nursing assistants are part of the total hours of training required annually.

(b) For a health care practitioner as defined in s. 456.001, continuing-education hours taken as required by that practitioner's licensing board shall be counted toward this total of 4 hours.

(4) For an employee who is a licensed health care practitioner as defined in s. 456.001, training that is sanctioned by that practitioner's licensing board shall be considered to be approved by the Department of Elderly Affairs.

(5) The Department of Elderly Affairs or its designee must approve the initial and continuing training provided in the facilities. The department must approve training offered in a variety of formats, including, but not limited to, internet-based training, videos, teleconferencing, and classroom instruction. The department shall keep a list of current providers who are approved to provide initial and continuing training. The department shall adopt rules to establish standards for the trainers and the training required in this section.

(6) Upon completing any training listed in this section, the employee or direct caregiver shall be issued a certificate that includes the name of the training provider, the topic covered, and the date and signature of the training provider. The certificate is evidence of completion of training in the identified topic, and the employee or direct caregiver is not required to repeat training in that topic if the employee or direct caregiver changes employment to a different facility or to an assisted living facility, home health agency, adult day care center, or adult family-care home. The direct caregiver must comply with other applicable continuing education requirements.

An employee hired on or after July 1, 2001, need not comply with the guidelines created in this section before July 1, 2002.

Section 27. Subsections (3) and (4) of section 400.19, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

400.19 Right of entry and inspection.—

(3) The agency shall every 15 months conduct at least one unannounced inspection to determine compliance by the licensee with statutes, and with rules promulgated under the provisions of those statutes, governing minimum standards of construction, quality and adequacy of care, and rights of residents. The survey shall be conducted every 6 months for the next 2-year period if the facility has been cited for a class I deficiency, has been cited for two or more class II deficiencies arising from separate surveys or investigations within a 60-day period, or has had three or more substantiated complaints within a 6-month period, each resulting in at least one class I or class II deficiency. In addition to any other fees or fines in this part, the agency shall assess a fine for each facility that is subject to the 6-month survey cycle. The fine for the 2-year period shall be $6,000, one-half to be paid at the completion of each survey. The agency may adjust this fine by the change in the Consumer Price Index, based on the 12 months immediately preceding the increase, to cover the cost of the additional surveys. The agency shall verify through subsequent inspection that any deficiency identified during the annual inspection is corrected. However, the agency may verify the correction of a class III or class IV deficiency unrelated to resident rights or resident care without reinspecting the facility if adequate written documentation has been received from the facility, which provides assurance that the deficiency has been corrected. The giving or causing to be given of advance notice of such unannounced inspections by an employee of the agency to any unauthorized person shall constitute cause for suspension of not fewer than 5 working days according to the provisions of chapter 110.

(4) The agency shall conduct unannounced onsite facility reviews following written verification of licensee noncompliance in instances in which a long-term care ombudsman council, pursuant to ss. 400.0071 and 400.0075, has received a complaint and has documented deficiencies in resident care or in the physical plant of the facility that threaten the health, safety, or security of residents, or when the agency documents through inspection that conditions in a facility present a direct or indirect threat to the health, safety, or security of residents. However, the agency shall conduct ~~four or more~~ unannounced onsite reviews every 3 months within a 12-month period of each facility ~~while the facility which~~ has a conditional ~~license licensure status~~. Deficiencies related to physical plant do not require followup reviews after the agency has determined that correction of the deficiency has been accomplished and that the correction is of the nature that continued compliance can be reasonably expected.

Section 28. Subsection (3) and paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of section 400.191, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

400.191 Availability, distribution, and posting of reports and records.—

(3) Each nursing home facility licensee shall maintain as public information, available upon request, records of all cost and inspection reports pertaining to that facility that have been filed with, or issued by, any governmental agency. The watch list must identify each facility that met the criteria for a conditional licensure status on any day within the quarter covered by the list and each facility that was operating under bankruptcy protection on any day within the quarter. The watch list must include, but is not limited to, the facility's name, address, and ownership; the county in which the facility operates; the license expiration date; the number of licensed beds; a description of the deficiency causing the facility to be placed on the list; any corrective action taken; and the cumulative number of times the facility has been on a watch list. (2) Pursuant to the intention of the Legislature, the agency, in consultation with the Department of Health and the Department of Elderly Affairs, shall adopt and enforce rules to implement this part, which shall include reasonable and fair criteria in relation to:

(a) The location and construction of the facility; including fire and life safety, plumbing, heating, cooling, lighting, ventilation, and other housing conditions which will ensure the health, safety, and comfort of residents, including an adequate call system. The agency shall establish standards for facilities and equipment to increase the extent to which new facilities and a new wing or floor added to an existing facility after July 1, 1999, are structurally capable of serving as shelters only for residents, staff, and families of residents and staff, and equipped to be self-supporting during and immediately following disasters. ~~The agency shall work with facilities licensed under this part and report to the Governor and Legislature by April 1, 1999, its recommendations for cost-effective renovation standards to be applied to existing facilities.~~ In making such rules, the agency shall be guided by criteria recommended by nationally recognized reputable professional groups and associations with knowledge of such subject matters. The agency shall update or revise such criteria as the need arises. All nursing homes must comply with those lifesafety code requirements and building code standards applicable at the time of approval of their construction plans. The agency may require alterations to a building if it determines that an existing condition constitutes a distinct hazard to life, health, or safety. The agency shall adopt fair and reasonable rules setting forth conditions under which existing facilities undergoing additions, alterations, conversions, renovations, or repairs shall be required to comply with the most recent updated or revised standards.

(b) The number and qualifications of all personnel, including management, medical, nursing, and other professional personnel, and

The agency shall adopt rules establishing minimum criteria for the plan after consultation with the Department of Community Affairs. At a minimum, the rules must provide for plan components that address emergency evacuation transportation; adequate sheltering arrangements; postdisaster activities, including emergency power, food, and water; postdisaster transportation; supplies; staffing; emergency equipment; individual identification of residents and transfer of records; and responding to family inquiries. The comprehensive emergency management plan is subject to review and approval by the local emergency management agency. (3)(a) The agency shall adopt rules providing for the minimum staffing requirements for nursing homes. These requirements shall include, for each nursing home facility, a minimum certified nursing assistant staffing of 2.3 hours of direct care per resident per day beginning January 1, 2002, increasing to 2.6 hours of direct care per resident per day beginning January 1, 2003, and increasing to 2.9 hours of direct care per resident per day beginning January 1, 2004. Beginning January 1, 2002 no facility shall staff below one certified nursing assistant per 20 residents, and a minimum licensed nursing staffing of 1.0 hour of direct resident care per resident per day but never below one licensed nurse per 40 residents, including evening and night shifts and weekends. Nursing assistants employed under s. 400.211(2) may be included in computing the staffing ratio for certified nursing assistants only if they provide nursing assistance services to residents on a full-time basis. Each nursing home must document compliance with staffing standards as required under this paragraph and post daily Agency rules shall specify requirements for documentation of compliance with staffing standards, sanctions for violation of such standards, and requirements for daily posting of the names of staff on duty for the benefit of facility residents and the public. The agency shall recognize the use of licensed nurses for compliance with minimum staffing requirements for certified nursing assistants, provided that the facility otherwise meets the minimum staffing requirements for licensed nurses and that the licensed nurses so recognized are performing the duties of a certified nursing assistant. Unless otherwise approved by the agency, licensed nurses counted towards the minimum staffing requirements for certified nursing assistants must exclusively perform the duties of a certified nursing assistant for the entire shift and shall not also be counted towards the minimum staffing requirements for licensed nurses. If the agency approved a facility's request to use a licensed nurse to perform both licensed nursing and certified nursing assistant duties, the facility must allocate the amount of staff time specifically spent on certified nursing assistant duties for the purpose of documenting compliance with minimum staffing requirements for certified and licensed nursing staff. Nonnursing staff providing eating assistance to residents under the provisions of this subsection shall not count towards compliance with minimum staffing standards.

(c) Licensed practical nurses licensed under chapter 464 who are providing nursing services in nursing home facilities under this part may supervise the activities of other licensed practical nurses, certified nursing assistants, and other unlicensed personnel providing services in such facilities in accordance with rules adopted by the Board of Nursing.

(7) The agency shall, at least every 15 months, evaluate all nursing home facilities and make a determination as to the degree of compliance by each licensee with the established rules adopted under this part as a basis for assigning a licensure status to that facility. The agency shall base its evaluation on the most recent inspection report, taking into consideration findings from other official reports, surveys, interviews, investigations, and inspections. The agency shall assign a licensure status of standard or conditional to each nursing home.

(a) A standard licensure status means that a facility has no class I or class II deficiencies, has corrected all class III deficiencies within the time established by the agency, ~~and is in substantial compliance at the time of the survey with criteria established under this part, with rules adopted by the agency, and, if applicable, with rules adopted under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987 (Pub. L. No. 100-203) (December 22, 1987), Title IV (Medicare, Medicaid, and Other Health-Related Programs), Subtitle C (Nursing Home Reform), as amended.~~

(b) A conditional licensure status means that a facility, due to the presence of one or more class I or class II deficiencies, or class III deficiencies not corrected within the time established by the agency, is not in substantial compliance at the time of the survey with criteria established under this part ~~or, with rules adopted by the agency, or, if applicable, with rules adopted under the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1987 (Pub. L. No. 100-203) (December 22, 1987), Title IV (Medicare, Medicaid, and Other Health-Related Programs), Subtitle C (Nursing Home Reform), as amended.~~ If the facility has no class I, class II, or class III deficiencies comes into substantial compliance at the time of the followup survey, a standard licensure status may be assigned.

(c) In evaluating the overall quality of care and services and determining whether the facility will receive a conditional or standard license, the agency shall consider the needs and limitations of residents in the facility and the results of interviews and surveys of a representative sampling of residents, families of residents, ombudsman council members in the planning and service area in which the facility is located, guardians of residents, and staff of the nursing home facility.

(d) The current licensure status of each facility must be indicated in bold print on the face of the license. A list of the deficiencies of the facility shall be posted in a prominent place that is in clear and unobstructed public view at or near the place where residents are being admitted to that facility. Licensees receiving a conditional licensure status for a facility shall prepare, within 10 working days after receiving notice of deficiencies, a plan for correction of all deficiencies and shall submit the plan to the agency for approval. ~~Correction of all deficiencies, within the period approved by the agency, shall result in termination of the conditional licensure status. Failure to correct the deficiencies within a reasonable period approved by the agency shall be grounds for the imposition of sanctions pursuant to this part.~~

(e) Each licensee shall post its license in a prominent place that is in clear and unobstructed public view at or near the place where residents are being admitted to the facility.

(f) ~~Not later than January 1, 1994,~~ The agency shall adopt rules that:

The fine amount shall be doubled for each deficiency if the facility was previously cited for one or more class I or class II deficiencies during the last annual inspection or any inspection or complaint investigation since the last annual inspection. A fine shall be levied notwithstanding the correction of the deficiency. A citation for a class II deficiency shall specify the time within which the deficiency is required to be corrected. If a class II deficiency is corrected within the time specified, no civil penalty shall be imposed, unless it is a repeated offense.~~

(b) An extended congregate care license shall be issued to facilities providing, directly or through contract, services beyond those authorized in paragraph (a), including acts performed pursuant to part I of chapter 464 by persons licensed thereunder, and supportive services defined by rule to persons who otherwise would be disqualified from continued residence in a facility licensed under this part.

1. In order for extended congregate care services to be provided in a facility licensed under this part, the agency must first determine that all requirements established in law and rule are met and must specifically designate, on the facility's license, that such services may be provided and whether the designation applies to all or part of a facility. Such designation may be made at the time of initial licensure or ~~biennial~~ relicensure, or upon request in writing by a licensee under this part. Notification of approval or denial of such request shall be made within 90 days after receipt of such request and all necessary documentation. Existing facilities qualifying to provide extended congregate care services must have maintained a standard license and may not have been subject to administrative sanctions during the previous 2 years, or since initial licensure if the facility has been licensed for less than 2 years, for any of the following reasons:

- a. A class I or class II violation;
- b. Three or more repeat or recurring class III violations of identical or similar resident care standards as specified in rule from which a pattern of noncompliance is found by the agency;
- c. Three or more class III violations that were not corrected in accordance with the corrective action plan approved by the agency;
- d. Violation of resident care standards resulting in a requirement to employ the services of a consultant pharmacist or consultant dietitian;

e. Denial, suspension, or revocation of a license for another facility under this part in which the applicant for an extended congregate care license has at least 25 percent ownership interest; or

f. Imposition of a moratorium on admissions or initiation of injunctive proceedings.

2. Facilities that are licensed to provide extended congregate care services shall maintain a written progress report on each person who receives such services, which report describes the type, amount, duration, scope, and outcome of services that are rendered and the general status of the resident's health. A registered nurse, or appropriate designee, representing the agency shall visit such facilities at least ~~quarterly two times a year~~ to monitor residents who are receiving extended congregate care services and to determine if the facility is in compliance with this part and with rules that relate to extended congregate care. One of these visits may be in conjunction with the regular ~~biennial~~ survey. The monitoring visits may be provided through contractual arrangements with appropriate community agencies. A registered nurse shall serve as part of the team that ~~biennially~~ inspects such facility. The agency may waive one of the required yearly monitoring visits for a facility that has been licensed for at least 24 months to provide extended congregate care services, if, during the ~~biennial~~ inspection, the registered nurse determines that extended congregate care services are being provided appropriately, and if the facility has no class I or class II violations and no uncorrected class III violations. Before such decision is made, the agency shall consult with the long-term care ombudsman council for the area in which the facility is located to determine if any complaints have been made and substantiated about the quality of services or care. The agency may not waive one of the required yearly monitoring visits if complaints have been made and substantiated.

3. Facilities that are licensed to provide extended congregate care services shall:

a. Demonstrate the capability to meet unanticipated resident service needs.

b. Offer a physical environment that promotes a homelike setting, provides for resident privacy, promotes resident independence, and allows sufficient congregate space as defined by rule.

c. Have sufficient staff available, taking into account the physical plant and firesafety features of the building, to assist with the evacuation of residents in an emergency, as necessary.

d. Adopt and follow policies and procedures that maximize resident independence, dignity, choice, and decisionmaking to permit residents to age in place to the extent possible, so that moves due to changes in functional status are minimized or avoided.

e. Allow residents or, if applicable, a resident's representative, designee, surrogate, guardian, or attorney in fact to make a variety of personal choices, participate in developing service plans, and share responsibility in decisionmaking.

f. Implement the concept of managed risk.

g. Provide, either directly or through contract, the services of a person licensed pursuant to part I of chapter 464.

h. In addition to the training mandated in s. 400.452, provide specialized training as defined by rule for facility staff.

4. Facilities licensed to provide extended congregate care services are exempt from the criteria for continued residency as set forth in rules adopted under s. 400.441. Facilities so licensed shall adopt their own requirements within guidelines for continued residency set forth by the department in rule. However, such facilities may not serve residents who require 24-hour nursing supervision. Facilities licensed to provide extended congregate care services shall provide each resident with a written copy of facility policies governing admission and retention.

5. The primary purpose of extended congregate care services is to allow residents, as they become more impaired, the option of remaining in a familiar setting from which they would otherwise be disqualified for continued residency. A facility licensed to provide extended congregate care services may also admit an individual who exceeds the admission criteria for a facility with a standard license, if the individual is determined appropriate for admission to the extended congregate care facility.

6. Before admission of an individual to a facility licensed to provide extended congregate care services, the individual must undergo a medical examination as provided in s. 400.426(4) and the facility must develop a preliminary service plan for the individual.

7. When a facility can no longer provide or arrange for services in accordance with the resident's service plan and needs and the facility's policy, the facility shall make arrangements for relocating the person in accordance with s. 400.428(1)(k).

8. Failure to provide extended congregate care services may result in denial of extended congregate care license renewal.

9. No later than January 1 of each year, the department, in consultation with the agency, shall prepare and submit to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the chairs of appropriate legislative committees, a report on the status of, and recommendations related to, extended congregate care services. The status report must include, but need not be limited to, the following information:

a. A description of the facilities licensed to provide such services, including total number of beds licensed under this part.

b. The number and characteristics of residents receiving such services.

c. The types of services rendered that could not be provided through a standard license.

d. An analysis of deficiencies cited during licensure ~~biennial~~ inspections.

e. The number of residents who required extended congregate care services at admission and the source of admission.

f. Recommendations for statutory or regulatory changes.

g. The availability of extended congregate care to state clients residing in facilities licensed under this part and in need of additional services, and recommendations for appropriations to subsidize extended congregate care services for such persons.

h. Such other information as the department considers appropriate.

(c) A limited nursing services license shall be issued to a facility that provides services beyond those authorized in paragraph (a) and as specified in this paragraph.

1. In order for limited nursing services to be provided in a facility licensed under this part, the agency must first determine that all requirements established in law and rule are met and must specifically designate, on the facility's license, that such services may be provided. Such designation may be made at the time of initial licensure or ~~biennial~~ relicensure, or upon request in writing by a licensee under this part. Notification of approval or denial of such request shall be made within 90 days after receipt of such request and all necessary documentation. Existing facilities qualifying to provide limited nursing services shall have maintained a standard license and may not have been subject to administrative sanctions that affect the health, safety, and welfare of residents for the previous 2 years or since initial licensure if the facility has been licensed for less than 2 years.

2. Facilities that are licensed to provide limited nursing services shall maintain a written progress report on each person who receives such nursing services, which report describes the type, amount, duration, scope, and outcome of services that are rendered and the general status of the resident's health. A registered nurse representing the agency shall visit such facilities at least ~~once~~ twice a year to monitor residents who are receiving limited nursing services and to determine if the facility is in compliance with applicable provisions of this part and with related rules. The monitoring visits may be provided through contractual arrangements with appropriate community agencies. A registered nurse shall also serve as part of the team that ~~biennially~~ inspects such facility.

3. A person who receives limited nursing services under this part must meet the admission criteria established by the agency for assisted living facilities. When a resident no longer meets the admission criteria for a facility licensed under this part, arrangements for relocating the person shall be made in accordance with s. 400.428(1)(k), unless the facility is licensed to provide extended congregate care services.

(4)(a) The biennial license fee required of a facility is ~~$300~~ $240 per license, with an additional fee of ~~$50~~ $30 per resident based on the total licensed resident capacity of the facility, except that no additional fee will be assessed for beds designated for recipients of optional state supplementation payments provided for in s. 409.212. The total fee may not exceed $10,000, no part of which shall be returned to the facility. The agency shall adjust the per bed license fee and the total licensure fee annually by not more than the change in the consumer price index based on the 12 months immediately preceding the increase.

(b) In addition to the total fee assessed under paragraph (a), the agency shall require facilities that are licensed to provide extended congregate care services under this part to pay an additional fee per licensed facility. The amount of the biennial fee shall be $400 per license, with an additional fee of $10 per resident based on the total licensed resident capacity of the facility. No part of ~~this fee~~ which shall be returned to the facility. The agency may adjust the per-bed license fee and the annual license fee once each year by not more than the average rate of inflation for the 12 months immediately preceding the increase.

(c) In addition to the total fee assessed under paragraph (a), the agency shall require facilities that are licensed to provide limited nursing services under this part to pay an additional fee per licensed facility. The amount of the biennial fee shall be ~~$250~~ $200 per license, with an additional fee of $10 per resident based on the total licensed resident capacity of the facility. ~~The total biennial fee may not exceed $2,000.~~ No part of ~~this fee~~ which shall be returned to the facility. The agency may adjust the per-bed license fee and the ~~$200~~ biennial license fee ~~and the maximum total license fee~~ once each year by not more than the average rate of inflation for the 12 months immediately preceding the increase.

Section 34. Paragraph (n) is added to subsection (1) of section 400.414, Florida Statutes, and subsection (8) is added to that section, to read:

400.414 Denial, revocation, or suspension of license; imposition of administrative fine; grounds.—

(1) The agency may deny, revoke, or suspend any license issued under this part, or impose an administrative fine in the manner provided in chapter 120, for any of the following actions by an assisted living facility, any person subject to level 2 background screening under s. 400.4174, or any facility employee:

(n) Any act constituting a ground upon which application for a license may be denied.

Administrative proceedings challenging agency action under this subsection shall be reviewed on the basis of the facts and conditions that resulted in the agency action.

(8) The agency may issue a temporary license pending final disposition of a proceeding involving the suspension or revocation of an assisted living facility license.

Section 35. Section 400.419, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.419 Violations; administrative fines.—

(1) Each violation of this part and adopted rules shall be classified according to the nature of the violation and the gravity of its probable effect on facility residents. The agency shall indicate the classification on the written notice of the violation as follows:

(a) Class "I" violations are those conditions or occurrences related to the operation and maintenance of a facility or to the personal care of residents which the agency determines present an imminent danger to the residents or guests of the facility or a substantial probability that death or serious physical or emotional harm would result therefrom. The condition or practice constituting a class I violation shall be abated or eliminated within 24 hours, unless a fixed period, as determined by the agency, is required for correction. A class I violation is subject to an administrative fine in an amount not less than $5,000 $1,000 and not exceeding $10,000 for each violation. A fine may be levied notwithstanding the correction of the violation.

(b) Class "II" violations are those conditions or occurrences related to the operation and maintenance of a facility or to the personal care of residents which the agency determines directly threaten the physical or emotional health, safety, or security of the facility residents, other than class I violations. A class II violation is subject to an administrative fine in an amount not less than $1,000 $500 and not exceeding $5,000 for each violation. A citation for a class II violation must shall specify the time within which the violation is required to be corrected. ~~If a class II violation is corrected within the time specified, no fine may be imposed, unless it is a repeated offense.~~

(c) Class "III" violations are those conditions or occurrences related to the operation and maintenance of a facility or to the personal care of residents which the agency determines indirectly or potentially threaten the physical or emotional health, safety, or security of facility residents, other than class I or class II violations. A class III violation is subject to an administrative fine of not less than $500 $100 and not exceeding $1,000 for each violation. A citation for a class III violation must shall specify the time within which the violation is required to be corrected. If a class III violation is corrected within the time specified, no fine may be imposed, unless it is a repeated offense.

(d) Class "IV" violations are those conditions or occurrences related to the operation and maintenance of a building or to required reports, forms, or documents that do not have the potential of negatively affecting residents. These violations are of a type that the agency determines do not threaten the health, safety, or security of residents of the facility. A facility that does not correct a class IV violation within the time specified in the agency-approved corrective action plan is subject to an administrative fine of not less than $100 $50 nor more than $200 for each violation. Any class IV violation that is corrected during the time an agency survey is being conducted will be identified as an agency finding and not as a violation.

~~(2) The agency may set and levy a fine not to exceed $1,000 for each violation which cannot be classified according to subsection (1). Such fines in the aggregate may not exceed $10,000 per survey.~~

~~(2)(3) In determining if a penalty is to be imposed and in fixing the amount of the fine, the agency shall consider the following factors:~~

(a) The gravity of the violation, including the probability that death or serious physical or emotional harm to a resident will result or has resulted, the severity of the action or potential harm, and the extent to which the provisions of the applicable laws or rules were violated.

(b) Actions taken by the owner or administrator to correct violations.

(c) Any previous violations.

(d) The financial benefit to the facility of committing or continuing the violation.

(e) The licensed capacity of the facility.

(3)(4) Each day of continuing violation after the date fixed for termination of the violation, as ordered by the agency, constitutes an additional, separate, and distinct violation.

(4)(5) Any action taken to correct a violation shall be documented in writing by the owner or administrator of the facility and verified through followup visits by agency personnel. The agency may impose a fine and, in the case of an owner-operated facility, revoke or deny a facility's license when a facility administrator fraudulently misrepresents action taken to correct a violation.

~~(5)(6) For fines that are upheld following administrative or judicial review, the violator shall pay the fine, plus interest at the rate as specified in s. 55.03, for each day beyond the date set by the agency for payment of the fine.~~

~~(6)(7) Any unlicensed facility that continues to operate after agency notification is subject to a $1,000 fine per day. Each day beyond 5 working days after agency notification constitutes a separate violation, and the facility is subject to a fine of $500 per day.~~

~~(7)(8) Any licensed facility whose owner or administrator concurrently operates an unlicensed facility shall be subject to an administrative fine of $5,000 per day. Each day that the unlicensed facility continues to operate beyond 5 working days after agency notification constitutes a separate violation, and the licensed facility shall be subject to a fine of $500 per day retroactive to the date of agency notification.~~

~~(8)(9) Any facility whose owner fails to apply for a change-of-ownership license in accordance with s. 400.412 and operates the facility under the new ownership is subject to a fine of not to exceed $5,000.~~

~~(9)(10) In addition to any administrative fines imposed, the agency may assess a survey fee, equal to the lesser of one half of the facility's biennial license and bed fee or $500, to cover the cost of conducting initial complaint investigations that result in the finding of a violation that was the subject of the complaint or monitoring visits conducted under s. 400.428(3)(c) to verify the correction of the violations.~~

~~(10)(11) The agency, as an alternative to or in conjunction with an administrative action against a facility for violations of this part and adopted rules, shall make a reasonable attempt to discuss each violation and recommended corrective action with the owner or administrator of the facility, prior to written notification. The agency, instead of fixing a period within which the facility shall enter into compliance with standards, may request a plan of corrective action from the facility which demonstrates a good faith effort to remedy each violation by a specific date, subject to the approval of the agency.~~

~~(11)(12) Administrative fines paid by any facility under this section shall be deposited into the Health Care Trust Fund and expended as provided in s. 400.418.~~

~~(12)(13) The agency shall develop and disseminate an annual list of all facilities sanctioned or fined $5,000 or more for violations of state standards, the number and class of violations involved, the penalties imposed, and the current status of cases. The list shall be disseminated, at no charge, to the Department of Elderly Affairs, the Department of Health, the Department of Children and Family Services, the area agencies on aging, the Florida Statewide Advocacy Council, and the state and local ombudsman councils. The Department of Children and Family Services shall disseminate the list to service providers under contract to the department who are responsible for referring persons to a facility for residency. The agency may charge a fee commensurate with the cost of printing and postage to other interested parties requesting a copy of this list.~~

Section 36. Section 400.423, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.423 Internal risk management and quality assurance program; adverse incidents and reporting requirements.—

(1) Every facility licensed under this part may, as part of its administrative functions, voluntarily establish a risk management and quality assurance program, the purpose of which is to assess resident care practices, facility incident reports, deficiencies cited by the agency, adverse incident reports, and resident grievances and develop plans of action to correct and respond quickly to identify quality differences.

(2) Every facility licensed under this part is required to maintain adverse incident reports. For purposes of this section, the term, "adverse incident" means:

(a) An event over which facility personnel could exercise control rather than as a result of the resident's condition and results in:

1. Death;
2. Brain or spinal damage;
3. Permanent disfigurement;
4. Fracture or dislocation of bones or joints;

5. Any condition that required medical attention to which the resident has not given his or her consent, including failure to honor advanced directives;

6. Any condition that requires the transfer of the resident from the facility to a unit providing more acute care due to the incident rather than the resident's condition before the incident.

- (b) Abuse, neglect, or exploitation as defined in s. 415.102;
- (c) Events reported to law enforcement; or
- (d) Elopement.

(3) Licensed facilities shall provide within 1 business day after the occurrence of an adverse incident, by electronic mail, facsimile, or United States mail, a preliminary report to the agency on all adverse incidents specified under this section. The report must include information regarding the identity of the affected resident, the type of adverse incident, and the status of the facility's investigation of the incident.

(4) Licensed facilities shall provide within 15 days, by electronic mail, facsimile, or United States mail, a full report to the agency on all adverse incidents specified in this section. The report must include the results of the facility's investigation into the adverse incident.

(5) Each facility shall report monthly to the agency any liability claim filed against it. The report must include the name of the resident, the dates of the incident leading to the claim, if applicable, and the type of injury or violation of rights alleged to have occurred. This report is not discoverable in any civil or administrative action, except in such actions brought by the agency to enforce the provisions of this part.

(6) The agency shall annually submit to the Legislature a report on assisted living facility adverse incident reports. The report must include the following information arranged by county:

- (a) A total number of adverse incidents;
- (b) A listing, by category, of the type of adverse incidents occurring within each category and the type of staff involved;
- (c) A listing, by category, of the types of injuries, if any, and the number of injuries occurring within each category;
- (d) Types of liability claims filed based on an adverse incident report or reportable injury; and
- (e) Disciplinary action taken against staff, categorized by the type of staff involved.

(7) The information reported to the agency pursuant to subsection (3) which relates to persons licensed under chapter 458, chapter 459, chapter 461, chapter 464, or chapter 465 shall be reviewed by the agency. The agency shall determine whether any of the incidents potentially involved conduct by a health care professional who is subject to disciplinary action, in which case the provisions of s. 456.073 apply. The agency may investigate, as it deems appropriate, any such incident and prescribe measures that must or may be taken in response to the incident. The agency shall review each incident and determine whether it potentially involved conduct by a health care professional who is subject to disciplinary action, in which case the provisions of s. 456.073 apply.

(8) If the agency, through its receipt of the adverse incident reports prescribed in this part or through any investigation, has reasonable belief that conduct by a staff member or employee of a licensed facility is grounds for disciplinary action by the appropriate board, the agency shall report this fact to such regulatory board.

(9) The adverse incident reports and preliminary adverse incident reports required under this section are confidential as provided by law and are not discoverable or admissible in any civil or administrative action, except in disciplinary proceedings by the agency or appropriate regulatory board.

(10) The Department of Elderly Affairs may adopt rules necessary to administer this section.

Section 37. Present subsections (7), (8), (9), (10), and (11) of section 400.426, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (8), (9), (10), (11), and (12), respectively, and a new subsection (7) is added to that section, to read:

400.426 Appropriateness of placements; examinations of residents.—

(7) The facility must notify a licensed physician when a resident exhibits signs of dementia or cognitive impairment or has a change of condition in order to rule out the presence of an underlying physiological condition that may be contributing to such dementia or impairment. The notification must occur within 30 days after the acknowledgement of such signs by facility staff. If an underlying condition is determined to exist, the facility shall arrange, with the appropriate health care provider, the necessary care and services to treat the condition.

Section 38. Paragraph (k) of subsection (1) of section 400.428, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.428 Resident bill of rights.—

(1) No resident of a facility shall be deprived of any civil or legal rights, benefits, or privileges guaranteed by law, the Constitution of the State of Florida, or the Constitution of the United States as a resident of a facility. Every resident of a facility shall have the right to:

(k) At least 45 ~~30~~ days' notice of relocation or termination of residency from the facility unless, for medical reasons, the resident is certified by a physician to require an emergency relocation to a facility providing a more skilled level of care or the resident engages in a pattern of conduct that is harmful or offensive to other residents. In the case of a resident who has been adjudicated mentally incapacitated, the guardian shall be given at least 45 ~~30~~ days' notice of a nonemergency relocation or residency termination. Reasons for relocation shall be set forth in writing. In order for a facility to terminate the residency of an individual without notice as provided herein, the facility shall show good cause in a court of competent jurisdiction.

400.429 Civil actions to enforce rights.—

(1) Any person or resident whose rights as specified in this part are violated shall have a cause of action ~~against any facility owner, administrator, or staff responsible for the violation.~~ The action may be brought by the resident or his or her guardian, or by a person or organization acting on behalf of a resident with the consent of the resident or his or her guardian, or by the personal representative of the estate of a deceased resident ~~regardless of the cause of death when the cause of death resulted from a violation of the decedent's rights, to enforce such rights.~~ If the action alleges a claim for the resident's rights or for negligence that caused the death of the resident, the claimant shall be required to elect either survival damages pursuant to s. 46.021 or wrongful death damages pursuant to s. 768.21. If the action alleges a claim for the resident's rights or for negligence that did not cause the death of the resident, the personal representative of the estate may recover damages for the negligence that caused injury to the resident. The action may be brought in any court of competent jurisdiction to enforce such rights and to recover actual damages, and punitive damages for violation of the rights of a resident or negligence ~~when malicious, wanton, or willful disregard of the rights of others can be shown.~~ Any resident who prevails in seeking injunctive relief or a claim for an administrative remedy is entitled to recover the costs of the action and a reasonable attorney's fee assessed against the defendant not to exceed $25,000. Fees shall be awarded solely for the injunctive or administrative relief and not for any claim or action for damages whether such claim or action is brought together with a request for an injunction or administrative relief or as a separate action, except as provided under s. 768.79 or the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure. Sections 400.429-400.4303 provide the exclusive remedy for a cause of action for recovery of damages for the personal injury or death of a resident arising out of negligence or a violation of rights specified in s. 400.428. This section does not preclude theories of recovery not arising out of negligence or s. 400.428 which are available to a resident or to the agency. The provisions of chapter 766 do not apply to any cause of action brought under ss. 400.429-400.4303. Any plaintiff who prevails in any such action may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees, costs of the action, and damages, unless the court finds that the plaintiff has acted in bad faith, with malicious purpose, and that there was a complete absence of a justiciable issue of either law or fact. A prevailing defendant may be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to s. 57.105. The remedies provided in this section are in addition to and cumulative with other legal and administrative remedies available to a resident or to the agency.

(2) In any claim brought pursuant to this part alleging a violation of resident's rights or negligence causing injury to or the death of a resident, the claimant shall have the burden of proving, by a preponderance of the evidence, that:

- (a) The defendant owed a duty to the resident;
- (b) The defendant breached the duty to the resident;
- (c) The breach of the duty is a legal cause of loss, injury, death, or damage to the resident; and
- (d) The resident sustained loss, injury, death, or damage as a result of the breach.

Nothing in this part shall be interpreted to create strict liability. A violation of the rights set forth in s. 400.428 or in any other standard or guidelines specified in this part or in any applicable administrative standard or guidelines of this state or a federal regulatory agency shall be evidence of negligence but shall not be considered negligence per se.

(3) In any claim brought pursuant to s. 400.429, a licensee, person, or entity shall have a duty to exercise reasonable care. Reasonable care is that degree of care which a reasonably careful licensee, person, or entity would use under like circumstances.

(4) In any claim for resident's rights violation or negligence by a nurse licensed under part I of chapter 464, such nurse shall have the duty to exercise care consistent with the prevailing professional standard of care for a nurse. The prevailing professional standard of care for a nurse shall be that level of care, skill, and treatment which, in light of all relevant surrounding circumstances is recognized as acceptable and appropriate by reasonably prudent similar nurses. To recover attorney's fees under this section, the following conditions precedent must be met:

(a) Within 120 days after the filing of a responsive pleading or defensive motion to a complaint brought under this section and before trial, the parties or their designated representatives shall meet in mediation to discuss the issues of liability and damages in accordance with this paragraph for the purpose of an early resolution of the matter.

1. Within 60 days after the filing of the responsive pleading or defensive motion, the parties shall:

a. Agree on a mediator. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, the defendant shall immediately notify the court, which shall appoint a mediator within 10 days after such notice.

b. Set a date for mediation.

c. Prepare an order for the court that identifies the mediator, the scheduled date of the mediation, and other terms of the mediation. Absent any disagreement between the parties, the court may issue the order for the mediation submitted by the parties without a hearing.

2. The mediation must be concluded within 120 days after the filing of a responsive pleading or defensive motion. The date may be extended only by agreement of all parties subject to mediation under this subsection.

3. The mediation shall be conducted in the following manner:

a. Each party shall ensure that all persons necessary for complete settlement authority are present at the mediation.

b. Each party shall mediate in good faith.

4. All aspects of the mediation which are not specifically established by this subsection must be conducted according to the rules of practice and procedure adopted by the Supreme Court of this state.

(b) If the parties do not settle the case pursuant to mediation, the last offer of the defendant made at mediation shall be recorded by the mediator in a written report that states the amount of the offer, the date the offer was made in writing, and the date the offer was rejected. If the matter subsequently proceeds to trial under this section and the plaintiff prevails but is awarded an amount in damages, exclusive of attorney's fees, which is equal to or less than the last offer made by the defendant at mediation, the plaintiff is not entitled to recover any attorney's fees.

(c) This subsection applies only to claims for liability and damages and does not apply to actions for injunctive relief.

(d) This subsection applies to all causes of action that accrue on or after October 1, 1999.

(5)(3) Discovery of financial information for the purpose of determining the value of punitive damages may not be had unless the plaintiff shows the court by proffer or evidence in the record that a reasonable basis exists to support a claim for punitive damages.

(6)(4) In addition to any other standards for punitive damages, any award of punitive damages must be reasonable in light of the actual harm suffered by the resident and the egregiousness of the conduct that caused the actual harm to the resident.

(7) The resident or the resident's legal representative shall serve a copy of any complaint alleging in whole or in part a violation of any rights specified in this part to the Agency for Health Care Administration at the time of filing the initial complaint with the clerk of the court for the county in which the action is pursued. The requirement of providing a copy of the complaint to the agency does not impair the resident's legal rights or ability to seek relief for his or her claim.

Section 40. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.4293, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4293 Presuit notice; investigation; notification of violation of residents' rights or alleged negligence; claims evaluation procedure; informal discovery; review.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Claim for residents' rights violation or negligence" means a negligence claim alleging injury to or the death of a resident arising out of an asserted violation of the rights of a resident under s. 400.428 or an asserted deviation from the applicable standard of care.

(b) "Insurer" means any self-insurer authorized under s. 627.357, liability insurance carrier, joint underwriting association, or uninsured prospective defendant.

(2) Prior to filing a claim for a violation of a resident's rights or a claim for negligence, a claimant alleging injury to or the death of a resident shall notify each prospective defendant by certified mail, return receipt requested, of an asserted violation of a resident's rights provided in s. 400.428 or deviation from the standard of care. Such notification shall include an identification of the rights the prospective defendant has violated and the negligence alleged to have caused the incident or incidents and a brief description of the injuries sustained by the resident which are reasonably identifiable at the time of notice. The notice shall contain a certificate of counsel that counsel's reasonable investigation gave rise to a good-faith belief that grounds exist for an action against each prospective defendant.

(3)(a) No suit may be filed for a period of 75 days after notice is mailed to any prospective defendant. During the 75-day period, the prospective defendants or their insurers shall conduct an evaluation of the claim to determine the liability of each defendant and to evaluate the damages of the claimants. Each defendant or insurer of the defendant shall have a procedure for the prompt evaluation of claims during the 75-day period. The procedure shall include one or more of the following:

1. Internal review by a duly qualified facility risk manager or claims adjuster;
2. Internal review by counsel for each prospective defendant;
3. A quality assurance committee authorized under any applicable state or federal statutes or regulations; or
4. Any other similar procedure that fairly and promptly evaluates the claims.

Each defendant or insurer of the defendant shall evaluate the claim in good faith.

(b) At or before the end of the 75 days, the defendant or insurer of the defendant shall provide the claimant with a written response:

1. Rejecting the claim; or
2. Making a settlement offer.

(c) The response shall be delivered to the claimant if not represented by counsel or to the claimant's attorney, by certified mail, return receipt requested. Failure of the prospective defendant or insurer of the defendant to reply to the notice within 75 days after receipt shall be deemed a rejection of the claim for purposes of this section.

(4) The notification of a violation of a resident's rights or alleged negligence shall be served within the applicable statute of limitations period; however, during the 75-day period, the statute of limitations is tolled as to all prospective defendants. Upon stipulation by the parties, the 75-day period may be extended and the statute of limitations is tolled during any such extension. Upon receiving written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, of termination of negotiations in an extended period, the claimant shall have 60 days or the remainder of the period of the statute of limitations, whichever is greater, within which to file suit.

(5) No statement, discussion, written document, report, or other work product generated by presuit claims evaluation procedures under this section is discoverable or admissible in any civil action for any purpose by the opposing party. All participants, including, but not limited to, physicians, investigators, witnesses, and employees or associates of the defendant, are immune from civil liability arising from participation in the presuit claims evaluation procedure. Any licensed physician or registered nurse may be retained by either party to provide an opinion regarding the reasonable basis of the claim. The presuit opinions of the expert are not discoverable or admissible in any civil action for any purpose by the opposing party.

(6) Upon receipt by a prospective defendant of a notice of claim, the parties shall make discoverable information available without formal discovery as provided in subsection (7).

(7) Informal discovery may be used by a party to obtain unsworn statements and the production of documents or things, as follows:

(a) Unsworn statements.—Any party may require other parties to appear for the taking of an unsworn statement. Such statements may be used only for the purpose of claims evaluation and are not discoverable or admissible in any civil action for any purpose by any party. A party seeking to take the unsworn statement of any party must give reasonable notice in writing to all parties. The notice must state the time and place for taking the statement and the name and address of the party to be examined. Unless otherwise impractical, the examination of any party must be done at the same time by all other parties. Any party may be represented by counsel at the taking of an unsworn statement. An unsworn statement may be recorded electronically, stenographically, or on videotape. The taking of unsworn statements is subject to the provisions of the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure and may be terminated for abuses.

(b) Documents or things.—Any party may request discovery of relevant documents or things. The documents or things must be produced, at the expense of the requesting party, within 20 days after the date of receipt of the request. A party is required to produce relevant and discoverable documents or things within that party's possession or control, if in good faith it can reasonably be done within the timeframe of the claims evaluation process.

(8) Each request for and notice concerning informal discovery pursuant to this section must be in writing, and a copy thereof must be sent to all parties. Such a request or notice must bear a certificate of service identifying the name and address of the person to whom the request or notice is served, the date of the request or notice, and the manner of service thereof.

(9) If a prospective defendant makes a written settlement offer, the claimant shall have 15 days from the date of receipt to accept the offer. An offer shall be deemed rejected unless accepted by delivery of a written notice of acceptance.

(10) To the extent not inconsistent with this part, the provisions of the Florida Mediation Code, Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, shall be applicable to such proceedings.

(11) Within 30 days after the claimant's receipt of defendant's response to the claim, the parties or their designated representatives shall meet in mediation to discuss the issues of liability and damages in accordance with the mediation rules of practice and procedures adopted by the Supreme Court. Upon stipulation of the parties, this 30-day period may be extended and the statute of limitations is tolled during the mediation and any such extension. At the conclusion of mediation the claimant shall have 60 days or the remainder of the period of the statute of limitations, whichever is greater, within which to file suit.

Section 41. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.4294, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4294 Availability of facility records for investigation of resident's rights violations and defenses; penalty.—

(1) Failure to provide complete copies of a resident's records, including, but not limited to, all medical records and the resident's chart, within the control or possession of the facility within 10 days, in accordance with the provisions of s. 400.145, shall constitute evidence of failure of that party to comply with good-faith discovery requirements and shall waive the good-faith certificate and presuit notice requirements under this part by the requesting party.

(2) No facility shall be held liable for any civil damages as a result of complying with this section.

Section 42. Effective May 15, 2001, and applying to causes of action accruing on or after that date, section 400.4295, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4295 Certain provisions not applicable to actions under this part.—An action under this part for a violation of rights or negligence recognized herein is not a claim for medical malpractice, and the provisions of s. 768.21(8) do not apply to a claim alleging death of the resident.

Section 43. Effective May 15, 2001, section 400.4296, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4296 Statute of limitations.—

(1) Any action for damages brought under this part shall be commenced within 2 years from the time the incident giving rise to the action occurred or within 2 years from the time the incident is discovered, or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence; however, in no event shall the action be commenced later than 4 years from the date of the incident or occurrence out of which the cause of action accrued.

(2) In those actions covered by this subsection in which it can be shown that fraudulent concealment or intentional misrepresentation of fact prevented the discovery of the injury, the period of limitations is extended forward 2 years from the time that the injury is discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but in no event not more than 6 years from the date the incident giving rise to the injury occurred.

(3) This section shall apply to causes of action that have accrued prior to the effective date of this section; however, any such cause of action that would not have been barred under prior law may be brought within the time allowed by prior law or within 2 years after the effective date of this section, whichever is earlier, and will be barred thereafter. In actions where it can be shown that fraudulent concealment or intentional misrepresentation of fact prevented the discovery of the injury, the period of limitations is extended forward 2 years from the time that the injury is discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but in no event more than 4 years from the effective date of this section.

400.4297 Punitive damages; pleading; burden of proof.—

(1) In any action for damages brought under this part, no claim for punitive damages shall be permitted unless there is a reasonable showing by evidence in the record or proffered by the claimant which would provide a reasonable basis for recovery of such damages. The claimant may move to amend her or his complaint to assert a claim for punitive damages as allowed by the rules of civil procedure. The rules of civil procedure shall be liberally construed so as to allow the claimant discovery of evidence which appears reasonably calculated to lead to admissible evidence on the issue of punitive damages. No discovery of financial worth shall proceed until after the pleading concerning punitive damages is permitted.

(2) A defendant may be held liable for punitive damages only if the trier of fact, based on clear and convincing evidence, finds that the defendant was personally guilty of intentional misconduct or gross negligence. As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Intentional misconduct” means that the defendant had actual knowledge of the wrongfulness of the conduct and the high probability that injury or damage to the claimant would result and, despite that knowledge, intentionally pursued that course of conduct, resulting in injury or damage.

(b) “Gross negligence” means that the defendant’s conduct was so reckless or wanting in care that it constituted a conscious disregard or indifference to the life, safety, or rights of persons exposed to such conduct.

(3) In the case of an employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity, punitive damages may be imposed for the conduct of an employee or agent only if the conduct of the employee or agent meets the criteria specified in subsection (2) and:

(a) The employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity actively and knowingly participated in such conduct;

(b) The officers, directors, or managers of the employer, principal, corporation, or other legal entity condoned, ratified, or consented to such conduct; or

(4) The plaintiff must establish at trial, by clear and convincing evidence, its entitlement to an award of punitive damages. The “greater weight of the evidence” burden of proof applies to a determination of the amount of damages.

(5) This section is remedial in nature and shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 45. Section 400.4298, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

400.4298 Punitive damages; limitation.—

(1)(a) Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c), an award of punitive damages may not exceed the greater of:

1. Three times the amount of compensatory damages awarded to each claimant entitled thereto, consistent with the remaining provisions of this section; or

2. The sum of $1 million.

(b) Where the fact finder determines that the wrongful conduct proven under this section was motivated primarily by unreasonable financial gain and determines that the unreasonably dangerous nature of the conduct, together with the high likelihood of injury resulting from the conduct, was actually known by the managing agent, director, officer, or other person responsible for making policy decisions on behalf of the defendant, it may award an amount of punitive damages not to exceed the greater of:

1. Four times the amount of compensatory damages awarded to each claimant entitled thereto, consistent with the remaining provisions of this section; or

2. The sum of $4 million.

(c) Where the fact finder determines that at the time of injury the defendant had a specific intent to harm the claimant and determines that the defendant’s conduct did in fact harm the claimant, there shall be no cap on punitive damages.

(d) This subsection is not intended to prohibit an appropriate court from exercising its jurisdiction under s. 768.74 in determining the reasonableness of an award of punitive damages that is less than three times the amount of compensatory damages.

(e) In any case in which the findings of fact support an award of punitive damages pursuant to paragraph (b) or paragraph (c), the clerk of the court shall refer the case to the appropriate law enforcement agencies, to the state attorney in the circuit where the long-term care facility that is the subject of the underlying civil cause of action is located, and, for multijurisdictional facility owners, to the Office of the Statewide Prosecutor; and such agencies, state attorney, or Office of the Statewide Prosecutor shall initiate a criminal investigation into the conduct giving rise to the award of punitive damages. All findings by the trier of fact which support an award of punitive damages under this paragraph shall be admissible as evidence in any subsequent civil or criminal proceeding relating to the acts giving rise to the award of punitive damages under this paragraph.

(2) The claimant’s attorney’s fees, if payable from the judgment, are, to the extent that the fees are based on the punitive damages, calculated based on the final judgment for punitive damages. This subsection does not limit the payment of attorney’s fees based upon an award of damages other than punitive damages.

(3) The jury may neither be instructed nor informed as to the provisions of this section.

(4) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the amount of punitive damages awarded pursuant to this section shall be equally divided between the claimant and the Quality of Long-Term Care Facility Improvement Trust Fund, in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) The clerk of the court shall transmit a copy of the jury verdict to the State Treasurer by certified mail. In the final judgment the court shall order the percentages of the award, payable as provided herein.

(b) A settlement agreement entered into between the original parties to the action after a verdict has been returned must provide a proportionate share payable to the Quality of Long-Term Care Facility

Improvement Trust Fund specified herein. For purposes of this paragraph, a proportionate share is a 50-percent share of that percentage of the settlement amount which the punitive damages portion of the verdict bore to the total of the compensatory and punitive damages in the verdict.

(c) The Department of Banking and Finance shall collect or cause to be collected all payments due the state under this section. Such payments are made to the Comptroller and deposited in the appropriate fund specified in this subsection.

(d) If the full amount of punitive damages awarded cannot be collected, the claimant and the other recipient designated pursuant to this subsection are each entitled to a proportionate share of the punitive damages collected.

(5) This section is remedial in nature and shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 46. Section 400.434, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

400.434 Right of entry and inspection.—Any duly designated officer or employee of the department, the Department of Children and Family Services, the agency, the state or local fire marshal, or a member of the state or local long-term care ombudsman council shall have the right to enter unannounced upon and into the premises of any facility licensed pursuant to this part in order to determine the state of compliance with the provisions of this part and of rules or standards in force pursuant thereto. The right of entry and inspection shall also extend to any premises which the agency has reason to believe is being operated or maintained as a facility without a license; but no such entry or inspection of any premises may be made without the permission of the owner or person in charge thereof, unless a warrant is first obtained from the circuit court authorizing such entry. The warrant requirement shall extend only to a facility which the agency has reason to believe is being operated or maintained as a facility without a license. Any application for a license or renewal thereof made pursuant to this part shall constitute permission for, and complete acquiescence in, any entry or inspection of the premises for which the license is sought, in order to facilitate verification of the information submitted on or in connection with the application; to discover, investigate, and determine the existence of abuse or neglect; or to elicit, receive, respond to, and resolve complaints. Any current valid license shall constitute unconditional permission for, and complete acquiescence in, any entry or inspection of the premises by authorized personnel. The agency shall retain the right of entry and inspection of facilities that have had a license revoked or suspended within the previous 24 months, to ensure that the facility is not operating unlawfully. However, before entering the facility, a statement of probable cause must be filed with the director of the agency, who must approve or disapprove the action within 48 hours. Probable cause shall include, but is not limited to, evidence that the facility holds itself out to the public as a provider of personal care services or the receipt of a complaint by the long-term care ombudsman council about the facility. Data collected by the state or local long-term care ombudsman councils or the state or local advocacy councils may be used by the agency in investigations involving violations of regulatory standards.

Section 47. Paragraph (h) of subsection (1) and subsection (4) of section 400.441, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

400.441 Rules establishing standards.—

(1) It is the intent of the Legislature that rules published and enforced pursuant to this section shall include criteria by which a reasonable and consistent quality of resident care and quality of life may be ensured and the results of such resident care may be demonstrated. Such rules shall also ensure a safe and sanitary environment that is residential and noninstitutional in design or nature. It is further intended that reasonable efforts be made to accommodate the needs and preferences of residents to enhance the quality of life in a facility. In order to provide safe and sanitary facilities and the highest quality of resident care accommodating the needs and preferences of residents, the department, in consultation with the agency, the Department of Children and Family Services, and the Department of Health, shall adopt rules, policies, and procedures to administer this part, which must include reasonable and fair minimum standards in relation to:

(h) The care and maintenance of residents, which must include, but is not limited to:

1. The supervision of residents;
2. The provision of personal services;
3. The provision of, or arrangement for, social and leisure activities;
4. The arrangement for appointments and transportation to appropriate medical, dental, nursing, or mental health services, as needed by residents;
5. The management of medication;
6. The nutritional needs of residents; ~~and~~
7. Resident records; ~~and~~
8. Internal risk management and quality assurance.

(4) The agency may use an abbreviated biennial standard licensure inspection that which consists of a review of key quality-of-care standards in lieu of a full inspection in facilities which have a good record of past performance. However, a full inspection shall be conducted in facilities which have had a history of class I or class II violations, uncorrected class III violations, confirmed ombudsman council complaints, or confirmed licensure complaints, within the previous licensure period immediately preceding the inspection or when a potentially serious problem is identified during the abbreviated inspection. The agency, in consultation with the department, shall develop the key quality-of-care standards with input from the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman Council and representatives of provider groups for incorporation into its rules. ~~Beginning on or before March 1, 1991,~~ The department, in consultation with the agency, shall report annually to the Legislature concerning its implementation of this subsection. The report shall include, at a minimum, the key quality-of-care standards which have been developed; the number of facilities identified as being eligible for the abbreviated inspection; the number of facilities which have received the abbreviated inspection and, of those, the number that were converted to full inspection; the number and type of subsequent complaints received by the agency or department on facilities which have had abbreviated inspections; any recommendations for modification to this subsection; any plans by the agency to modify its implementation of this subsection; and any other information which the department believes should be reported.

400.449 Resident records; penalties for alteration.—

(1) Any person who fraudulently alters, defaces, or falsifies any medical or other record of an assisted living facility, or causes or procures any such offense to be committed, commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) A conviction under subsection (1) is also grounds for restriction, suspension, or termination of license privileges.

Section 49. Paragraph (b) of subsection (2) of section 409.908, Florida Statutes, is amended and subsection (22) is added to that section, to read:

409.908 Reimbursement of Medicaid providers.—Subject to specific appropriations, the agency shall reimburse Medicaid providers, in accordance with state and federal law, according to methodologies set forth in the rules of the agency and in policy manuals and handbooks incorporated by reference therein. These methodologies may include fee schedules, reimbursement methods based on cost reporting, negotiated fees, competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, and other mechanisms the agency considers efficient and effective for purchasing services or goods on behalf of recipients. Payment for Medicaid compensable services made on behalf of Medicaid eligible persons is subject to the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act or chapter 216. Further, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent or limit the agency from adjusting fees, reimbursement rates, lengths of stay, number of visits, or number of services, or making any other adjustments necessary to comply with the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act, provided the adjustment is consistent with legislative intent.

(b) Subject to any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act, the agency shall establish and implement a Florida Title XIX Long-Term Care Reimbursement Plan (Medicaid) for nursing home care in order to provide care and services in conformance with the applicable state and federal laws, rules, regulations, and quality and safety standards and to ensure that individuals eligible for medical assistance have reasonable geographic access to such care.

1. Changes of ownership or of licensed operator do not qualify for increases in reimbursement rates associated with the change of ownership or of licensed operator. The agency shall amend the Title XIX Long Term Care Reimbursement Plan to provide that the initial nursing home reimbursement rates, for the operating, patient care, and MAR components, associated with related and unrelated party changes of ownership or licensed operator filed on or after September 1, 2001, are equivalent to the previous owner's reimbursement rate.

2. The agency shall amend the long-term care reimbursement plan and cost reporting system to create direct care and indirect care subcomponents of the patient care component of the per diem rate. These two subcomponents together shall equal the patient care component of the per diem rate. Separate cost-based ceilings shall be calculated for each patient care subcomponent. The direct care subcomponent of the per diem rate shall be limited by the cost-based class ceiling and the indirect care subcomponent shall be limited by the lower of the cost-based class ceiling, by the target rate class ceiling or by the individual provider target. The agency shall adjust the patient care component effective January 1, 2002. The cost to adjust the direct care subcomponent shall be net of the total funds previously allocated for the case mix add-on. The agency shall make the required changes to the nursing home cost reporting forms to implement this requirement effective January 1, 2002.

3. The direct care subcomponent shall include salaries and benefits of direct care staff providing nursing services including registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, and certified nursing assistants who deliver care directly to residents in the nursing home facility. This excludes nursing administration, MDS, and care plan coordinators, staff development, and staffing coordinator.

4. All other patient care costs shall be included in the indirect care cost subcomponent of the patient care per diem rate. There shall be no costs directly or indirectly allocated to the direct care subcomponent from a home office or management company.

5. On July 1 of each year, the agency shall report to the Legislature direct and indirect care costs, including average direct and indirect care costs per resident per facility and direct care and indirect care salaries and benefits per category of staff member per facility.

6. Under the plan, interim rate adjustments shall not be granted to reflect increases in the cost of general or professional liability insurance for nursing homes unless the following criteria are met: have at least a 65 percent Medicaid utilization in the most recent cost report submitted to the agency, and the increase in general or professional liability costs to the facility for the most recent policy period affects the total Medicaid per diem by at least 5 percent. This rate adjustment shall not result in the per diem exceeding the class ceiling. This provision shall apply only to fiscal year 2000-2001 and shall be implemented to the extent existing appropriations are available. ~~The agency shall report to the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate by December 31, 2000, on the cost of liability insurance for Florida nursing homes for fiscal years 1999 and 2000 and the extent to which these costs are not being compensated by the Medicaid program.~~

~~Medicaid-participating nursing homes shall be required to report to the agency information necessary to compile this report. Effective no earlier than the rate setting period beginning April 1, 1999, the agency shall establish a case mix reimbursement methodology for the rate of payment for long term care services for nursing home residents. The agency shall compute a per diem rate for Medicaid residents, adjusted for case mix, which is based on a resident classification system that accounts for the relative resource utilization by different types of residents and which is based on level of care data and other appropriate data. The case mix methodology developed by the agency shall take into account the medical, behavioral, and cognitive deficits of residents. In developing the reimbursement methodology, the agency shall evaluate and modify other aspects of the reimbursement plan as necessary to improve the overall effectiveness of the plan with respect to the costs of patient care, operating costs, and property costs. In the event adequate data are not available, the agency is authorized to adjust the patient's care component or the per diem rate to more adequately cover the cost of services provided in the patient's care component. The agency shall work with the Department of Elderly Affairs, the Florida Health Care Association, and the Florida Association of Homes for the Aging in developing the methodology.~~

It is the intent of the Legislature that the reimbursement plan achieve the goal of providing access to health care for nursing home residents who require large amounts of care while encouraging diversion services as an alternative to nursing home care for residents who can be served within the community. The agency shall base the establishment of any maximum rate of payment, whether overall or component, on the available moneys as provided for in the General Appropriations Act. The agency may base the maximum rate of payment on the results of scientifically valid analysis and conclusions derived from objective statistical data pertinent to the particular maximum rate of payment.

(22) The agency shall request and implement Medicaid waivers from the federal Health Care Financing Administration to advance and treat a portion of the Medicaid nursing home per diem as capital for creating and operating a risk-retention group for self-insurance purposes, consistent with federal and state laws and rules.

Section 50. Section 464.203, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

464.203 Certified nursing assistants; certification requirement.—

(1) The board shall issue a certificate to practice as a certified nursing assistant to any person who demonstrates a minimum competency to read and write and successfully passes the required Level I or Level II screening pursuant to s. 400.215 and meets one of the following requirements:

(a) Has successfully completed an approved training program and achieved a minimum score, established by rule of the board, on the nursing assistant competency examination, which consists of a written portion and skills-demonstration portion approved by the board and administered at a site and by personnel approved by the department.

(b) Has achieved a minimum score, established by rule of the board, on the nursing assistant competency examination, which consists of a written portion and skills-demonstration portion, approved by the board and administered at a site and by personnel approved by the department and:

1. Has a high school diploma, or its equivalent; or
2. Is at least 18 years of age.

(c) Is currently certified in another state; is listed on that state's certified nursing assistant registry; and has not been found to have committed abuse, neglect, or exploitation in that state.

(d) Has completed the curriculum developed under the Enterprise Florida Jobs and Education Partnership Grant and achieved a minimum score, established by rule of the board, on the nursing assistant competency examination, which consists of a written portion and skills-demonstration portion, approved by the board and administered at a site and by personnel approved by the department.

(2) If an applicant fails to pass the nursing assistant competency examination in three attempts, the applicant is not eligible for reexamination unless the applicant completes an approved training program.

(3) An oral examination shall be administered as a substitute for the written portion of the examination upon request. The oral examination shall be administered at a site and by personnel approved by the department.

(4) The board shall adopt rules to provide for the initial certification of certified nursing assistants.

(5) Certification as a nursing assistant, in accordance with this part, continues in effect until such time as the nursing assistant allows a period of 24 consecutive months to pass during which period the nursing assistant fails to perform any nursing-related services for monetary compensation. When a nursing assistant fails to perform any nursing-related services for monetary compensation for a period of 24 consecutive months, the nursing assistant must complete a new training and competency evaluation program or a new competency evaluation program.

(6)(5) A certified nursing assistant shall maintain a current address with the board in accordance with s. 456.035.

(7) A certified nursing assistant shall complete 18 hours of inservice training during each calendar year. The certified nursing assistant shall be responsible for maintaining documentation demonstrating compliance with these provisions. The Council on Certified Nursing Assistants, in accordance with s. 464.0285(2)(b), shall propose rules to implement this subsection.

Section 51. Subsection (2) of section 397.405, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

397.405 Exemptions from licensure.—The following are exempt from the licensing provisions of this chapter:

(2) A nursing home facility as defined in s. 400.021 s. ~~400.021(12)~~.

The exemptions from licensure in this section do not apply to any facility or entity which receives an appropriation, grant, or contract from the state to operate as a service provider as defined in this chapter or to any substance abuse program regulated pursuant to s. 397.406. No provision of this chapter shall be construed to limit the practice of a physician licensed under chapter 458 or chapter 459, a psychologist licensed under chapter 490, or a psychotherapist licensed under chapter 491, providing outpatient or inpatient substance abuse treatment to a voluntary patient, so long as the physician, psychologist, or psychotherapist does not represent to the public that he or she is a licensed service provider under this act. Failure to comply with any requirement necessary to maintain an exempt status under this section is a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

Section 52. Notwithstanding the establishment of need as provided for in chapter 408, Florida Statutes, no certificate of need for additional community nursing home beds shall be approved by the agency until July 1, 2006. The Legislature finds that the continued growth in the Medicaid budget for nursing home care has constrained the ability of the state to meet the needs of its elderly residents through the use of less restrictive and less institutional methods of long-term care. It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to limit the increase in Medicaid nursing home expenditures in order to provide funds to invest in long-term care that is community-based and provides supportive services in a manner that is both more cost-effective and more in keeping with the wishes of the elderly residents of this state. This moratorium on certificates of need shall not apply to sheltered nursing home beds in a continuing care retirement community certified by the Department of Insurance pursuant to chapter 651, Florida Statutes.

Section 53. Subsections (3) and (8) of section 400.0255, Florida Statutes, as amended by section 138 of chapter 2000-349, section 3 of chapter 2000-350, and section 58 of chapter 2000-367, Laws of Florida, are reenacted to read:

400.0255 Resident transfer or discharge; requirements and procedures; hearings.—

(3) When a discharge or transfer is initiated by the nursing home, the nursing home administrator employed by the nursing home that is discharging or transferring the resident, or an individual employed by the nursing home who is designated by the nursing home administrator to act on behalf of the administration, must sign the notice of discharge or transfer. Any notice indicating a medical reason for transfer or discharge must either be signed by the resident's attending physician or the medical director of the facility, or include an attached written order for the discharge or transfer. The notice or the order must be signed by the resident's physician, medical director, treating physician, nurse practitioner, or physician assistant.

(8) The notice required by subsection (7) must be in writing and must contain all information required by state and federal law, rules, or regulations applicable to Medicaid or Medicare cases. The agency shall develop a standard document to be used by all facilities licensed under this part for purposes of notifying residents of a discharge or transfer. Such document must include a means for a resident to request the local long-term care ombudsman council to review the notice and request information about or assistance with initiating a fair hearing with the department's Office of Appeals Hearings. In addition to any other pertinent information included, the form shall specify the reason allowed under federal or state law that the resident is being discharged or transferred, with an explanation to support this action. Further, the form shall state the effective date of the discharge or transfer and the location to which the resident is being discharged or transferred. The form shall clearly describe the resident's appeal rights and the procedures for filing an appeal, including the right to request the local ombudsman council to review the notice of discharge or transfer. So the bill passed, as amended. The action, together with the bill and amendments thereto, was immediately certified to the Senate.

Explanation of Vote

I voted in opposition of CS/CS/CS/SB 1202 because of the limits on punitive damages and the exemption from vicarious liability for nursing home facilities and assisted living facilities found in sections 8-12 and 43-44. The cap on punitive damages shields nursing homes and assisted living facilities from full accountability for their worst conduct. The exemption from vicarious liability prevents the resident and their family from holding the facilities accountable for the wrongful acts of its employees. These provisions are unfair and provide no guarantee that they could lead to availability of reasonably priced liability insurance for long-term care facilities.

There are other provisions in this bill that I support. Those provisions include an eventual increase in the minimum staffing requirements for direct care staff, the strengthening of AHCA's regulatory authority by increasing the number of nursing home inspections, an increase in the fines for violation of AHCA's requirements, and licensure requirements for the nursing homes and assisted living facilities. However the delay of the effective date of the staffing requirements weakened this bill considerably.

I sponsored Amendment #953807, which was offered but not considered. That amendment would have provided much stronger and quicker protections for nursing home patients as well as reasonable litigation reform.

Messages from the Senate

The Honorable Tom Feeney, Speaker

I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed CS/HB 367, with amendment, and requests the concurrence of the House.

Faye W. Blanton, Secretary

CS/HB 367—A bill to be entitled An act relating to judicial nominating commissions; creating s. 43.291, F.S.; specifying membership composition and requirements of judicial nominating commissions; providing limitations; providing for terms; abolishing prior offices; providing for suspension or removal; requiring racial, ethnic, gender, and geographical diversity of commission memberships; amending s. 112.3145, F.S.; specifying members of certain judicial nominating commissions as state officers; providing severability; repealing s. 43.29, F.S., relating to judicial nominating commissions; providing an effective date.

Senate Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 43.291, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

43.291 Judicial nominating commissions.—

(1) Each judicial nominating commission shall be composed of the following members:

(a) Four members of The Florida Bar, appointed by the Governor, who are engaged in the practice of law, each of whom is a resident of the territorial jurisdiction served by the commission to which the member is appointed. The Board of Governors of The Florida Bar shall submit to the Governor three recommended nominees for each position. The Governor shall select the appointee from the list of nominees recommended for that position, but the Governor may reject all of the nominees recommended for a position and request that the Board of Governors submit a new list of three different recommended nominees for that position who have not been previously recommended by the Board of Governors.

(b) Five members appointed by the Governor, each of whom is a resident of the territorial jurisdiction served by the commission to which the member is appointed, of which at least two are members of The Florida Bar engaged in the practice of law.

(2) A justice or judge may not be a member of a judicial nominating commission. A member of a judicial nominating commission may hold public office other than judicial office. A member of a judicial nominating commission is not eligible for appointment, during his or her term of office and for a period of 2 years thereafter, to any state judicial office for which that commission has the authority to make nominations. All acts of a judicial nominating commission must be made with a concurrence of a majority of its members.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, each current member of a judicial nominating commission appointed directly by the Board of Governors of The Florida Bar shall serve the remainder of his or her term, unless removed for cause. The terms of all other members of a judicial nominating commission are hereby terminated, and the Governor shall appoint new members to each judicial nominating commission in the following manner:

(a) Two appointments for terms ending July 1, 2002, one of which shall be an appointment selected from nominations submitted by the Board of Governors of The Florida Bar pursuant to paragraph (1)(a);

(b) Two appointments for terms ending July 1, 2003; and

(c) Two appointments for terms ending July 1, 2004.

Every subsequent appointment, except an appointment to fill a vacant, unexpired term, shall be for 4 years. Each expired term or vacancy shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the member whose position is being filled.

(4) In making an appointment, the Governor shall seek to ensure that, to the extent possible, the membership of the commission reflects the racial, ethnic, and gender diversity, as well as the geographic distribution, of the population within the territorial jurisdiction of the court for which nominations will be considered. The Governor shall also consider the adequacy of representation of each county within the judicial circuit.

(5) A member of a judicial nominating commission may be suspended for cause by the Governor pursuant to uniform rules of procedure established by the Executive Office of the Governor consistent with s. 7 of Art. IV of the State Constitution.

(6) A quorum of the judicial nominating commission is necessary to take any action or transact any business. For purposes of this section, a quorum consists of a majority of commission members currently appointed.

(7) The Executive Office of the Governor shall provide all administrative support for each judicial nominating commission. The Executive Office of the Governor shall adopt rules necessary to administer this section.

Section 2. Paragraph (c) of subsection (1) of section 112.3145, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

112.3145 Disclosure of financial interests and clients represented before agencies.—

(1) For purposes of this section, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

(c) “State officer” means:

1. Any elected public officer, excluding those elected to the United States Senate and House of Representatives, not covered elsewhere in this part and any person who is appointed to fill a vacancy for an unexpired term in such an elective office.

2. An appointed member of each board, commission, authority, or council having statewide jurisdiction, excluding a member of an advisory body.

3. A member of the Board of Regents, the Chancellor and Vice Chancellors of the State University System, and the president of a state university.

4. A member of the judicial nominating commission for any district court of appeal or any judicial circuit.

Section 3. Section 43.29, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to judicial nominating commissions; creating s. 43.291, F.S.; revising the membership of and the procedures governing the appointment of members to each judicial nominating commission; prohibiting justices and judges from serving; restricting the appointment of members and former members to judicial offices; providing for terms; requiring the Governor to seek to ensure racial, ethnic, and gender diversity of the membership; requiring consideration of county representation on circuit judicial nominating commissions; providing for suspension of members for cause; prescribing quorum requirements; requiring the Executive Office of the Governor to provide administrative support and to adopt rules; amending s. 112.3145, F.S.; providing that members of judicial nominating commissions are state officers for purposes of financial disclosure requirements; repealing s. 43.29, F.S., relating to judicial nominating commissions; providing an effective date.

Explanation of Vote

Even with the changes, I still fear that this legislation will blur the lines that separate the judicial branch of government with the executive branch of government. I may be proven wrong, however the risk of unintended consequences far out weigh the potential for good reforms. The current system has worked fine for both Republicans and Democrats. In the spirit of political theorist Baron de Montesquieu, who said “there is no liberty if the power of judging be not separated from the legislative and executive powers,” I cast a no vote on CS/HB 367.

So the bill passed, as amended. The action was immediately certified to the Senate and the bill was ordered enrolled after engrossment.

Explanation of Vote

I have voted for the sales tax holiday in past years. However, I voted against house bill 251 this year for several reasons. Florida has an almost billion dollar deficit in the state Medicaid budget which is used to pay for health care for low-income seniors, the disabled, low-income pregnant women, and children. The state budget has a projected increase next year of 54,000 students in Florida's public schools. At the same time, Florida is facing a slowing down of sales tax revenues and substantial decrease in intangible tax revenues. Although some Floridians enjoy the six percent discount they get on certain clothing and school supply items, the average savings for a family is $11. This is not enough to justify a potential loss of $25.7 million to the state (and a $2.8 million loss to local governments) at a time of serious budget demands.

I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed HB 21, with amendments, and requests the concurrence of the House.

HB 21—A bill to be entitled An act relating to intangible personal property taxes; amending s. 199.032, F.S.; reducing the rate of the annual tax; amending s. 199.033, F.S.; reducing the rates of the tax on securities in a Florida's Future Investment Fund, to conform; amending s. 199.185, F.S.; increasing exemptions for taxpayers who are natural persons; creating exemptions for taxpayers who are not natural persons; providing an effective date.

Senate Amendment 3 (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause

and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (6) is added to section 236.25, Florida Statutes, to read:

236.25 District school tax.—

(6) In addition to the maximum millage levied under this section and the General Appropriations Act, a school district may levy, by local referendum or in a general election, additional millage for school operational purposes up to an amount that, when combined with nonvoted millage levied under this section, does not exceed the 10-mill limit established in s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Any such levy shall be for a maximum of 4 years and shall be counted as part of the 10-mill limit established in s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Millage elections conducted under the authority granted pursuant to this section are subject to ss. 236.31 and 236.32. Funds generated by such additional millage do not become a part of the calculation of the Florida Education Finance Program total potential funds in 2001-2002 or any subsequent year and must not be incorporated in the calculation of any hold-harmless or other component of the Florida Education Finance Program formula in any year. If an increase in required local effort, when added to existing millage levied under the 10-mill limit, would result in a combined millage in excess of the 10-mill limit, any millage levied pursuant to this subsection shall be considered to be required local effort to the extent that the district millage would otherwise exceed the 10-mill limit.

Section 2. Section 236.31, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

236.31 District millage elections.—

(1) The school board, pursuant to resolution adopted at a regular meeting, shall direct the county commissioners to call an election at which the electors within the school districts may approve an ad valorem tax millage as authorized in s. 9, Art. VII of the State Constitution. Such election may be held at any time, except that not more than one such election shall be held during any 12-month period. Any millage so authorized shall be levied for a period not in excess of 2 years or until changed by another millage election, whichever is the earlier. In the event any such election is invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidated election shall be considered not to have been held.

(2) The school board, pursuant to resolution adopted at a regular meeting, shall direct the county commissioners to call an election at which the electors within the school district may approve an ad valorem tax millage as authorized under s. 236.25(6). Such election may be held at any time, except that not more than one such election shall be held during any 12-month period. Any millage so authorized shall be levied for a period not in excess of 4 years or until changed by another millage election, whichever is earlier. If any such election is invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidated election shall be considered not to have been held.

Section 3. Section 236.32, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(Substantial rewording of section. See s. 236.32, F.S., for present text.)

236.32 Procedures for holding and conducting school district millage elections.—

(1) HOLDING ELECTIONS.—All school district millage elections shall be held and conducted in the manner prescribed by law for holding general elections, except as provided in this chapter.

(2) FORM OF BALLOT.—

(a) The school board may propose a single millage or two millages, with one for operating expenses and another for a local capital improvement reserve fund. When two millage figures are proposed, each millage must be voted on separately.

(b) The school board shall provide the wording of the substance of the measure and the ballot title in the resolution calling for the election. The wording of the ballot must conform to the provisions of s. 101.161.

(3) QUALIFICATION OF ELECTORS.—All qualified electors of the school district are entitled to vote in the election to set the school tax district millage levy.

(4) RESULTS OF ELECTION.—When the school board proposes one tax levy for operating expenses and another for the local capital improvement reserve fund, the results shall be considered separately. The tax levy shall be levied only in case a majority of the electors participating in the election vote in favor of the proposed special millage.

(5) EXPENSES OF ELECTION.—The cost of the publication of the notice of the election and all expenses of the election in the school district shall be paid by the school board.

Section 4. Effective January 1, 2002, subsection (2) of section 199.185, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

199.185 Property exempted from annual and nonrecurring taxes.—

(2) Every natural person is entitled each year to an exemption of the first $250,000 ~~$20,000~~ of the value of property otherwise subject to the annual tax. A husband and wife filing jointly shall have an exemption of $500,000 ~~$40,000~~. Every taxpayer that is not a natural person is entitled each year to an exemption of the first $250,000 of the value of property otherwise subject to the tax. Agents and fiduciaries, other than guardians and custodians under a gifts-to-minors act, filing as such may not claim this exemption on behalf of their principals or beneficiaries; however, if the principal or beneficiary returns the property held by the agent or fiduciary and is a natural person, the principal or beneficiary may claim the exemption. Section 5. Subsection (9) of section 213.27, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 6. Section 213.256, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

213.256 Simplified Sales and Use Tax Administration Act.—

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Revenue.

(b) "Agreement" means the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement as amended and adopted on January 27, 2001, by the Executive Committee of the National Conference of State Legislatures.

(c) "Certified automated system" means software certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the agreement to calculate the tax imposed by each jurisdiction on a transaction, determine the amount of tax to remit to the appropriate state, and maintain a record of the transaction.

(d) "Certified service provider" means an agent certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the agreement to perform all of the seller's sales tax functions.

(e) "Person" means an individual, trust, estate, fiduciary, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, corporation, or any other legal entity.

(f) "Sales tax" means the tax levied under chapter 212.

(g) "Seller" means any person making sales, leases, or rentals of personal property or services.

(h) "State" means any state of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(i) "Use tax" means the tax levied under chapter 212.

(2)(a) The executive director of the department shall enter into the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement with one or more states to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration in order to substantially reduce the burden of tax compliance for all sellers and for all types of commerce. In furtherance of the agreement, the executive director of the department or his or her designee shall act jointly with other states that are members of the agreement to establish standards for certification of a certified service provider and certified automated system and establish performance standards for multistate sellers.

(b) The executive director of the department or his or her designee shall take other actions reasonably required to administer this section. Other actions authorized by this section include, but are not limited to, the adoption of rules and the joint procurement, with other member states, of goods and services in furtherance of the cooperative agreement.

(c) The executive director of the department or his or her designee may represent this state before the other states that are signatories to the agreement.

(3) The executive director of the department may not enter into the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement unless the agreement requires each state to abide by the following requirements:

(a) The agreement must set restrictions to limit, over time, the number of state tax rates.

(b) The agreement must establish uniform standards for:

1. The sourcing of transactions to taxing jurisdictions.
2. The administration of exempt sales.
3. Sales and use tax returns and remittances.

(c) The agreement must provide a central electronic registration system that allows a seller to register to collect and remit sales and use taxes for all signatory states.

(d) The agreement must provide that registration with the central registration system and the collection of sales and use taxes in the signatory state will not be used as a factor in determining whether the seller has nexus with a state for any tax.

(e) The agreement must provide for reduction of the burdens of complying with local sales and use taxes through:

1. Restricting variances between the state and local tax bases.

2. Requiring states to administer any sales and use taxes levied by local jurisdictions within the state so that sellers who collect and remit these taxes will not have to register or file returns with, remit funds to, or be subject to independent audits from local taxing jurisdictions.

3. Restricting the frequency of changes in the local sales and use tax rates and setting effective dates for the application of local jurisdictional boundary changes to local sales and use taxes.

4. Providing notice of changes in local sales and use tax rates and of local changes in the boundaries of local taxing jurisdictions.

(f) The agreement must outline any monetary allowances that are to be provided by the states to sellers or certified service providers. The agreement must allow for a joint study by the public and private sectors, which must be completed by July 1, 2002, of the compliance cost to sellers and certified service providers of collecting sales and use taxes for state and local governments under various levels of complexity.

(g) The agreement must require each state to certify compliance with the terms of the agreement before joining and to maintain compliance, under the laws of the member state, with all provisions of the agreement while a member.

(h) The agreement must require each state to adopt a uniform policy for certified service providers which protects the privacy of consumers and maintains the confidentiality of tax information.

(i) The agreement must provide for the appointment of an advisory council of private-sector representatives and an advisory council of nonmember state representatives to consult within the administration of the agreement.

(4) For the purposes of reviewing or amending the agreement to embody the simplification requirements as set forth in subsection (3), this state shall enter into multistate discussions. For purposes of such discussions, this state shall be represented by three delegates, one appointed by the President of the Senate, one appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the executive director of the department or his or her designee.

(5) No provision of the agreement authorized by this section in whole or in part invalidates or amends any provision of the laws of this state. Adoption of the agreement by this state does not amend or modify any law of the state. Implementation of any condition of the agreement in this state, whether adopted before, at, or after membership of this state in the agreement, must be by the action of the state.

(6) The agreement authorized by this section is an accord among individual cooperating sovereigns in furtherance of their governmental functions. The agreement provides a mechanism among the member states to establish and maintain a cooperative, simplified system for the application and administration of sales and use taxes under the duly adopted law of each member state.

(7)(a) The agreement authorized by this act binds and inures only to the benefit of this state and the other member states. No person, other than a member state, is an intended beneficiary of the agreement. Any benefit to a person other than a state is established by the laws of this state and of other member states and not by the terms of the agreement.

(b) Consistent with paragraph (a), no person has any cause of action or defense under the agreement or by virtue of this state's approval of the agreement. No person may challenge, in any action brought under any provision of law, any action or inaction by any department, agency, or other instrumentality of this state, or of any political subdivision of this state, on the ground that the action or inaction is inconsistent with the agreement.

(c) No law of this state, or the application thereof, may be declared invalid as to any person or circumstance on the ground that the provision or application is inconsistent with the agreement.

(8)(a) A certified service provider is the agent of a seller with whom the certified service provider has contracted for the collection and remittance of sales and use taxes. As the seller's agent, the certified service provider is liable for sales and use tax due each member state on all sales transactions it processes for the seller except as set out in this subsection.

(b) A seller that contracts with a certified service provider is not liable to the state for sales or use tax due on transactions processed by the certified service provider unless the seller has misrepresented the type of items it sells or has committed fraud. In the absence of probable cause to believe that the seller has committed fraud or made a material misrepresentation, the seller is not subject to audit on the transactions processed by the certified service provider. A seller is subject to audit for transactions that have not been processed by the certified service provider. The member states acting jointly may perform a system check of the seller and review the seller's procedures to determine if the certified service provider's system is functioning properly and to determine the extent to which the seller's transactions are being processed by the certified service provider.

(c) A person that provides a certified automated system is responsible for the proper functioning of that system and is liable to the state for underpayments of tax attributable to errors in the functioning of the certified automated system. A seller that uses a certified automated system remains responsible and is liable to the state for reporting and remitting tax.

(d) A seller that has a proprietary system for determining the amount of tax due on transactions and has signed an agreement establishing a performance standards for that system is liable for the failure of the system to meet the performance standard.

(9) Disclosure of information necessary under this section must be pursuant to a written agreement between the executive director of the department or his or her designee and the certified service provider. The certified service provider is bound by the same requirements of confidentiality as the department. Breach of confidentiality is a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(10) On or before January 1 annually, the department shall provide recommendations to the President of the Senate, the Senate Minority Leader, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Minority Leader of the House of Representatives for provisions to be adopted for inclusion within the system which are necessary to bring it into compliance with the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement.

Section 7. Effective July 1, 2001, notwithstanding section 10 of chapter 90-110, Laws of Florida, subsection (3) of section 215.20, Florida Statutes, shall not expire on October 1, 2001, as scheduled by that law, but subsection (3) of section 215.20, Florida Statutes, is revived and readopted.

Section 8. Effective January 1, 2002, and applying to tax years beginning on or after that date, section 220.187, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

However, such a credit may not exceed 75 percent of the tax due under this chapter for the taxable year, after the application of any other allowable credits by the taxpayer. However, at least 5 percent of the total statewide amount authorized for the tax credit shall be reserved for taxpayers who meet the definition of a small business provided in s. 288.703(1) at the time of application. The credit granted by this section shall be reduced by the difference between the amount of federal corporate income tax taking into account the credit granted by this section and the amount of federal corporate income tax without application of the credit granted by this section.

(d) The amount of an eligible contribution which may be accepted by an eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization is limited to the amount needed to provide scholarships for qualified students which the organization has identified and for which vacancies in eligible nonpublic schools have been identified.

(e) An eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization that receives an eligible contribution must spend 100 percent of the eligible contribution to provide scholarships in the same state fiscal year in which the contribution was received. No portion of eligible contributions may be used for administrative expenses. All interest accrued from contributions must be used for scholarships.

(f) An eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization that receives eligible contributions must provide to the Auditor General an annual financial and compliance audit of its accounts and records conducted by an independent certified public accountant and in accordance with rules adopted by the Auditor General.

(g) Payment of the scholarship by the eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization shall be by individual warrant or check made payable to the student's parent. If the parent chooses for his or her child to attend an eligible nonpublic school, the warrant or check must be mailed by the eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization to the nonpublic school of the parent's choice, and the parent shall restrictively endorse the warrant or check to the nonpublic school. An eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organization shall ensure that, upon receipt of a scholarship warrant or check, the parent to whom the warrant or check is made restrictively endorses the warrant or check to the nonpublic school of the parent's choice for deposit into the account of the nonpublic school.

(5) ELIGIBLE NONPUBLIC SCHOOL OBLIGATIONS.—An eligible nonpublic school must:

In lieu of such a statement, a surety bond or letter of credit for the amount equal to the scholarship funds for any quarter may be filed with the department.

(b) Comply with the antidiscrimination provisions of 42 U.S.C. s. 2000d.

(c) Meet state and local health and safety laws and codes.

(d) Comply with all state laws relating to general regulation of nonpublic schools.

(6) ADMINISTRATION; RULES.—

(a) If the credit granted pursuant to this section is not fully used in any one year, the unused amount may not be carried forward. A taxpayer may not convey, assign, or transfer the credit authorized by this section

(b) An application for a tax credit pursuant to this section shall be submitted to the department on forms established by rule of the department.

Votes after roll call:

Yeas—Baker, Bean

So the bill passed, as amended. The action was immediately certified to the Senate and the bill was ordered enrolled after engrossment.

Explanations of Vote

House Bill 21 contains at least two provisions that I oppose. The tax relief to certain payers of the intangible tax, at this time, is fiscally irresponsible. Florida has an almost billion dollar deficit in the state Medicaid budget which is used to pay for health care for low-income seniors, the disabled, low-income pregnant women, and children. The state budget has a projected increase next year of 50,400 students in Florida's public schools. At the same time, Florida is facing a slowing down of sales tax revenues. The tax relief of $80 to $420 for less than 4 percent of Floridians does not justify a potential loss of $135 million of the state at a time it is facing serious budget demands. This bill also contains the corporate state tax break for donations to private schools. I vehemently oppose and strongly protest the diversion of $50 million in tax dollars from Florida's general revenue to private schools.

*Rep. Lois J. Frankel

Today, I cast my vote against House Bill 21. Unfortunately, I cannot support a bill that addresses two separate and very different issues. We should direct more funding to public education to recruit, retain and reward caring and qualified teachers. My desire is to reduce the tax paid on intangibles by our true seniors and savers. I do not believe this bill truly targets these individuals. In addition, this bill was amended to include private school vouchers. I cannot support this legislation. I do not believe that vouchers address the real problems in our public schools. Moreover, this voucher does not terminate eligibility for private schools who discriminate against students with disabilities. This legislation also does not provide any accountability. We can and should fix our public school problems, but I believe improvements are made with class and school size reduction, improving teacher salaries, and parental and community involvement in public schools. Accordingly, as much as I would like to support true tax relief, I cannot vote for this voucher legislation.

*Rep. Charlie Justice

Today, I cast my vote against House Bill 21. Unfortunately, once again, I can not support a bill that addresses two separate and very different issues. We should to direct more funding to public education, enhance our prescription drug program and hire new state troopers. I also believe we should raise the exemptions on the intangibles tax to provide relief for our seniors and savers. However, when this bill was amended to include private school vouchers, I was forced to vote no. I do not believe that vouchers do anything to address the real problems in our public schools. Moreover, this voucher allows for private schools to discriminate against students with disabilities and does not provide any accountability. We can and should fix our public school problems, but I believe improvements are made with class and school size reduction, improving teacher salaries, developing reading initiatives, math initiatives, civics initiatives, and parental and community involvement in public schools. Accordingly, as much as I would like to support some tax relief, I can not vote for vouchers.

*Rep. Doug Wiles

195.096 Review of assessment rolls.—

(2) The department shall conduct, no less frequently than once every 2 years, an in-depth review of the assessment rolls of each county. The department need not individually study every use-class of property set forth in s. 195.073, but shall at a minimum study the level of assessment in relation to just value of each classification specified in subsection (3). Such in-depth review may include proceedings of the value adjustment board and the audit or review of procedures used by the counties to appraise property.

(c) In conducting assessment ratio studies, the department must use a representative or statistically reliable sample of properties in tests of each classification, stratum, or roll made the subject of a ratio study published by it. The department shall document and retain records of the measures of representativeness of the properties studied in compliance with this section. Such documentation must include a record of findings used as the basis for the approval or disapproval of the tax roll in each county pursuant to s. 193.1142. For purposes of this section, the department shall rely primarily on an assessment-to-sales-ratio study in conducting assessment ratio studies in those classifications of property specified in subsection (3) for which there are adequate market sales. The department shall compute the median and the value-

EXPLANATION

*COLUMN 1—"YOUR PROPERTY TAXES LAST YEAR"

This column shows the taxes that applied last year to your property. These amounts were based on budgets adopted last year and your property's previous taxable value.

*COLUMN 2—"YOUR TAXES IF PROPOSED BUDGET CHANGE IS MADE"

This column shows what your taxes will be this year under the BUDGET ACTUALLY PROPOSED by each local taxing authority. The proposal is NOT final and may be amended at the public hearings shown on the front side of this notice.

*COLUMN 3—"YOUR TAXES IF NO BUDGET CHANGE IS MADE"

This column shows what your taxes will be this year IF EACH TAXING AUTHORITY DOES NOT INCREASE ITS PROPERTY TAX LEVY. These amounts are based on last year's budgets and your current assessment. The difference between columns 2 and 3 is the tax change proposed by each local taxing authority and is NOT the result of higher assessments.

ASSESSED VALUE means:

For homestead property: value as limited by the State Constitution;

For agricultural and similarly assessed property: classified use value;

For all other property: market value.

*Note: Amounts shown on this form do NOT reflect early payment discounts you may have received or may be eligible to receive. (Discounts are a maximum of 4 percent of the amounts shown on this form.)

(10) The front side of the form required pursuant to this section shall approximate in all essential respects the facsimile set forth in this subsection as it appears in s. 26, chapter 80-274, Laws of Florida, except for amendments subsequent to 1980.

~~(11) If authorized by resolution of the governing body of the county prior to July 1, and with the written concurrence of the property appraiser, the notice specified in this section shall contain a separate line entry for each independent special taxing district in the jurisdiction of which the parcel lies. Each such district shall be identified by name. The form used for this purpose shall be identical to that supplied by the department and shall be delivered to the property appraiser not later than July 31, except that a larger space shall be provided for listing the columnar information specified in subsections (2), (3), (4), and (5). If the executive director of the department grants written permission, the form may be printed only on one side. The governing body of the county shall bear the expense of procuring such form.~~

~~(11)(12)~~ The bottom portion of the notice shall further read in bold, conspicuous print:

"Your final tax bill may contain non-ad valorem assessments which may not be reflected on this notice such as assessments for roads, fire, garbage, lighting, drainage, water, sewer, or other governmental services and facilities which may be levied by your county, city, or any special district."

~~(12)(13)~~(a) If requested by the local governing board levying non-ad valorem assessments and agreed to by the property appraiser, the notice specified in this section may contain a notice of proposed or adopted non-ad valorem assessments. If so agreed, the notice shall be titled:

NOTICE OF PROPOSED PROPERTY TAXES AND PROPOSED OR ADOPTED
NON-AD VALOREM ASSESSMENTS
DO NOT PAY—THIS IS NOT A BILL

There must be a clear partition between the notice of proposed property taxes and the notice of proposed or adopted non-ad valorem assessments. The partition must be a bold, horizontal line approximately 1/8-inch thick. By rule, the department shall provide a format for the form of the notice of proposed or adopted non-ad valorem assessments which meets the following minimum requirements:

1. There must be subheading for columns listing the levying local governing board, with corresponding assessment rates expressed in dollars and cents per unit of assessment, and the associated assessment amount.

2. The purpose of each assessment must also be listed in the column listing the levying local governing board if the purpose is not clearly indicated by the name of the board.

3. Each non-ad valorem assessment for each levying local governing board must be listed separately.

4. If a county has too many municipal service benefit units or assessments to be listed separately, it shall combine them by function.

5. A brief statement outlining the responsibility of the tax collector and each levying local governing board as to any non-ad valorem assessment must be provided on the form, accompanied by directions as to which office to contact for particular questions or problems.

(b) If the notice includes all adopted non-ad valorem assessments, the provisions contained in subsection (11) ~~(12)~~ shall not be placed on the notice.

Section 5. Section 193.155, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

193.155 Homestead assessments.—Homestead property shall be assessed at just value as of January 1, 1994. Property receiving the homestead exemption after January 1, 1994, shall be assessed at just value as of January 1 of the year in which the property receives the exemption. ~~Thereafter, determination of the assessed value of the property is subject to the following provisions:~~

(1) Beginning in 1995, or the year following the year the property receives homestead exemption, whichever is later, the property shall be reassessed annually on January 1. Any change resulting from such reassessment shall not exceed the lower of the following:

(a) Three percent of the assessed value of the property for the prior year; or

(b) The percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, U.S. City Average, all items 1967=100, or successor reports for the preceding calendar year as initially reported by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

(2) If the assessed value of the property as calculated under subsection (1) exceeds the just value, the assessed value of the property shall be lowered to the just value of the property.

(3) Except as provided in this subsection, property assessed under this section shall be assessed at just value as of January 1 of the year following a change of ownership. Thereafter, the annual changes in the assessed value of the property are subject to the limitations in subsections (1) and (2). For the purpose of this section, a change in ownership means any sale, foreclosure, or transfer of legal title or beneficial title in equity to any person, except as provided in this subsection. There is no change of ownership if:

(a) Subsequent to the change or transfer, the same person is entitled to the homestead exemption as was previously entitled and:

1. The transfer of title is to correct an error; or

2. The transfer is between legal and equitable title;

(b) The transfer is between husband and wife, including a transfer to a surviving spouse or a transfer due to a dissolution of marriage;

(c) The transfer occurs by operation of law under s. 732.4015; or

(d) Upon the death of the owner, the transfer is between the owner and another who is a permanent resident and is legally or naturally dependent upon the owner.

(4)(a) Changes, additions, or improvements to homestead property shall be assessed at just value as of the first January 1 after the changes, additions, or improvements are substantially completed.

(b) Changes, additions, or improvements do not include replacement of a portion of real property damaged or destroyed by misfortune or calamity when the just value of the damaged or destroyed portion as replaced is not more than 125 percent of the just value of the damaged or destroyed portion. The value of any replaced real property, or portion thereof, which is in excess of 125 percent of the just value of the damaged or destroyed property shall be deemed to be a change, addition, or improvement. Replaced real property with a just value of less than 100 percent of the original property's just value shall be assessed pursuant to subsection (5).

(c) Changes, additions, or improvements include improvements made to common areas or other improvements made to property other than to the homestead property by the owner or by an owner association, which improvements directly benefit the homestead property. Such changes, additions, or improvements shall be assessed at just value, and the just value shall be apportioned among the parcels benefiting from the improvement.

(5) When property is destroyed or removed and not replaced, the assessed value of the parcel shall be reduced by the assessed value attributable to the destroyed or removed property.

(6) Only property that receives a homestead exemption is subject to this section. No portion of property that is assessed solely on the basis of character or use pursuant to s. 193.461 or s. 193.501, or assessed pursuant to s. 193.505, is subject to this section. When property is assessed under s. 193.461, s. 193.501, or s. 193.505 and contains a residence under the same ownership, the portion of the property consisting of the residence and curtilage must be assessed separately, pursuant to s. 193.011, for the assessment to be subject to the limitation in this section.

(7) If a person received a homestead exemption limited to that person's proportionate interest in real property, the provisions of this section apply only to that interest.

(8) Erroneous assessments of homestead property assessed under this section may be corrected in the following manner:

(a) If errors are made in arriving at any ~~annual~~ assessment under this section due to a material mistake of fact concerning an essential characteristic of the property, the just value and assessed value assessment must be recalculated for every such year, including the year in which the mistake occurred.

(b) If changes, additions, or improvements are not assessed at just value as of the first January 1 after they were substantially completed, the property appraiser shall determine the just value for such changes, additions, or improvements for the year they were substantially completed. Assessments for subsequent years shall be corrected, applying this section if applicable.

(c) If back taxes are due pursuant to s. 193.092, the corrections made pursuant to this subsection shall be used to calculate such back taxes.

(9) If the property appraiser determines that for any year or years within the prior 10 years a person who was not entitled to the homestead property assessment limitation granted under this section was granted the homestead property assessment limitation, the property appraiser making such determination shall record in the public records of the county a notice of tax lien against any property owned by that person in the county, and such property must be identified in the notice of tax lien. Such property that is situated in this state is subject to the unpaid taxes, plus a penalty of 50 percent of the unpaid taxes for each year and 15 percent interest per annum. However, when a person entitled to exemption pursuant to s. 196.031 inadvertently receives the limitation pursuant to this section following a change of ownership, the assessment of such property must be corrected as provided in paragraph (8)(a), and the person need not pay the unpaid taxes, penalties, or interest.

Section 6. Subsection (1) of section 197.343, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

197.343 Tax notices; additional notice required.—

(1) An additional tax notice shall be mailed by ~~April 30~~ ~~April 10~~ to each taxpayer whose payment has not been received. The notice shall include a description of the property and the following statement: If the taxes for . . . (year) . . . on your property are not paid, a tax certificate will be sold for these taxes, and your property may be sold at a future date. Contact the tax collector's office at once.

Section 7. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 192.0105, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

192.0105 Taxpayer rights.—There is created a Florida Taxpayer's Bill of Rights for property taxes and assessments to guarantee that the rights, privacy, and property of the taxpayers of this state are adequately safeguarded and protected during tax levy, assessment, collection, and enforcement processes administered under the revenue laws of this state. The Taxpayer's Bill of Rights compiles, in one document, brief but comprehensive statements that summarize the rights and obligations of the property appraisers, tax collectors, clerks of the court, local governing boards, the Department of Revenue, and taxpayers. The rights afforded taxpayers to assure that their privacy and property are safeguarded and protected during tax levy, assessment, and collection are available only insofar as they are implemented in other parts of the Florida Statutes or rules of the Department of Revenue. The rights so guaranteed to state taxpayers in the Florida Statutes and the departmental rules include:

(1) THE RIGHT TO KNOW.—

The notice must also inform the taxpayer that the final tax bill may contain additional non-ad valorem assessments (see s. 200.069(11) ~~s. 200.069(12)~~).

Section 8. Section 197.212, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

197.212 Minimum tax bill.—On the recommendation of the county tax collector, the board of county commissioners may adopt a resolution instructing the collector not to mail tax notices to a taxpayer when the amount of taxes shown on the tax notice is less than an amount up to $30 $5. The resolution shall also instruct the property appraiser that he or she shall not make an extension on the tax roll for any parcel for which the tax would amount to less than an amount up to $30 $5. The minimum tax bill so established may not exceed an amount up to $30 $5.

Section 9. (1) There is created the Property Tax Administration Task Force for the purpose of serving as a forum for bringing issues in property tax administration to the Department of Revenue, of providing and evaluating suggestions for improving the property tax administration process, and of promoting greater understanding of property tax administration issues. The Property Tax Administration Task Force shall consist of members representing business and industry, taxpayer groups, municipalities, counties, school districts, special districts, state government, and elected officials charged with assessing and collecting property taxes. The Executive Director of the Department of Revenue shall appoint the members. The task force shall make periodic reports to the department concerning findings and recommendations in the area of property tax administration.

(2) This section shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 10. Effective upon this act becoming a law and applicable to the tax year 2001 and thereafter, section 196.1975, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(8) Physical occupancy on January 1 is not required in those instances in which a home restricts occupancy to persons meeting the income requirements specified in this section. Those portions of a such property failing to meet those requirements shall qualify for an alternative exemption as provided in subsection (9). In a home in which at least 25 percent of the units or apartments of the home are restricted to or occupied by persons meeting the income requirements specified in this section, the common areas of that home are exempt from taxation.

(9)(a) Each unit or apartment of a home for the aged not exempted in subsection (3) or subsection (4), which is operated by a not for profit corporation and is owned by such corporation or leased by such corporation from a health facilities authority pursuant to part III of chapter 154 or an industrial development authority pursuant to part III of chapter 159, and which property is used by such home for the aged for the purposes for which it was organized, is exempt from all ad valorem taxation, except for assessments for special benefits, to the extent of $25,000 of assessed valuation of such property for each apartment or unit:

1. Which is used by such home for the aged for the purposes for which it was organized; and

2. Which is occupied, on January 1 of the year in which exemption from ad valorem property taxation is requested, by a person who resides therein and in good faith makes the same his or her permanent home.

(b) Each corporation home applying for an exemption under paragraph (a) of this subsection or paragraph (4)(a) must file with the annual application for exemption an affidavit from each person who occupies a unit or apartment for which an exemption under either of those paragraphs that paragraph is claimed stating that the person resides therein and in good faith makes that unit or apartment his or her permanent residence.

(10) Homes for the aged, or life care communities, however designated, which are financed through the sale of health facilities authority bonds or bonds of any other public entity, whether on a sale-leaseback basis, a sale-repurchase basis, or other financing arrangement, or which are financed without public-entity bonds, are exempt from ad valorem taxation only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(11) Any portion of such property used for nonexempt purposes may be valued and placed upon the tax rolls separately from any portion entitled to exemption pursuant to this chapter.

(12) When it becomes necessary for the property appraiser to determine the value of a unit, he or she shall include in such valuation the proportionate share of the common areas, including the land, fairly attributable to such unit, based upon the value of such unit in relation to all other units in the home, unless the common areas are otherwise exempted by subsection (8).

(13) Sections 196.195 and 196.196 do not apply to this section.

Section 11. (1) There is created an advisory committee on property taxation, consisting of 8 members, two of whom shall be appointed by the Governor. The President of the Senate shall appoint two members, one of which must be a member of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House shall appoint two members, one of which must be a member of the House of Representatives. The executive director of the Department of Revenue and one property appraiser appointed by the executive director shall also serve on the committee. The advisory committee shall study the taxation of airport and seaport property and may consider taxation of other public facilities and issues related to special districts. The advisory committee shall submit a written report on this issue to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives on or before October 1, 2001.

(2) The sum of $100,000 is appropriated to the Department of Revenue from the General Revenue Fund to defray the expenses of the advisory committee.

(3) This section shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Section 12. Subsection (6) is added to section 236.25, Florida Statutes, to read:

236.25 District school tax.—

(6) In addition to the maximum millage levied under this section and the General Appropriations Act, a school district may levy, by local referendum or in a general election, additional millage for school operational purposes up to an amount that, when combined with nonvoted millage levied under this section, does not exceed the 10-mill limit established in s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Any such levy shall be for a maximum of 4 years and shall be counted as part of the 10-mill limit established in s. 9(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Millage elections conducted under the authority granted pursuant to this section are subject to ss. 236.31 and 236.32. Funds generated by such additional millage do not become a part of the calculation of the Florida Education Finance Program total potential funds in 2001-2002 or any subsequent year and must not be incorporated in the calculation of any hold-harmless or other component of the Florida Education Finance Program formula in any year. If an increase in required local effort results in millage in excess of the 10-mill limit, millage levied pursuant to this subsection must be calculated as required local effort to the extent that the total district millage exceeds the 10-mill limit.

Section 13. Section 236.31, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(1) The school board, pursuant to resolution adopted at a regular meeting, shall direct the county commissioners to call an election at which the electors within the school districts may approve an ad valorem tax millage as authorized in s. 9, Art. VII of the State Constitution. Such election may be held at any time, except that not more than one such election shall be held during any 12-month period. Any millage so authorized shall be levied for a period not in excess of 2 years or until changed by another millage election, whichever is the earlier. In the event any such election is invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidated election shall be considered not to have been held.

(2) The school board, pursuant to resolution adopted at a regular meeting, shall direct the county commissioners to call an election at which the electors within the school district may approve an ad valorem tax millage as authorized under s. 236.25(6). Any millage so authorized shall be levied for a period not in excess of 4 years or until changed by another millage election, whichever is earlier. If any such election is invalidated by a court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidated election shall be considered not to have been held.

PROGRAM: POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION PLANNING COMMISSION

The funds in Specific Appropriations 187 through 191 shall support the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission in carrying out its statutory responsibilities, including the following specific assignments:

The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission, in conjunction with the Department of Education, State Board of Community Colleges, and Board of Regents or their successors shall continue its longitudinal cohort study of the progression of public high school graduates as they enroll in, advance through, and graduate from the state's postsecondary education delivery system and enter the workforce. A progress report shall be submitted to the Governor, Legislature and the State Board of Education by May 31, 2002.

The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission, in consultation with the State Board of Community Colleges, the Department of Education and the Board of Regents or their successors shall submit to the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the President of the Senate, the following reports:

1. By December 1, 2001, the results of a detailed review that compares the costs of Workforce Development Education programs to the reimbursement received through the workforce formula. The report shall identify changes that are needed to ensure that high cost programs that meet priority workforce needs receive appropriate incentives. Specific recommendations for data collection, including definitions and data collection procedures, specific adjustments to formula calculations, and a timetable for implementation beginning with the 2002-2003 Fiscal Year shall be included in the report.

2. By December 1, 2001, the results of an evaluation of issues related to the productivity of faculty and other instructional positions and the impact on resource allocation at each university. The analysis shall include, but not be limited to:

- (a) The use of resources budgeted for faculty positions for regular faculty, part-time faculty, graduate assistants and other purposes.
- (b) An identification of the fiscal impact of the conversion of funds from the Salaries and Benefits expenditure category to the Other Personal Services expenditure category to support non-faculty instructional positions.
- (c) An identification of the average number of courses taught, the average and median class size of these courses, and the number of student credit hours produced by level per faculty member and other instructional teaching positions.
- (d) Purposes and outcomes of non-teaching assignments.

APPROPRIATION

- (e) An identification of the percent of lower level and upper level courses taught by faculty, by rank, and for other instructional positions, by type.
- (f) Alternative approaches used in other states to address and to increase faculty productivity.
- (g) An analysis of longitudinal trends in the productivity of faculty and other instructional positions.
- (h) Additional information needed to support the zero-based budgeting process.

3. By February 15, 2002, the results of a review of the roles of school districts and community colleges in registered apprenticeship programs and their responsibilities related to program quality and student achievement in basic and technical skills. The review will address the relationship of the number of hours of classroom instruction to on-the-job training; the demographic characteristics of the participants in the programs; the completion rate and average time to completion in the programs; and recommendations related to provisions for the start-up of new apprenticeship programs. The review will address the fiscal advantages and disadvantages of continuing to exempt matriculation and fees for registered apprentices and the impact of the apprenticeship programs on the Workforce Development Education Fund.

4. By December 1, 2001, an evaluation of the cost, benefits, and continued need for state appropriations to match private donations to community colleges and state universities. The evaluation shall consider but not be limited to:

- (a) The net returns on the investment of endowments after subtracting the cost to the institution of supporting the foundation from institutional operating funds, and the overhead cost assessed to the endowment accounts by foundations, the portion of the return on investments that must be reinvested to maintain the corpus of the endowment.
- (b) The degree to which the donor-driven allocation of funds through the matching process responds to the mission of the institution and the priorities of the state.
- (c) A comparison of the benefits derived from the total cumulative expenditures on these programs to benefits which could be expected from alternative investments such as equipping state of the art scientific labs.
- (d) An analysis of the use of the proceeds from the endowments.
- (e) An analysis of the number and type of endowments by program area.

If the evaluation concludes that the donation matching programs should be continued, the report shall include recommendations for improved accountability for the use of earnings from endowments that include state matching and a method for prioritization of state matching funds.

5. By December 1, 2001, an evaluation of the program offerings at branch campuses. The report shall describe the courses and complete degree programs available prior to the 1999-2000 fiscal year. The report shall then evaluate the utilization of funds specifically provided for the expansion of programs at university branch campuses and centers beginning with the 1999-2000 fiscal year. The report shall include a description of the new courses and programs implemented and planned for implementation, a description of when funds were provided, the amount of funding provided, the date upon which new programs were initiated, the date upon which courses began to be offered, the date upon which a degree program could be completed at the branch campus and the growth in enrollment related to each program beginning with 1998-1999 and projected out through 2003-2004.

- 1) Lower level - $6,952
- 2) Upper Level - $10,429
- 3) Graduate I Level - $15,875
- 4) Graduate II Level - $24,222

From the funds provided in Specific Appropriations 194 and 196, excluding medical professional headcount, each university may shift enrollment by level in a manner which is revenue neutral, but shall not increase the number of lower level FTEs above the funded enrollment plan.

By May 1, 2002, the Commissioner of Education shall provide to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the Executive Office of the Governor a comparison of actual enrollment for Final Summer 2001, Final Fall 2001, and Preliminary Spring 2002 to funded enrollment by level. Both the General Revenue and student fee revenue for FTE enrollment for any university, excluding FGCU and medical professional headcount, that is more than 2% under the funded enrollment by level by May 1 shall be redirected by the State Board of Education to areas of the State University System in which demand for courses exceeds the funded enrollment. The Commissioner of Education shall adjust the funded enrollment plan for FTEs associated with this provision and report the FTEs to the fiscal committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the Governor's Office of Policy and Budget.

In the event the actual enrollment for any university exceeds the planned enrollment, resulting in larger student fee collections than anticipated, the Executive Office of the Governor may authorize an increase in spending authority from the Educational & General Student Fees Trust Fund for the purpose of supporting additional students.

The enrollment policy adopted by the Legislature does not limit the number of students admitted from out-of-state under the profile admissions policy; however, no state university may receive the General Revenue funding associated with the enrollment of out-of-state students admitted under this policy. For the purposes of implementing this policy, the Commissioner of Education shall segregate these FTEs and not count them toward the 2001-2002 enrollment plan for the State University System. The Board of Regents may submit a budget amendment requesting student fee trust authority for the student fee revenue associated with the out-of-state students admitted under this policy.

Specific Appropriation 194 includes a General Revenue funding increase above the recurring FY 2000/01 appropriation for the following purposes:

During the fourth year in this program, students who have passed the CLAST shall be hired by participating school districts, shall work under a temporary teaching certificate, and shall receive credit for courses that include methods, ethics, and recognizing and meeting individual needs. During the in-service training component of this program, students shall work under mentor teachers who shall be considered adjunct faculty of the University which awards the degree. The University of Central Florida shall work in cooperation with the University of South Florida and the University of North Florida on this project. SPECIFIC
APPROPRIATION

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 607, the Department of Health, jointly with the Department of Education, is authorized to prepare a fourteenth year grant application to the United States Department of Education (USDOE) for Subchapter VIII of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (I.D.E.A.) funding for early intervention services for children with disabilities age birth through 36 months and their families. The application shall commit the state to meeting only the minimum service and eligibility requirements of the federal law and shall be implemented only if the federal grant is awarded. The application may be submitted to USDOE by the Governor only upon determination that required state funds can be made available from those portions of the current year's appropriation being spent on I.D.E.A. services and following consultation pursuant to s. 216.177, Florida Statutes.

In addition, $1,641,322 in General Revenue is provided for the state matching funds for Medicaid reimbursable early intervention services in Specific Appropriation 247. If the state match for the Medicaid early intervention services is either too much or insufficient to cover the cost of the entitlement, the Department of Health is authorized to transfer the necessary amount in General Revenue between Specific Appropriation 566, and Specific Appropriation 567.

Since Part C is an optional program, the department shall not redirect funds from other populations and programs to serve people under Part C.

CORRECTIONS, DEPARTMENT OF

From the funds in Specific Appropriations 669 through 848, each provider contracting with the Department of Corrections must provide the department with a proposal prior to the release of funds that details the services that will be delivered, the expected results, and recommended performance measures. The department and each provider must execute a contract before the release of any funds, and the contract documents must include mutually agreed upon performance measures. Each provider must provide quarterly performance reports to the department. Funds shall only be released to providers whose performance reports indicate successful compliance with the performance measures described in the contract.

The Department of Corrections may allow the public to use the department's shooting ranges when the following conditions are met: use is limited to members of organized gun clubs who sign a waiver of liability and are supervised by a National Rifle Association certified instructor. Public use of the department's shooting ranges shall not interfere with any department or law enforcement agency use of the ranges.

Subject to all applicable provisions of Chapter 216, F.S., the Department of Corrections may transfer funds, positions and salary rate among budget entities and programs within Specific Appropriations 669 through 848 if necessary to ensure public safety and avoid adversely affecting current employees due to the elimination of vacant positions and other approved reductions.

From the funds provided in specific appropriations 669 through 848, the Department of Corrections is authorized to implement a Close Management Consolidation Plan beginning July 1, 2001 and is authorized to utilize up to $5,583,827 from appropriated funds in order to maximize access to appropriate health care and enhanced program activities for the close management population. Beginning October 1, 2001 and quarterly thereafter, the Department must provide reports to the Senate Appropriations Committee, the House Fiscal Responsibility Council, and the Governor's Office of Policy and Budget detailing its progress in implementing the consolidation plan. At a minimum, these reports should include: (a) the number of additional positions filled, (b) the cost to date of implementing the plan, (c) the projected cost of implementing the plan for Fiscal Year 2001-2002, (d) the total projected operating expenditures for the Department of Corrections for Fiscal Year 2001-2002, and (e) the Department's plan to avoid incurring a deficit if the Department's total projected operating expenditures for Fiscal Year 2001-2002 exceed the amount appropriated.

From the funds in Specific Appropriations 669 through 788F, the Department of Corrections shall maintain accurate records related to motor vehicle inventory, vehicle maintenance, miles traveled, the number of inmates transported and all costs associated with inmate transportation. This information shall be reported semiannually to the House Fiscal Responsibility Council and the Senate Appropriations Committee and shall be sufficient to allow for the examination and evaluation of options to outsource inmate transportation services. These reports shall also include the status of actions taken by the department to correct deficiencies related to fleet management noted by the Auditor General in report number 01-065 and the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability in report number 00-23.

These funds shall not be used to compensate court appointed attorneys. The Justice Administrative Commission is authorized to pay up to $5,000 per case for case-related expenses incurred by the State Attorney and the Public Defender, for a combined maximum of $10,000 for case-related expenses per case, unless the court orders payment of a greater amount. The Justice Administrative Commission shall submit quarterly reports to the Senate Appropriations Committee and the House Fiscal Responsibility Council describing, by judicial circuit, requests for payments of case-related expenses received; court orders received directing payment of such expenses; and actual encumbrances and disbursements from this special appropriations category.

The Public Defenders' Coordination Office's budgeting needs may be shared by each Public Defender's office within the funds provided in Specific Appropriations 1005 through 1151A. The total funding for this office shall not exceed $338,250.

SECTION 4 SPECIFIC APPROPRIATION
From the funds provided in Specific Appropriations 1005 through 1151A, the Public Defenders' Coordination Office shall submit a quarterly report to the Senate Appropriations Committee, the House Fiscal Responsibility Council and the Governor's Office of Policy and Budgeting detailing the number of appellate and trial level conflict cases in each judicial circuit. Such reports must specify the number of "ethical" conflicts and "overload" conflict cases (as described in ss. 27.53(3) and 27.54(2)(b), Florida Statutes, respectively).
From the funds in Specific Appropriations 1005 through 1151A, a Public Defender may reimburse any employee who purchased, at his or her own expense, additional retirement credit in the elected state and county officers class, for time spent as an employee of the Public Defender, in the Florida Retirement System up to the amount actually spent by the employee.

From the funds in Specific Appropriations 1175 through 1235, the Department of Juvenile Justice shall develop a plan to improve the performance of the department in meeting statutory reporting requirements, improve the accuracy and reliability of other data provided by the department to the Legislature, the Governor and the public, and to correct deficiencies noted by the Auditor General in report number 01-060. A copy of the plan shall be delivered to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and to the Speaker of the House of Representatives by October 1, 2001.

From the funds in Specific Appropriations 1175 through 1235, the Department of Juvenile Justice shall maintain accurate records related to motor vehicle inventory, vehicle maintenance, miles traveled, the number of youth transported and all costs associated with youth transportation. The first report shall be delivered by February 1, 2002.

The department and each provider must execute a contract before the release of any funds, and the contract documents must include mutually agreed upon performance measures. Each provider must provide quarterly performance reports to the department. Funds shall only be released to providers whose performance reports indicate successful compliance with the performance measures described in the contract.

In implementing any reductions, the department shall target programs operating below statewide performance outcomes as measured by non-recidivism rates, quality assurance scores and costs and may reallocate funds across budget entities as appropriate to accomplish such targeting.

For appropriations from the Grants and Donations Trust Fund in Specific Appropriations 1550 through 1561 and 1564 through 1577, the Department shall utilize the existing cash in the Grants and Donations Trust Fund that was specifically appropriated for previous disasters until additional cash resources are needed to pay obligations of the fund.

The Department shall, prior to release of funds, ensure that the affected local government has provided a 12.5 percent local match. Because the location, type of disaster and severity of the event can materially affect the magnitude of costs, a local governments' share may be initially provided by the state with future payment being provided by the appropriate local government or deducted from the local government's state revenue sharing allocation. Additionally, the Executive Office of the Governor may approve a waiver of the 12.5 percent local match, subject to Legislature notice and review under s. 216.177, Florida Statutes, if it determined that such a match cannot be provided or that doing so would effect a documented hardship on the local entity provided the local government applies for the waiver within the first 18 months after the disaster is declared.

Funds in Specific Appropriations 2877 through 2887 are provided for the Office of the Secretary and Administrative Services Program in the Department of State. This program includes the Advocating International Business Partnerships Service. As a result of Amendment No. 8 to the State Constitution, the Secretary of State will no longer be an elected constitutional officer or a member of the Cabinet after January 7, 2003. Chapter 2000-258, L.O.F., was based on the recommendations made by the Constitution Transition Task Force regarding which functions the department should continue to perform. One of the recommendations was to transfer responsibility for linkage institutes from the Department of Education to the Department of State. In order to further analyze the various statutory functions of the department during the transition period from a Cabinet agency to an Executive agency, a Joint International Program Review Team, with analytical support from the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability shall conduct a review and evaluation of the agency's programs and services. The review team shall consist of the following members: (a) one individual appointed by the Governor; (b) two individuals appointed by the President of the Senate; and (c) two individuals appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. None of the appointees shall be elected officials. The review and evaluation should consider all expenditures from any appropriation made to the Department of State that are related to the Advocating International Business Partnerships Service and the Office of International Affairs for the period of July 1, 1999 through June 30, 2002. The report should include recommendations of which functions the department should continue to perform. SECTION 8. SALARIES AND BENEFITS - Fiscal Year 2001-2002

Statement of Purpose

This section provides instructions for implementing the Fiscal Year 2001-2002 salary and benefit increases provided in Specific Appropriations 194 through 197, 214, and 2102. All allocations and distributions of these funds are to be made in strict accordance with the provisions of this act. For the purpose of calculating and distributing allocations to agencies, all references to "base salary" in this section refer to the base rate of pay as of July 1, 2000, inclusive of the 2000-2001 Fiscal Year appropriated salary increases. References to "eligible" employees refer to employees who are, at a minimum, meeting their required performance standards. If an ineligible employee achieves performance standards subsequent to the salary increase implementation date, the employee may receive an increase; however, such increase shall be effective on the date the employee becomes eligible but not retroactively.

Pay Grade Adjustments

It is the intent of the Legislature that minimums and maximums of each pay grade shall be increased by 2.5 percent, effective November 1, 2001; however, minimums and maximums of pay grades applicable to members of the Security Services Bargaining Unit shall be increased by 4.5 percent, effective November 1, 2001.

After the maximum of the pay grade is increased by the competitive pay adjustment, if an employee's base rate of pay is equal to or greater than the adjusted maximum of the employee's pay grade, the employee will be granted a one-time, lump-sum payment in lieu of an increase to the employee's base rate of pay. When an employee's base rate of pay is less than the adjusted maximum of the employee's pay grade, the employee's salary will be increased to the adjusted maximum and the portion of the increase that exceeds the adjusted maximum shall be granted instead in a one-time lump-sum payment.

1. SALARY INCREASES

A. CAREER SERVICE AND EMPLOYEES SUBJECT TO THE CAREER SERVICE

Funds are provided in Specific Appropriation 2102 for pay increases for all eligible employees represented by the Florida Police Benevolent Association, the International Union of Police Associations, the Florida Nurses Association, and the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, Council 79, and all other eligible Career Service employees not included in a represented collective bargaining unit. Funds are to be distributed as follows:

- 1) Based on the funds provided in Specific Appropriation 2102 which are different from the funds recommended in the negotiated collective bargaining agreement, it is the intent of the Legislature for all eligible unit and non-unit employees assigned to the Security Services pay plan to receive a competitive pay adjustment of 4.5 percent on each employee's October 31, 2001, base rate of pay, effective November 1, 2001.

(7) The corresponding amounts necessary to execute paragraphs (1), (2) and (4) are appropriated to the state agencies for transfer to the State Technology Office. Such amounts and specific funds shall be equivalent to the amount of approved budget reduced from state agencies in paragraphs (1), (2) and (4) subject to approval by the Legislative Budget Commission.

So the bill passed, as amended by the Conference Committee Report. The action, together with SB 2000 and the Conference Committee Report thereon, was immediately certified to the Senate.

Explanations of Vote

While I am voting no on the general appropriations act I want to state for the record that I support many of the issues contained in the conference report. However, I have several reasons for voting against this bill.

First and foremost, this budget does not do enough to enhance public school education. Florida is facing a terrible teacher shortage over the next ten years, and this bill does not adequately address the problem that teachers in Florida earn $5000 less than the national average. Second, I oppose the taking of $75 million from preservation 2000 for other budget issues. Third, I think it is wrong to raise college tuition and property taxes while passing unnecessary and unfair tax reductions for a small percentage of Floridians. Fourth, I feel that certain important issues have been ignored or inadequately addressed, i.e. funding for pre-kindergarten education, nursing homes, and alternative long term care.

Rep. Lois J. Frankel
District 85

The Florida Budget (SB 2000) is usually a mixed bag of good and bad. This year is no different. Certainly, I must applaud our commitment to addressing the needs of our developmentally disabled and nursing home staffing. I also am pleased by our decision to provide grants to counties for election equipment. However, I am terribly disappointed in the education budget. Unfortunately, most of the increase in education funding comes not from the state, rather it comes from required local effort, which is the property taxes of our hard working Floridians. Worse yet, just two years after the Legislature provided a cut in school property taxes, more than 40 counties may be required to raise taxes to meet the required local effort. I fear we will pay for our lack of real commitment to education. I must also object to the state using Forever Florida funds to fund special projects and other items. By taking $75 million from this fund, we are jeopardizing many critical land acquisitions, including two in my district. While we aren't passing a bad product, we had a chance to do so much more.

Disclosure of Interest

By this letter, I wish to advise you, the Members of the Florida House of Representatives, and the public, that I serve as counsel to the Putnam County School Board. Additionally, the Putnam County School Board serves as the fiscal agent for the Northeast Florida Educational Consortium, which is given a specific appropriation in the 2001 General Appropriations Act. Although I represent the school board, I have been advised by the General Counsel of the Florida House of Representatives that I am required to vote on the act.

Rep. Joe H. Pickens

The Honorable Tom Feeney, Speaker

I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has accepted the Conference Committee Report as an entirety and passed SB 2002 as amended by the Conference Committee Report.

Conference Committee Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause

and insert:

Section 1. It is the intent of the Legislature that the implementing and administering provisions of this act apply to the General Appropriations Act for fiscal year 2001-2002.

Section 2. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 171 of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, the funds provided for workforce development shall be initially allocated to the school district or community college as designated. If, for any reason, a program in whole or in part is moved from a community college to a school district or moved from a school district to a community college, the Commissioner of Education or the Executive Director of the Division of Community Colleges shall submit a budget amendment pursuant to chapter 216, Florida Statutes, to transfer the appropriate amount of the 2001-2002 appropriation between the affected district and community college. The amount transferred shall be as near as practicable to the actual amount appropriated for the FTE funded for that program. This section expires July 1, 2002.

Section 3. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 118 of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, paragraph (k) of subsection (1) and subsection (8) of section 236.081, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

236.081 Funds for operation of schools.—If the annual allocation from the Florida Education Finance Program to each district for operation of schools is not determined in the annual appropriations act or the substantive bill implementing the annual appropriations act, it shall be determined as follows:

(1) COMPUTATION OF THE BASIC AMOUNT TO BE INCLUDED FOR OPERATION.—The following procedure shall be followed in determining the annual allocation to each district for operation:

(k) Calculation of additional full-time equivalent membership based on international baccalaureate examination scores of students.—A value of 0.24 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for each student enrolled in an international baccalaureate course who receives a score of 4 or higher on a subject examination. A value of 0.3 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for each student who receives an international baccalaureate diploma. Such value shall be added to the total full-time equivalent student membership in basic programs for grades 9 through 12 in the subsequent fiscal year. ~~During the 1997-1998, 1998-1999, and 1999-2000 school years of the pilot program authorized in s. 240.116, Students enrolled in the Advanced International Certificate of Education Program shall generate full-time equivalent student membership in a manner that is equitable to the manner in which students enrolled in the International Baccalaureate Program generate full-time equivalent student membership. During 1997-1998, a maximum of 40 students in each participating school district is authorized to generate full-time equivalent student membership in the pilot program, and in 1998-1999 and 1999-2000 a maximum of 80 students per year in each participating school district is authorized to generate full-time equivalent student membership in the pilot program.~~

(8) QUALITY ASSURANCE GUARANTEE.—The Legislature may annually in the General Appropriations Act determine a percentage increase in funds per K-12 ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE as a minimum guarantee to each school district. The guarantee shall be calculated from prior year base funding per ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE student which shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (9), quality guarantee funds, and actual nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. From the base funding per ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE, the increase shall be calculated for the current year. The current year funds from which the guarantee shall be determined shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (9) and potential nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. A comparison of current year funds per ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE to prior year funds per ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE shall be computed. For those school districts which have less than the legislatively assigned percentage increase, funds shall be provided to guarantee the assigned percentage increase in funds per ~~unweighted~~ ~~weighted~~ FTE student. Should appropriated funds be less than the sum of this calculated amount for all districts, the commissioner shall prorate each district's allocation. This provision shall be implemented to the extent specifically funded.

Section 4. The amendment of paragraph (k) of subsection (1) and subsection (8) of section 236.081, Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire on July 1, 2002, and the text of those provisions shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text enacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of such text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act.

240.116 Articulated acceleration.—

(6) The International Baccalaureate Program shall be the curriculum in which eligible secondary students are enrolled in a program of studies offered through the International Baccalaureate Program administered by the International Baccalaureate Office. The State Board of Education shall establish rules which specify the cutoff scores and International Baccalaureate Examinations which will be used to grant postsecondary credit at community colleges and universities. Any such rules, which have the effect of raising the required cutoff score or of changing the International Baccalaureate Examinations which will be used to grant postsecondary credit, shall only apply to students taking International Baccalaureate Examinations after such rules are adopted by the State Board of Education. Students shall be awarded a maximum of 30 semester credit hours pursuant to this subsection. The specific course for which a student receives such credit shall be determined by the community college or university that accepts the student for admission. Students enrolled pursuant to this subsection shall be exempt from the payment of any fees for administration of the examinations. ~~During the 1997-1998, 1998-1999, and 1999-2000 school years, the Department of Education shall assist up to three school districts in conducting a pilot of the Advanced International Certificate of Education Program administered by the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate. The department shall produce an evaluation report and recommendations regarding the comparability of the Advanced International Certificate of Education Program to the International Baccalaureate Program and submit the report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives on or before October 1, 2000.~~

Section 6. The amendment of subsection (6) of section 240.116, Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire on July 1, 2002, and the text of that subsection shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text enacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of such text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Section 7. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 178 of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, subsection (7) of section 240.35, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.35 Student fees.—Unless otherwise provided, the provisions of this section apply only to fees charged for college credit instruction leading to an associate in arts degree, an associate in applied science degree, or an associate in science degree and noncollege credit college-preparatory courses defined in s. 239.105.

(7) Each community college board of trustees shall establish matriculation and tuition fees, which may vary no more than 10 percent below and 15 percent above the combined total of the fee schedule adopted by the State Board of Community Colleges and the technology fee adopted by a board of trustees, provided that any amount from 10 to 15 percent above the fee schedule is used only to support safety and security purposes. In order to assess an additional amount for safety and security purposes, a community college board of trustees must provide written justification to the State Board of Community Colleges based on criteria approved by the local board of trustees, including but not limited to criteria such as local crime data and information, and strategies for the implementation of local safety plans. For 1999-2000, each community college is authorized to increase the sum of the matriculation fee and technology fee by not more than 5 percent of the sum of the matriculation and local safety and security fees in 1998-1999. However, no fee in 1999-2000 shall exceed the prescribed statutory limit. Should a college decide to increase the matriculation fee, the funds raised by increasing the matriculation fee must be expended solely for additional safety and security purposes and shall not supplant funding expended in the 1998-1999 budget for safety and security purposes.

Section 8. The amendment of subsection (7) of section 240.35, Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire on July 1, 2002, and the text of that subsection shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text enacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of such text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Section 9. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 93 of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, paragraph (e) of subsection (3) of section 240.209, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.209 Board of Regents; powers and duties.—

(3) The board shall:

(e) Establish student fees.

1. By no later than December 1 of each year, the board shall raise the systemwide standard for resident undergraduate matriculation and financial aid fees for the subsequent fall term, up to but no more than 25 percent of the prior year's cost of undergraduate programs. In implementing this paragraph, fees charged for graduate, medical, veterinary, and dental programs may be increased by the Board of Regents in the same percentage as the increase in fees for resident undergraduates. However, in the absence of legislative action to the contrary in an appropriations act, the board may not approve annual fee increases for resident students in excess of 10 percent. The sum of nonresident student matriculation and tuition fees must be sufficient to defray the full cost of undergraduate education. Graduate, medical, veterinary, and dental fees charged to nonresidents may be increased by the board in the same percentage as the increase in fees for nonresident undergraduates. However, in implementing this policy and in the absence of legislative action to the contrary in an appropriations act, annual fee increases for nonresident students may not exceed 25 percent. In the absence of legislative action to the contrary in the General Appropriations Act, the fees shall go into effect for the following fall term.

2. When the appropriations act requires a new fee schedule, the board shall establish a systemwide standard fee schedule required to produce the total fee revenue established in the appropriations act based on the product of the assigned enrollment and the fee schedule. The board may approve the expenditure of any fee revenues resulting from the product of the fee schedule adopted pursuant to this section and the assigned enrollment.

3. Upon provision of authority in a General Appropriations Act to spend revenue raised pursuant to this section, the board shall approve a university request to implement a matriculation and out-of-state tuition fee schedule which is calculated to generate revenue which varies no more than 10 percent from the standard fee revenues authorized through an appropriations act. In implementing an alternative fee schedule, the increase in cost to a student taking 15 hours in one term shall be limited to 5 percent. Matriculation and out-of-state tuition fee revenues generated as a result of this provision are to be expended for implementing a plan for achieving accountability goals adopted pursuant to s. 240.214 and for implementing a Board of Regents-approved plan to contain student costs by reducing the time necessary for graduation without reducing the quality of instruction. The plans shall be recommended by a universitywide committee, at least one-half of whom are students appointed by the student body president. A chairperson, appointed jointly by the university president and the student body president, shall vote only in the case of a tie.

4. The board may implement individual university plans for a differential out-of-state tuition fee for universities that have a service area that borders another state.

5. The board is authorized to collect for financial aid purposes an amount not to exceed 5 percent of the student tuition and matriculation fee per credit hour. The revenues from fees are to remain at each campus and replace existing financial aid fees. Such funds shall be disbursed to students as quickly as possible. The board shall specify specific limits on the percent of the fees collected in a fiscal year which may be carried forward unexpended to the following fiscal year. A minimum of 75 ~~50~~ percent of funds from the student financial aid fee for new financial aid awards shall be used to provide financial aid based on absolute need. A student who has received an award prior to July 1, 1984, shall have his or her eligibility assessed on the same criteria that was used at the time of his or her original award. The Board of Regents shall develop criteria for making financial aid awards. Each university shall report annually to the Department of Education on the revenue collected pursuant to this subparagraph, the amount carried forward, the criteria used to make awards, the amount and number of awards for each criterion, and a delineation of the distribution of such awards. The report shall include an assessment by category of the financial need of every student who receives an award, regardless of the purpose for which the award is received. Awards which are based on financial need shall be distributed in accordance with a nationally recognized system of need analysis approved by the Board of Regents. An award for academic merit shall require a minimum overall grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale or the equivalent for both initial receipt of the award and renewal of the award.

6. The board may recommend to the Legislature an appropriate systemwide standard matriculation and tuition fee schedule.

7. The Education and General Student and Other Fees Trust Fund is hereby created, to be administered by the Department of Education. Funds shall be credited to the trust fund from student fee collections and other miscellaneous fees and receipts. The purpose of the trust fund is to support the instruction and research missions of the State University System. Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 216.301, and pursuant to s. 216.351, any balance in the trust fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the trust fund and shall be available for carrying out the purposes of the trust fund.

8. The board is further authorized to establish the following fees:

a. A nonrefundable application fee in an amount not to exceed $30.

b. An admissions deposit fee for the University of Florida College of Dentistry in an amount not to exceed $200.

c. An orientation fee in an amount not to exceed $35.

d. A fee for security, access, or identification cards. The annual fee for such a card may not exceed $10 per card. The maximum amount charged for a replacement card may not exceed $15.

e. Registration fees for audit and zero-hours registration; a service charge, which may not exceed $15, for the payment of tuition in installments; and a late-registration fee in an amount not less than $50 nor more than $100 to be imposed on students who fail to initiate registration during the regular registration period.

f. A late-payment fee in an amount not less than $50 nor more than $100 to be imposed on students who fail to pay or fail to make appropriate arrangements to pay (by means of installment payment, deferment, or third-party billing) tuition by the deadline set by each university. Each university may adopt specific procedures or policies for waiving the late-payment fee for minor underpayments.

g. A fee for miscellaneous health-related charges for services provided at cost by the university health center which are not covered by the health fee set under s. 240.235(1).

h. Materials and supplies fees to offset the cost of materials or supplies that are consumed in the course of the student's instructional activities, excluding the cost of equipment replacement, repairs, and maintenance.

i. Housing rental rates and miscellaneous housing charges for services provided by the university at the request of the student.

j. A charge representing the reasonable cost of efforts to collect payment of overdue accounts.

k. A service charge on university loans in lieu of interest and administrative handling charges.

l. A fee for off-campus course offerings when the location results in specific, identifiable increased costs to the university.

m. Library fees and fines, including charges for damaged and lost library materials, overdue reserve library books, interlibrary loans, and literature searches.

n. Fees relating to duplicating, photocopying, binding, and microfilming; copyright services; and standardized testing. These fees may be charged only to those who receive the services.

o. Fees and fines relating to the use, late return, and loss and damage of facilities and equipment.

p. A returned-check fee as authorized by s. 832.07(1) for unpaid checks returned to the university.

q. Traffic and parking fines, charges for parking decals, and transportation access fees.

r. An Educational Research Center for Child Development fee for child care and services offered by the center.

s. Fees for transcripts and diploma replacement, not to exceed $10 per item.

Section 10. The amendment of paragraph 240.209(3)(e), Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire July 1, 2002, and the text of that paragraph shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text exacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of such text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act. The Division of Statutory Revision of the Office of Legislative Services shall include in an appropriate reviser's bill any amendments to such subsection which are necessary to give effect to the legislative intent expressed in this section.

Section 11. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 93 of the 2001-2002 General Appropriations Act, subsection (11) of section 240.35, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

240.35 Student fees.—Unless otherwise provided, the provisions of this section apply only to fees charged for college credit instruction leading to an associate in arts degree, an associate in applied science degree, or an associate in science degree and noncollege credit college-preparatory courses defined in s. 239.105.

(11)(a) Each community college is authorized to establish a separate fee for financial aid purposes in an additional amount up to, but not to exceed, 5 percent of the total student tuition or matriculation fees collected. Each community college may collect up to an additional 2 percent if the amount generated by the total financial aid fee is less than $250,000. If the amount generated is less than $250,000, a community college that charges tuition and matriculation fees at least equal to the average fees established by rule may transfer from the general current fund to the scholarship fund an amount equal to the difference between $250,000 and the amount generated by the total financial aid fee assessment. No other transfer from the general current fund to the loan, endowment, or scholarship fund, by whatever name known, is authorized.

(b) All funds collected under this program shall be placed in the loan and endowment fund or scholarship fund of the college, by whatever name known. Such funds shall be disbursed to students as quickly as possible. An amount not greater than 40 percent of the fees collected in a fiscal year may be carried forward unexpended to the following fiscal year. However, funds collected prior to July 1, 1989, and placed in an endowment fund may not be considered part of the balance of funds carried forward unexpended to the following fiscal year.

(c) Up to 25 percent or $300,000, whichever is greater, of the financial aid fees collected may be used to assist students who demonstrate academic merit; who participate in athletics, public service, cultural arts, and other extracurricular programs as determined by the institution; or who are identified as members of a targeted gender or ethnic minority population. The financial aid fee revenues allocated for athletic scholarships and fee exemptions provided pursuant to subsection (17) for athletes shall be distributed equitably as required by s. 228.2001(3)(d). A minimum of 75 ~~50~~ percent of the balance of these funds for new awards shall be used to provide financial aid based on absolute need, and the remainder of the funds shall be used for academic merit purposes and other purposes approved by the district boards of trustees. Such other purposes shall include the payment of child care fees for students with financial need. The State Board of Community Colleges shall develop criteria for making financial aid awards. Each college shall report annually to the Department of Education on the revenue collected pursuant to this paragraph, the amount carried forward, the criteria used to make awards, the amount and number of awards for each criterion, and a delineation of the distribution of such awards. The report shall include an assessment by category of the financial need of every student who receives an award, regardless of the purpose for which the award is received. Awards which are based on financial need shall be distributed in accordance with a nationally recognized system of need analysis approved by the State Board of Community Colleges. An award for academic merit shall require a minimum overall grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale or the equivalent for both initial receipt of the award and renewal of the award.

(d) These funds may not be used for direct or indirect administrative purposes or salaries.

Section 12. *The amendment of subsection 240.35(11), Florida Statutes, by this act shall expire July 1, 2002, and the text of that subsection shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2001, except that any amendments to such text exacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of such text which expire pursuant to the provisions of this act. Section 44. Paragraph (a) of subsection (6) of section 163.3177, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

163.3177 Required and optional elements of comprehensive plan; studies and surveys.—

(6) In addition to the requirements of subsections (1)-(5), the comprehensive plan shall include the following elements:

(a) A future land use plan element designating proposed future general distribution, location, and extent of the uses of land for residential uses, commercial uses, industry, agriculture, recreation, conservation, education, public buildings and grounds, other public facilities, and other categories of the public and private uses of land. The future land use plan shall include standards to be followed in the control and distribution of population densities and building and structure intensities. The proposed distribution, location, and extent of the various categories of land use shall be shown on a land use map or map series which shall be supplemented by goals, policies, and measurable objectives. Each land use category shall be defined in terms of the types of uses included and specific standards for the density or intensity of use. The future land use plan shall be based upon surveys, studies, and data regarding the area, including the amount of land required to accommodate anticipated growth; the projected population of the area; the character of undeveloped land; the availability of public services; the need for redevelopment, including the renewal of blighted areas and the elimination of nonconforming uses which are inconsistent with the character of the community; and, in rural communities, the need for job creation, capital investment, and economic development that will strengthen and diversify the community's economy. The future land use plan may designate areas for future planned development use involving combinations of types of uses for which special regulations may be necessary to ensure development in accord with the principles and standards of the comprehensive plan and this act. In addition, for rural communities, the amount of land designated for future planned industrial use shall be based upon surveys and studies that reflect the need for job creation, capital investment, and the necessity to strengthen and diversify the local economies, and shall not be limited solely by the projected population of the rural community. The future land use plan of a county may also designate areas for possible future municipal incorporation. The land use maps or map series shall generally identify and depict historic district boundaries and shall designate historically significant properties meriting protection. The future land use element must clearly identify the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use. When delineating the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use, a local government shall include in the categories sufficient land proximate to residential development to meet the projected needs for schools in coordination with public school boards and may establish differing criteria for schools of different type or size. Each local government shall include lands contiguous to existing school sites, to the maximum extent possible, within the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use. All comprehensive plans must comply with the school siting requirements of this paragraph no later than October 1, 1999. The failure by a local government to comply with these school siting requirements by October 1, 1999, will result in the prohibition of the local government's ability to amend the local comprehensive plan, except for plan amendments described in s. 163.3187(1)(b), until the school siting requirements are met. An amendment proposed by a local government for purposes of identifying the land use categories in which public schools are an allowable use is exempt from the limitation on the frequency of plan amendments contained in s. 163.3187. The future land use element shall include criteria which encourage the location of schools proximate to urban residential areas to the extent possible and shall require that the local government seek to collocate public facilities, such as parks, libraries, and community centers, with schools to the extent possible. For schools serving predominantly rural counties, defined as a county with a population of 100,000 or fewer, an agricultural land use category shall be eligible for the location of public school facilities if the local comprehensive plan contains school siting criteria and the location is consistent with such criteria.

Section 3. Subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (2), paragraph (e) of subsection (4), paragraph (b) of subsection (8), and paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (9) of section 121.4501, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (f) is added to subsection (9) of that section, to read:

121.4501 Public Employee Optional Retirement Program.—

(1) The Trustees of the State Board of Administration shall establish an optional defined contribution retirement program for members of the Florida Retirement System under which retirement benefits will be provided for eligible employees who elect to participate in the program. The benefits to be provided for or on behalf of participants in such optional retirement program shall be provided through employee-directed investments, in accordance with s. 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and its related regulations. The employers shall contribute, as provided in this section and s. 121.571, to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program Trust Fund toward the funding of such optional benefits.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Approved provider" or "provider" means a private sector company that is selected and approved by the state board to offer one or more investment products or services to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program. The term includes a bundled provider that offers participants a range of individually allocated or unallocated investment products and may offer a range of administrative and customer services, which may include accounting and administration of individual participant benefits and contributions; individual participant recordkeeping; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; direct execution of the participant's instructions as to asset and contribution allocation; calculation of daily net asset values; direct access to participant account information; periodic reporting to participants, at least quarterly, on account balances and transactions; guidance, advice, and allocation services directly relating to its own investment options or products, but only if the bundled provider complies with the standard of care of s. 404(a)(1)(A-B) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) and if providing such guidance, advice, or allocation services does not constitute a prohibited transaction under s. 4975(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code or s. 406 of ERISA, notwithstanding that such prohibited transaction provisions do not apply to the optional retirement program; a broad array of distribution options; asset allocation; and retirement counseling and education. Private sector companies include investment management companies, insurance companies, depositories, and mutual fund companies.

(4) PARTICIPATION; ENROLLMENT.—

(e) After the period during which an eligible employee had the choice to elect the defined benefit program or the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the employee shall have one opportunity, at the employee's discretion, to choose to move from the defined benefit program to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program or from the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program to the defined benefit program. This paragraph shall be contingent upon approval from the Internal Revenue Service for including the choice described herein within the programs offered by the Florida Retirement System.

1. If the employee chooses to move to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program, the applicable provisions of this section shall govern the transfer.

2. If the employee chooses to move to the defined benefit program, the employee must transfer from his or her Public Employee Optional Retirement Program account and from other employee moneys as necessary, a sum representing the present value of that employee's accumulated benefit obligation immediately following the time of such movement, determined assuming that attained service equals the sum of service in the defined benefit program and service in the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program ~~all contributions that would have been made to the defined benefit plan for that employee and the actual return that would have been earned on those contributions had they been invested in the defined benefit program.~~ Benefit commencement occurs on the first date the employee would become eligible for unreduced benefits, using the discount rate and other relevant actuarial assumptions that were used to value the Florida Retirement System defined benefit plan liabilities in the most recent actuarial valuation. For any employee who, at the time of the second election, already maintains an accrued benefit amount in the defined benefit plan, the then-present value of such accrued benefit shall be deemed part of the required transfer amount described in this subparagraph. The division shall ensure that the transfer sum is prepared using a formula and methodology certified by an enrolled actuary.

3. Notwithstanding subparagraph 2., an employee who chooses to move to the defined benefit program and who became eligible to participate in the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program by reason of employment in a regularly established position with a state employer after June 1, 2002; a district school board employer after September 1, 2002; or a local employer after December 1, 2002, must transfer from his or her Public Employee Optional Retirement Program account and, from other employee moneys as necessary, a sum representing that employee's actuarial accrued liability.

4. Employees' ability to transfer from the Florida Retirement System defined benefit program to the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program pursuant to paragraphs (a) through (d), and the ability for current employees to have an option to later transfer back into the defined benefit program under subparagraph 2., shall be deemed a significant system amendment. Pursuant to s. 121.031(4), any such resulting unfunded liability arising from actual original transfers from the defined benefit program to the optional program shall be amortized within 30 plan years as a separate unfunded actuarial base independent of the reserve stabilization mechanism defined in s. 121.031(3)(f). For the first 25 years, no direct amortization payment shall be calculated for this base. During this 25-year period, such separate base shall be used to offset the impact of employees exercising their second program election under this paragraph. It is the legislative intent that the actuarial funded status of the Florida Retirement System defined benefit plan is neither beneficially nor adversely impacted by such second program elections in any significant manner, after due recognition of the separate unfunded actuarial base. Following this initial 25-year period, any remaining balance of the original separate base shall be amortized over the remaining 5 years of the required 30-year amortization period.

(b)1. The state board shall select and contract with one third-party administrator to provide administrative services if those services cannot be competitively and contractually provided by the Division of Retirement within the Department of Management Services. With the approval of the state board, the third-party administrator may subcontract with other organizations or individuals to provide components of the administrative services. As a cost of administration, the board may compensate any such contractor for its services, in accordance with the terms of the contract, as is deemed necessary or proper by the board. The third-party administrator may not be an approved provider or be affiliated with an approved provider.

2. These administrative services may include, but are not limited to, enrollment of eligible employees, collection of employer contributions, disbursement of such contributions to approved providers in accordance with the allocation directions of participants; services relating to consolidated billing; individual and collective recordkeeping and accounting; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; and direct disbursement of funds to and from the third-party administrator, the division, the board, employers, participants, approved providers, and beneficiaries. This section does not prevent or prohibit a bundled provider from providing any administrative or customer service, including accounting and administration of individual participant benefits and contributions; individual participant recordkeeping; asset purchase, control, and safekeeping; direct execution of the participant's instructions as to asset and contribution allocation; calculation of daily net asset values; direct access to participant account information; or periodic reporting to participants, at least quarterly, on account balances and transactions, if these services are authorized by the board as part of the contract.

3. The state board shall select and contract with one or more organizations to provide educational services. With approval of the board, the organizations may subcontract with other organizations or individuals to provide components of the educational services. As a cost of administration, the board may compensate any such contractor for its services in accordance with the terms of the contract, as is deemed necessary or proper by the board. The education organization may not be an approved provider or be affiliated with an approved provider.

4. Educational services shall be designed by the board and department to assist employers, eligible employees, participants, and beneficiaries in order to maintain compliance with United States Department of Labor regulations under s. 404(c) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and to assist employees in their choice of defined benefit or defined contribution retirement alternatives. Educational services include, but are not limited to, disseminating educational materials; providing retirement planning education; explaining the differences between the defined benefit retirement plan and the defined contribution retirement plan; and offering financial planning guidance on matters such as investment diversification, investment risks, investment costs, and asset allocation. An approved provider may also provide educational information, including retirement planning and investment allocation information concerning its products and services.

(9) INVESTMENT OPTIONS OR PRODUCTS; PERFORMANCE REVIEW.—

(a) The board shall develop policy and procedures for selecting, evaluating, and monitoring the performance of approved providers and investment products to which employees may direct retirement contributions under the program. In accordance with such policy and procedures, the board shall designate and contract for a number of investment products as determined by the board. The board shall also select one or more bundled providers each of whom may offer multiple ~~who offer multiple~~ investment options and related services ~~products~~ when such an approach is determined by the board to afford value to the participants otherwise not available through individual investment products. Each approved bundled provider may offer investment options that provide participants with the opportunity to invest in each of the following asset classes, to be composed of individual options that represent either a single asset class or a combination thereof: money markets, United States fixed income, United States equities, and foreign stock. The board shall review and manage all educational materials, contract terms, fee schedules, and other aspects of the approved provider relationships to ensure that no provider is unduly favored or penalized by virtue of its status within the plan.

(b) The board shall consider investment options or products it considers appropriate to give participants the opportunity to accumulate retirement benefits, subject to the following:

1. The Public Employee Optional Retirement Program must offer a diversified mix of low-cost investment products that span the risk-return spectrum and may include a guaranteed account as well as investment products, such as individually allocated guaranteed and variable annuities, which meet the requirements of this subsection and combine the ability to accumulate investment returns with the option of receiving lifetime income consistent with the long-term retirement security of a pension plan and similar to the lifetime-income benefit provided by the Florida Retirement System.

2. Investment options or products offered by the group of approved providers may include mutual funds, group annuity contracts, individual retirement annuities, interests in trusts, collective trusts, separate accounts, and other such financial instruments, and may include products that give participants the option of committing their contributions for an extended time period in an effort to obtain returns higher than those that could be obtained from investment products offering full liquidity.

3. The board shall not contract with any provider that imposes a front-end, back-end, contingent, or deferred sales charge, or any other fee that limits or restricts the ability of participants to select any investment product available in the optional program. This prohibition does not apply to fees or charges that are imposed on withdrawals from products that give participants the option of committing their contributions for an extended time period in an effort to obtain returns higher than those that could be obtained from investment products offering full liquidity, provided that the product in question, net of all fees and charges, produces material benefits relative to other comparable products in the program offering full liquidity.

4. Fees or charges for insurance features, such as mortality and expense-risk charges, must be reasonable relative to the benefits provided.

(f)1. An approved provider shall comply with all federal and state securities and insurance laws and regulations applicable to the provider, as well as the applicable rules and guidelines of the National Association of Securities Dealers which govern the ethical marketing of investment products. In furtherance of this mandate, an approved provider must agree in its contract with the board to establish and maintain a compliance education and monitoring system to supervise the activities of all personnel who directly communicate with individual participants and recommend investment products, which system is consistent with rules of the National Association of Securities Dealers.

2. Approved provider personnel who directly communicate with individual participants and who recommend investment products shall make an independent and unbiased determination as to whether an investment product is suitable for a particular participant.

3. The board shall develop procedures to receive and resolve participant complaints against a provider or approved provider personnel, and, when appropriate, refer such complaints to the appropriate agency.

4. Approved providers may not sell or in any way distribute any customer list or participant identification information generated through their offering of products or services through the optional retirement program.

Section 4. Subsection (9) is added to section 121.0515, Florida Statutes, to read:

121.0515 Special risk membership.—

(9) CREDIT FOR UPGRADED SERVICE.—Any member of the Special Risk Class who has earned creditable service in another membership class of the Florida Retirement System as an emergency medical technician or paramedic, which service is within the purview of the Special Risk Class, may purchase additional retirement credit to upgrade such service to Special Risk Class service, to the extent of the percentages of the member's average final compensation provided in s. 121.091(1)(a)2. Contributions for upgrading such service to Special Risk Class credit under this subsection shall be equal to the difference in the contributions paid and the Special Risk Class contribution rate as a percentage of gross salary in effect for the period being claimed, plus interest thereon at the rate of 6.5 percent a year, compounded annually until the date of payment. This service credit may be purchased by the employer on behalf of the member.

Section 5. It is the intent of the Legislature that any additional cost attributable to the upgrade in the retirement benefits for emergency medical technicians and paramedics above the contributions paid in accordance with section 4 of this act shall be funded by recognition of the necessary amount from the excess actuarial assets of the Florida Retirement System Trust Fund.

(3) PARTICIPATION AND WITHDRAWAL, GENERALLY.—Effective July 1, 1990, participation in the Elected Officers' Class shall be compulsory for elected officers listed in paragraphs (2)(a)-(d) and (f) assuming office on or after said date, unless the elected officer elects membership in another class or withdraws from the Florida Retirement System as provided in paragraphs (3)(a)-(d):

(e) Effective July 1, ~~2001~~ ~~1997~~, the governing body of a municipality or special district may, by majority vote, elect to designate all its elected positions for inclusion in the Elected Officers' Class. Such election shall be made between July 1, ~~2001~~ ~~1997~~, and December 31, ~~2001~~ ~~1997~~, and shall be irrevocable. The designation of such positions shall be effective the first day of the month following receipt by the department of the ordinance or resolution passed by the governing body.

The Honorable Tom Feeny, Speaker

I am directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has passed HB 757, with one amendment, and requests the concurrence of the House.

Faye W. Blanton, Secretary

HB 757—A bill to be entitled An act relating to wrecker liens; amending s. 320.03, F.S.; including a cross reference; providing that the term “civil penalties and fines” does not include reference to a wrecker operator’s lien; amending s. 713.78, F.S., relating to liens; revising conditions for sale of certain vehicles and vessels; providing that the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles shall not issue a license plate or revalidation sticker for certain motor vehicles, vessels, or motor homes for which a wrecker operator’s lien has been issued; providing procedures with respect to such liens; providing an effective date.

Senate Amendment 1 (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause

and insert:

320.03 Registration; duties of tax collectors; International Registration Plan.—

(8) If the applicant’s name appears on the list referred to in s. 316.1001(4), ~~or~~ s. 316.1967(6), or s. 713.78(13) a license plate or revalidation sticker may not be issued until that person’s name no longer appears on the list or until the person presents a receipt from the clerk showing that the fines outstanding have been paid. The tax collector and the clerk of the court are each entitled to receive monthly, as costs for implementing and administering this subsection, 10 percent of the civil penalties and fines recovered from such persons. As used in this subsection, the term “civil penalties and fines” does not include a wrecker operator’s lien as described in s. 713.78(13). If the tax collector has private tag agents, such tag agents are entitled to receive a pro rata share of the amount paid to the tax collector, based upon the percentage of license plates and revalidation stickers issued by the tag agent compared to the total issued within the county. The authority of any private agent to issue license plates shall be revoked, after notice and a hearing as provided in chapter 120, if he or she issues any license plate or revalidation sticker contrary to the provisions of this subsection. This section applies only to the annual renewal in the owner’s birth month of a motor vehicle registration and does not apply to the transfer of a registration of a motor vehicle sold by a motor vehicle dealer licensed under this chapter, except for the transfer of registrations which is inclusive of the annual renewals. This section does not affect the issuance of the title to a motor vehicle, notwithstanding s. 319.23(7)(b).

Section 2. Present subsections (1) through (27) of section 713.01, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (2) through (28), respectively, and a new subsection (1) is added to that section to read:

713.01 Definitions.—As used in this part, the term:

(1) “Abandoned property” means all tangible personal property that has been disposed of on public property in a wrecked, inoperative, or partially dismantled condition.

Section 3. Paragraph (b) of subsection (4) and subsection (6) are amended, and subsection (13) is added to section 713.78, Florida Statutes, to read:

(b) Notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, shall be sent within 7 business days after the date of storage of the vehicle or vessel to the registered owner and to all persons of record claiming a lien against the vehicle or vessel. It shall state the fact of possession of the vehicle or vessel, that a lien as provided in subsection (2) is claimed, that charges have accrued and the amount thereof, that the lien is subject to enforcement pursuant to law, and that the owner or lienholder, if any, has the right to a hearing as set forth in subsection (5), and that any vehicle or vessel which remains unclaimed, or for which the charges for recovery, towing, or storage services remain unpaid, may be sold ~~after 35 days~~ free of all prior liens after 35 days if the vehicle or vessel is more than 3 years of age or after 50 days if the vehicle or vessel is 3 years of age or less.

(6) Any vehicle or vessel which is stored pursuant to subsection (2) and which remains unclaimed, or for which reasonable charges for recovery, towing, or storing remain unpaid or for which a lot rental amount is due and owing to the mobile home park owner, as evidenced by a judgment for unpaid rent, and any contents not released pursuant to subsection (10), may be sold by the owner or operator of the storage space for such towing or storage charge or unpaid lot rental amount after 35 days from the time the vehicle or vessel is stored therein if the vehicle or vessel is more than 3 years of age or after 50 days following the time the vehicle or vessel is stored therein if the vehicle or vessel is 3 years of age or less. The sale shall be at public auction for cash. If the date of the sale was not included in the notice required in subsection (4), notice of the sale shall be given to the person in whose name the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home is registered, to the mobile home park owner, and to all persons claiming a lien on the vehicle or vessel as shown on the records of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles or of the corresponding agency in any other state. Notice shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the owner of the vehicle or vessel and the person having the recorded lien on the vehicle or vessel at the address shown on the records of the registering agency and shall be mailed not less than 15 days before the date of the sale. After diligent search and inquiry, if the name and address of the registered owner or the owner of the recorded lien cannot be ascertained, the requirements of notice by mail may be dispensed with. In addition to the notice by mail, public notice of the time and place of sale shall be made by publishing a notice thereof one time, at least 10 days prior to the date of the sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the sale is to be held. The proceeds of the sale, after payment of reasonable towing and storage charges, costs of the sale, and the unpaid lot rental amount, in that order of priority, shall be deposited with the clerk of the circuit court for the county if the owner is absent, and the clerk shall hold such proceeds subject to the claim of the person legally entitled thereto. The clerk shall be entitled to receive 5 percent of such proceeds for the care and disbursement thereof. The certificate of title issued under this law shall be discharged of all liens unless otherwise provided by court order.

(13)(a) Upon receipt by the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles of written notice from a wrecker operator who claims a wrecker operator’s lien under paragraph (2)(c) or paragraph (2)(d) for recovery, towing, or storage of an abandoned vehicle, vessel, or mobile home upon instructions from any law enforcement agency, for which a certificate of destruction has been issued under subsection (11), the department shall place the name of the registered owner of that vehicle, vessel, or mobile home on the list of those persons who may not be issued a license plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8). If the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home is owned jointly by more than one person, the name of each registered owner shall be placed on the list. The notice of wrecker operator’s lien shall be submitted on forms provided by the department, which must include:

1. The name, address, and telephone number of the wrecker operator.
2. The name of the registered owner of the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home and the address to which the wrecker operator provided notice of the lien to the registered owner under subsection (4).

3. A general description of the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home, including its color, make, model, body style, and year.

4. The vehicle identification number (VIN); registration license plate number, state, and year; validation decal number, state, and year; mobile home sticker number, state, and year; vessel registration number; hull identification number; or other identification number, as applicable.

5. The name of the person or the corresponding law enforcement agency that requested that the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home be recovered, towed, or stored.

6. The amount of the wrecker operator's lien, not to exceed the amount allowed by paragraph (b).

(b) For purposes of this subsection only, the amount of the wrecker operator's lien for which the department will prevent issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker may not exceed the amount of the charges for recovery, towing, and storage of the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home for 7 days. These charges may not exceed the maximum rates imposed by the ordinances of the respective county or municipality under ss. 125.0103(1)(c) and 166.043(1)(c). This paragraph does not limit the amount of a wrecker operator's lien claimed under subsection (2) or prevent a wrecker operator from seeking civil remedies for enforcement of the entire amount of the lien, but limits only that portion of the lien for which the department will prevent issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker.

(c)1. The registered owner of a vehicle, vessel, or mobile home may dispute a wrecker operator's lien, by notifying the department of the dispute in writing on forms provided by the department, if at least one of the following applies:

a. The registered owner presents a notarized bill of sale proving that the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was sold in a private or casual sale before the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was recovered, towed, or stored.

b. The registered owner presents proof that the Florida certificate of title of the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was sold to a licensed dealer as defined in s. 319.001 before the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was recovered, towed, or stored.

If the registered owner's dispute of a wrecker operator's lien complies with one of these criteria, the department shall immediately remove the registered owner's name from the list of those persons who may not be issued a licensed plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8), thereby allowing issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker. If the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home is owned jointly by more than one person, each registered owner must dispute the wrecker operator's lien in order to be removed from the list. However, the department shall deny any dispute and maintain the registered owner's name on the list of those persons who may not be issued a license plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8) if the wrecker operator has provided the department with a certified copy of the judgment of a court which orders the registered owner to pay the wrecker operator's lien claimed under this section. In such a case, the amount of the wrecker operator's lien allowed by paragraph (b) may be increased to include no more than $500 of the reasonable costs and attorney's fees incurred in obtaining the judgment. The department's action under this subparagraph is ministerial in nature, shall not be considered final agency action, and is appealable only to the county court for the county in which the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was ordered removed.

2. A person against whom a wrecker operator's lien has been imposed may alternatively obtain a discharge of the lien by filing a complaint, challenging the validity of the lien or the amount thereof, in the county court of the county in which the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was ordered removed. Upon filing of the complaint, the person may have her or his name removed from the list of those persons who may not be issued a licensed plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8), thereby allowing issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker, upon posting with the court a cash or surety bond or other adequate security equal to the amount of the wrecker operator's lien to ensure the payment of such lien in the event she or he does not prevail. Upon the posting of the bond and the payment of the applicable fee set forth in s. 28.24, the clerk of the court shall issue a certificate notifying the department of the posting of the bond and directing the department to release the wrecker operator's lien. Upon determining the respective rights of the parties, the court may award damages and costs in favor of the prevailing party.

3. If a person against whom a wrecker operator's lien has been imposed does not object to the lien, but cannot discharge the lien by payment because the wrecker operator has moved or gone out of business, the person may have her or his name removed from the list of those persons who may not be issued a licensed plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8), thereby allowing issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker, upon posting with the clerk of court in the county in which the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home was ordered removed, a cash or surety bond or other adequate security equal to the amount of the wrecker operator's lien. Upon the posting of the bond and the payment of the application fee set forth in s. 28.24, the clerk of the court shall issue a certificate notifying the department of the posting of the bond and directing the department to release the wrecker operator's lien. The department shall mail to the wrecker operator, at the address upon the lien form, notice that the wrecker operator must claim the security within 60 days, or the security will be released back to the person who posted it. At the conclusion of the 60 days, the department shall direct the clerk as to which party is entitled to payment of the security, less applicable clerk's fees.

4. A wrecker operator's lien expires 5 years after filing.

(d) Upon discharge of the amount of the wrecker operator's lien allowed by paragraph (b), the wrecker operator must issue a certificate of discharged wrecker operator's lien on forms provided by the department to each registered owner of the vehicle, vessel, or mobile home attesting that the amount of the wrecker operator's lien allowed by paragraph (b) has been discharged. Upon presentation of the certificate of discharged wrecker operator's lien by the registered owner, the department shall immediately remove the registered owner's name from the list of those persons who may not be issued a license plate or revalidation sticker for any motor vehicle under s. 320.03(8), thereby allowing issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker. Issuance of a certificate of discharged wrecker operator's lien under this paragraph does not discharge the entire amount of the wrecker operator's lien claimed under subsection (2), but only certifies to the department that the amount of the wrecker operator's lien allowed by paragraph (b), for which the department will prevent issuance of a license plate or revalidation sticker, has been discharged.

(e) When a wrecker operator files a notice of wrecker operator's lien under this subsection, the department shall charge the wrecker operator a fee of $2, which shall be deposited into the Florida Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Trust Fund established under s. 860.158. A service charge of $2.50 shall be collected and retained by the tax collector who processes a notice of wrecker operator's lien.

(f) This subsection applies only to the annual renewal in the registered owner's birth month of a motor vehicle registration and does not apply to the transfer of a registration of a motor vehicle sold by a motor vehicle dealer licensed under chapter 320, except for the transfer of registrations which is inclusive of the annual renewals. This subsection does not affect the issuance of the title to a motor vehicle, notwithstanding s. 319.23(7)(b).

(g) The Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles may adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement this subsection.

Section 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 2001.

Delete everything before the enacting clause

and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to wrecker liens; amending s. 320.03, F.S.; including a cross-reference; providing that the term "civil penalties and fines" does not include reference to a wrecker operator's lien; amending s. 713.01, F.S.; defining the term "abandoned property”; amending s. 713.78, F.S.; revising requirements for the sale of an unclaimed vehicle or vessel; providing that the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles shall not issue a license plate or revalidation sticker for certain motor vehicles, vessels, or motor homes for which a wrecker operator’s lien has been issued; providing procedures with respect to such liens; providing an effective date.

1. Be responsible for the prudent use of all public and private funds in accordance with all legal and contractual requirements.
2. Provide final approval and periodic review of coalitions and plans.
3. Provide leadership for enhancement of school readiness in this state by aggressively establishing a unified approach to the state's efforts toward enhancement of school readiness. In support of this effort, the partnership may develop and implement specific strategies that address the state's school readiness programs.

5. Provide technical assistance to coalitions.
6. Assess gaps in service.
7. Provide technical assistance to counties that form a multicounty coalition.
- 8.a. ~~By July 1, 2000,~~ Adopt a system for measuring school readiness that provides objective data regarding the expectations for school readiness, and establish a method for collecting the data and guidelines for using the data. The measurement, the data collection, and the use of the data must serve the statewide school readiness goal. The criteria for determining which data to collect should be the usefulness of the data to state policymakers and local program administrators in administering programs and allocating state funds, and must include the tracking of school readiness system information back to individual school readiness programs to assist in determining program effectiveness.
- b. ~~By December 31, 2000, the partnership shall also~~ Adopt a system for evaluating the performance of students through the third grade to compare the performance of those who participated in school readiness programs with the performance of students who did not participate in school readiness programs in order to identify strategies for continued successful student performance.
9. ~~By June 1, 2000,~~ Develop and adopt performance standards and outcome measures.
10. ~~In consultation with the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission and the Education Standards Commission, assess the expertise of public and private Florida postsecondary institutions in the areas of infant and toddler developmental research; the related curriculum of training, career, and academic programs; and the status of articulation among those programs. Based on this assessment, the partnership shall provide recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature for postsecondary program improvements to enhance school readiness initiatives.~~
- (k) The partnership may adopt rules necessary to administer the provisions of this section which relate to preparing and implementing the system for school readiness, collecting data, approving local school readiness coalitions and plans, providing a method whereby a coalition can serve two or more counties, awarding incentives to coalitions, and issuing waivers.
- (l) The Florida Partnership for School Readiness shall have all powers necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, including, but not limited to, the power to receive and accept grants, loans, or advances of funds from any public or private agency and to receive and accept from any source contributions of money, property, labor, or any other thing of value, to be held, used, and applied for the purposes of this section.
- (m) The Florida Partnership for School Readiness shall be an independent, nonpartisan body and shall not be identified or affiliated with any one agency, program, or group.

- (o) ~~By July 1, 2000,~~ The partnership shall prepare and submit to the Florida State Board of Education a system for measuring school readiness. The system must include a uniform screening, which shall provide objective data regarding the following expectations for school readiness which shall include, at a minimum:
 1. The child's immunizations and other health requirements as necessary, including appropriate vision and hearing screening and examinations.

- (p) The partnership shall prepare a plan for implementing the system for measuring school readiness in such a way that all children in this state will undergo the uniform screening established by the partnership when they enter kindergarten. Children who enter public school for the first time in first grade must undergo a uniform screening approved by the partnership for use in first grade. Because children with disabilities may not be able to meet all of the identified expectations for school readiness, the plan for measuring school readiness shall incorporate mechanisms for recognizing the potential variations in expectations for school readiness when serving children with disabilities and shall provide for communities to serve children with disabilities.
- (q) ~~The partnership shall recommend to the Governor, the Commissioner of Education, and the State Board of Education rules, and revisions or repeal of rules, which would increase the effectiveness of programs that prepare children for school.~~
- (r) The partnership shall conduct studies and planning activities related to the overall improvement and effectiveness of school readiness measures.

To ensure that the system for measuring school readiness is comprehensive and appropriate statewide, as the system is developed and implemented, the partnership must consult with representatives of district school systems, providers of public and private child care, health care providers, large and small employers, experts in education for children with disabilities, and experts in child development.

When a district superintendent of schools or a district administrator for the Department of Children and Family Services appoints a designee to a school readiness coalition, the designee will be the voting member of the coalition, and any individual attending in his or her place, including the district administrator or superintendent, will have no voting privileges.

Plan implementation is subject to approval of the coalition and the plan by the Florida Partnership for School Readiness.

2. Each school readiness coalition shall develop a plan for implementing the school readiness program to meet the requirements of this section and the performance standards and outcome measures established by the partnership. The plan must include a written description of the role of the program in the coalition's effort to meet the first state education goal, readiness to start school, including a description of the plan to involve the prekindergarten early intervention programs, Head Start Programs, programs offered by public or private providers of child care, preschool programs for children with disabilities, programs for migrant children, Title I programs, subsidized child care programs, and teen parent programs. h. Direct enhancement services to families and children. System support and direct enhancement services shall be in addition to payments for the placement of children in school readiness programs.

As part of the plan, the coalition may request the Governor to apply for a waiver to allow the coalition to administer the Head Start Program to accomplish the purposes of the school readiness program. If any school readiness plan can demonstrate that specific statutory goals can be achieved more effectively by using procedures that require modification of existing rules, policies, or procedures, a request for a waiver to the partnership may be made as part of the plan. Upon review, the partnership may grant the proposed modification.

4. Persons with an early childhood teaching certificate may provide support and supervision to other staff in the school readiness program.

5. The coalition may not implement its plan until it submits the plan to and receives approval from the partnership. 240.3836 Site-determined baccalaureate degree access ~~program; funding.~~—

(1) The Legislature recognizes that public and private postsecondary education institutions play essential roles in improving the quality of life and economic well-being of the state and its residents. The Legislature also recognizes that economic development needs and the educational needs of place-bound, nontraditional students have increased the demand for local access to baccalaureate degree programs. In some, but not all, geographic regions, baccalaureate degree programs are being delivered successfully at the local community college through agreements between the community college and 4-year postsecondary institutions within or outside of the state. It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to further expand access to baccalaureate degree programs through the use of community colleges ~~apply this concept in the creation and funding of a program that supports local economic development and responds to public demand for increased access to baccalaureate degrees in areas of the state that are underserved by 4 year institutions.~~

(2) A community college may be authorized by the Florida Board of Education to offer a limited number of baccalaureate degrees designed to meet local workforce needs through one of the following processes:

(a) A community college may enter into a formal agreement with the state university in its service area for the community college to deliver specified baccalaureate degree programs. The agreement must be submitted to the Florida Board of Education for approval. The community college's proposal must include the following information:

1. Demand for the baccalaureate degree program is identified by the workforce development board, local businesses and industry, local chambers of commerce, and potential students.

2. Unmet need for graduates of the proposed degree program is substantiated.

3. The community college has the facilities and academic resources to deliver the program.

The proposal must be submitted to the Council for Education Policy Research and Improvement for review and comment. Upon approval of the Florida Board of Education for the specific degree program or programs, the community college shall pursue regional accreditation by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Any additional baccalaureate degree programs the community college wishes to offer must be approved by the Florida Board of Education.

(b) A community college may develop a proposal to deliver specified baccalaureate degree programs in its district. The proposal must be submitted to the Florida Board of Education for approval. The community college's proposal must include the following information:

1. Demand for the baccalaureate degree program is identified by the workforce development board, local businesses and industry, local chambers of commerce, and potential students.

2. Unmet need for graduates of the proposed degree program is substantiated.

3. The community college has the facilities and academic resources to deliver the program.

The proposal must be submitted to the Council for Education Policy Research and Improvement for review and comment. Upon approval of the Florida Board of Education for the specific degree program or programs, the community college shall pursue regional accreditation by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Any additional baccalaureate degree programs the community college wishes to offer must be approved by the Florida Board of Education.

(3) A community college may not terminate its associate in arts or associate in science degree programs as a result of the authorization provided in subsection (2). The Legislature intends that the primary mission of a community college, including a community college that offers baccalaureate degree programs, continues to be the provision of associate degrees that provide access to a university.

~~(2) Categorical funding is authorized for the site-determined baccalaureate degree access program created by this section. Funds may~~ not be used to support the construction, renovation, or remodeling of facilities. This program is voluntary and does not preclude other mutually agreed upon arrangements between community colleges and 4-year institutions for the delivery of baccalaureate degrees on community college sites.

(3) Each community college wishing to participate in the site-determined baccalaureate degree access program must:

(a) Identify baccalaureate degree programs that are not currently offered at the community college but are proposed for delivery at the college to meet the academic and economic development needs of one or more communities within the college's service area. When assessing local needs, the college should seek input from the appropriate chamber of commerce, workforce development council, and other civic and business groups. As used in this section, the term "economic development" means entrepreneurial efforts, the attraction of new business and industry to the area, and the expansion of existing business and industry.

(b) Determine the number of students interested in pursuing each proposed baccalaureate degree program and identify the enrollment patterns, any special characteristics of those students, and any unique combination or modification of course offerings that may be necessary to meet student enrollment needs.

(c) Submit a proposal to the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission requesting validation of the need for the proposed baccalaureate degree program and tentative approval for program funding. The proposal must include:

1. A description of each proposed baccalaureate degree program identifying the junior level and senior level courses to be offered and designating whether the program should be offered for a cohort group or as an ongoing degree program.

2. Evidence that local occupational forecasts support the existence of jobs for graduates of the proposed baccalaureate degree programs.

3. An estimated number of students to be served by each proposed degree program.

4. An assurance that the community college's existing facilities are sufficient to meet the additional demands for classroom and laboratory space for the proposed degree programs.

5. Evidence that the college has requested the participation of no fewer than three regionally accredited 4-year postsecondary institutions, including at least one member of the State University System. Any member of the State University System and any independent, regionally accredited, 4-year institution that is chartered in, and has its primary campus located in, Florida may be a partner in a site-determined baccalaureate degree access program at any community college.

6. A tentative agreement between the community college and the 4-year postsecondary institution selected to offer the upper-level courses leading to the proposed degree or degrees.

7. Any additional provisions that the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission considers pertinent to the proposal.

(4) The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission, after soliciting comments from the Board of Regents and the State Board of Community Colleges, shall validate the need for each baccalaureate degree program proposed for delivery according to this section and shall notify the community college that its proposal has been approved or rejected. The commission shall establish procedures for the timely submission, review, and approval of the proposals and agreements required by this section. These procedures must be designed to allow the initiation of approved baccalaureate degree programs at least 3 times each fiscal year.

(5) Once the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission validates the need for the proposed baccalaureate degree program and notifies the community college that its proposal has been approved, the community college shall finalize an agreement with the regionally accredited, public or nonpublic, 4-year postsecondary institution selected to provide the upper-level instructional services in the approved baccalaureate degree program. The commission shall identify the common aspects that each agreement must address, including, but not limited to:

(a) A course delivery pattern based on the student enrollment patterns and characteristics included in the approved proposal.

(b) An articulation provision that guarantees acceptance of students who hold an associate in arts or associate in science degree and satisfy any other prerequisites for admission to the specific baccalaureate degree program.

(c) The provision of library services and student support services.

(d) An agreement that the participating 4-year postsecondary institution will continue offering instructional services at least until all qualified members of the initial group of students have had an opportunity to complete the degree program.

(e) The specific and measurable performance criteria that the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission may use to evaluate the outcomes and outputs of the baccalaureate degree program within an identified timeframe.

(f) An agreement that in-state student tuition for the degree program will not exceed the matriculation fee for the State University System unless the proposal approved by the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission allows the participating institutions to charge differentiated tuition and fees to encourage student attendance and participation. Out-of-state students shall pay full costs. Notwithstanding s. 240.605, students participating in a site-determined baccalaureate degree program may not receive a Florida Resident Access Grant.

(6) Each participating community college must submit the agreement required by this section to the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission for review and final approval before initiating an approved site-determined baccalaureate degree access program. Subject to the availability of legislative appropriations specifically provided for this purpose, the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission must recommend to the Commissioner of Education the total funds to be released to each participating community college for the initiation of the approved site-determined baccalaureate degree access program. The community college shall distribute funds to the participating 4-year postsecondary institution at the rate specified in the approved agreement. The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission shall not recommend the release of funding for any program that is terminated before or after the evaluation required by this section. The total funds to be released for the initiation of an approved program shall be based on the number of fundable upper-level student credit hours for each term. Unless otherwise provided in an appropriations act, the funding per credit hour shall be an amount equal to the state funds, excluding student fees, appropriated to the State University System for each full-time equivalent student enrolled in upper-level course work. Student credit hours funded under this program may not be duplicated in any other calculation of state funding for the 4-year institution.

(7) The Postsecondary Education Planning Commission may require the participating community colleges and 4-year postsecondary institutions to submit information necessary to monitor the annual performance of the program. Within 90 days after the 2nd and 4th year of the site-determined baccalaureate degree access program, the commission shall submit to the chairs of the education and fiscal committees of the Legislature a progress report, including an evaluation of the funding mechanism created by this section. The commission shall review each site-determined baccalaureate degree access program funded under this section to ascertain whether the performance measures specified in the agreement between the participating community college and the 4-year institution have been met. Each program must be reviewed 4 years after initiation unless a shorter timeframe is specified in the agreement. The performance measures ~~must include the student graduation rate, the employment rate of program graduates both within and outside the community college service area, the continuing need to offer the specific baccalaureate degree program in the community college service area, and such other information as the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission may determine necessary for program and performance evaluation. Based on its evaluation, the commission shall either approve continuation of the program, require modifications prior to program approval, or recommend that the participating institutions terminate the program after all qualified members of the initial group of students have an opportunity to complete the degree program. The commission must submit to the Commissioner of Education for inclusion in the legislative budget a request for funding for approved site-determined baccalaureate degree access programs.~~

~~(8) If no accredited 4-year institution is willing to provide a baccalaureate degree program approved by the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission under this section, the community college board of trustees may ask the commission to evaluate the college's request to offer the degree program. If the commission is satisfied that the community college should offer the degree program, it shall recommend to the Legislature the enactment of statutory authority for the community college to offer that specific baccalaureate degree program.~~

Section 40. St. Petersburg College.—

(1) LEGISLATIVE INTENT.—The Legislature intends to create an innovative means to increase access to baccalaureate degree level education in populous counties that are underserved by public baccalaureate degree granting institutions. This education is intended to address the state's workforce needs, especially the need for teachers, nurses, and business managers in agencies and firms that require expertise in technology.

(2) ST. PETERSBURG COLLEGE; MISSION; POLICIES.—St. Petersburg Junior College is redesignated as St. Petersburg College. The college shall immediately seek accreditation from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools as a baccalaureate degree granting college.

(a) *The primary mission of St. Petersburg College is to provide high-quality undergraduate education at an affordable price for students and the state. (b) St. Petersburg College shall maintain the mission and policies of a Florida community college, including the open-door admissions policy and the authority to offer all programs consistent with a public community college's authority.

(c) St. Petersburg College shall maintain the distinction between the college and its university center. St. Petersburg College is limited to community college programs and to selected baccalaureate degree level programs that meet community needs and are authorized as provided by this section. The University Center may make available more diverse program offerings, but those programs are offered by a participating college or university and are not to be classified or funded as programs of St. Petersburg College.

(d) The academic policies of the upper-division program at St. Petersburg College must be in accordance with policies of the State University System.

(e) Sections 240.293 and 240.2945, Florida Statutes, apply to St. Petersburg College.

(3) STUDENTS; FEES.—

(a) *St. Petersburg College shall maintain separate records for students who are enrolled in courses classified in the upper division and lower division of a baccalaureate program, according to the common course numbering and designation system. (b) The Board of Trustees of St. Petersburg College shall establish the level of matriculation, tuition, and other authorized student fees.

1. For each credit hour of enrollment in a certificate level course or lower-division level college credit course, matriculation and tuition fees must be within the range authorized in law and rule for a community college student at that level.

2. For each credit hour of enrollment in an upper-division level course, matriculation and tuition fees must be in an amount established by the Board of Trustees of St. Petersburg College. However, fees for upper-division students must reflect the fact that the college does not incur the costs of major research programs. Therefore, the board shall establish fees for upper-division students within a range that is lower than the fees established for students at a public university but higher than the fees for community college students.

3. Other mandatory fees and local fees must be at the same level for all lower-division students. For upper-division students, other mandatory fees and local fees must be at a level less than fees established for University of South Florida students, regardless of program enrollment or level. However, students in workforce development education courses maintain the authorized fee exemptions described in s. 239.117, Florida Statutes, and may be exempt from local fees imposed by the Board of Trustees, at the board's discretion.

For each program selected, St. Petersburg College must offer a related associate in science or associate in applied science degree program, and the baccalaureate degree level program must be designed to articulate fully with at least one associate in science degree program. The college is encouraged to develop articulation agreements for enrollment of graduates of related associate in applied science degree programs.*

(b) St. Petersburg College may offer courses that enable teachers to qualify for certification and recertification as required by law or rule.

(c) St. Petersburg College may offer programs to provide opportunities for a person who holds a baccalaureate degree, but is not certified to teach, to obtain any additional courses required for teacher certification.

(d) Master's degree level programs and doctoral programs may be provided by agreement with a college or university participating in the University Center of St. Petersburg College.

(e) *For those students living outside Pinellas County, St. Petersburg College shall recruit for the upper-division only those students who have earned an associate degree. In recruiting upper-division students in Pasco and Hernando Counties, St. Petersburg College shall work cooperatively with Pasco-Hernando Community College and shall seek to offer courses and programs at Pasco-Hernando Community College when feasible. (d) A coordinating board shall assist the Board of Trustees in its deliberations concerning issues that affect the upper-division of St. Petersburg College. The coordinating board consists of the President of the University of South Florida, the President of St. Petersburg College, the President of Pasco-Hernando Community College, and the chairs of the boards of trustees of those institutions.

(e) Beginning 4 years after the college receives accreditation to offer baccalaureate degrees, the Board of Trustees of St. Petersburg College may determine additional programs to be offered, with the approval of the coordinating board. The determination must consider community needs and economic opportunities.

(f) The coordinating board shall meet at the request of the President of the University of South Florida or the President of St. Petersburg College.

(g) If the coordinating board cannot decide an issue of importance to the programs designed for upper-division students, the chief educational officer of this state shall resolve the issue.

(7) FACILITIES.—St. Petersburg College may request funding from the Public Education Capital Outlay and Debt Service Trust Fund as a community college and as a university. The municipalities in Pinellas County, the Board of County Commissioners of Pinellas County, and all other governmental entities are authorized to cooperate with the Board of Trustees of St. Petersburg College in establishing this institution. The acquisition and donation of lands, buildings, and equipment for the use of St. Petersburg College are authorized as a public purpose. The Board of County Commissioners of Pinellas County and all municipalities in Pinellas County may exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire lands, buildings, and equipment for the use of St. Petersburg College, regardless of whether such lands, buildings, and equipment are located in a community redevelopment area.*

(8) STATE FUNDING.—

(a) The Legislature intends to fund St. Petersburg College as a community college for its workforce development education programs and for its lower-division level college credit courses and programs.

(b) The Legislature intends to fund St. Petersburg College as a baccalaureate degree level institution for its upper-division level courses and programs.

(c) During the 2001-2002 fiscal year, St. Petersburg College shall estimate the appropriate level of funding for these programs. By March 1, 2002, the college shall complete a cost study and shall submit to the Legislature a proposal for cost accounting and legislative budget requests designed to acknowledge its unique classification. The cost study must indicate actual costs projected for the first 4 years of operation as a baccalaureate degree level institution, with the first students expected to enroll in the upper division in the fall semester of 2002.

Section 41. Nothing contained within this act shall be construed to adversely impact the accreditation of the University of South Florida.

Section 42. Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Testing Program.—

In addition, the Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify such courses in the general education core curriculum of each state university and community college.

(2) Each community college and state university must award credit for specific courses for which competency has been demonstrated by successful passage of one of these examinations unless the award of credit duplicates credit already awarded. Community colleges and universities may not exempt students from courses without the award of credit if competencies have been so demonstrated.

(3) Beginning with initial award recipients for the 2002-2003 academic year and continuing thereafter, students eligible for a Florida Academic Scholars award or a Florida Medallion Scholars award who are admitted to and enroll in a community college or state university shall, prior to registering for courses that may be earned through a CLEP examination and no later than registration for their second term, complete at least five examinations from those specified in subsection (1) in the following areas: English; humanities; mathematics; natural sciences; and social sciences. Successful completion of dual enrollment courses, Advanced Placement examinations, and International Baccalaureate examinations taken prior to high school graduation satisfy this requirement. The Articulation Coordinating Committee shall identify the examinations that satisfy each component of this requirement.

(4) Initial award recipients for the 2001-2002 academic year who are eligible for a Florida Academic Scholars award or a Florida Medallion Scholars award and who are admitted to and enroll in a community college or state university may choose, prior to registering for courses that may be earned through CLEP examination, to complete up to five CLEP examinations, one in each of the following areas: English; humanities; mathematics; natural sciences; and social sciences.

(5) Each community college and state university shall pay for the CLEP examinations required pursuant to this section from the funds appropriated from the Educational Enhancement Trust Fund. Institutions shall pay no more than $46 per examination for the program, which shall include access to a student guide to prepare for the test. The Department of Education shall negotiate with the College Board for a reduced rate for the examinations. The institution shall not charge the student for preparation and administration of the test, access to a student guide to prepare for the test, or recordkeeping and reporting of each student's test results to the department.

(6) The credit awarded pursuant to this section shall apply toward the 120 hours of college credit required pursuant to s. 240.115(6).

(7) The maximum number of credit hours for which a student is eligible to receive a Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program award shall be reduced by the number of hours for which credit is awarded pursuant to this section.

(8) Beginning with the 2002-2003 award recipients, the Department of Education shall track and annually report on the effectiveness of the program, and include information on the number of students participating in the program; the CLEP examinations taken and the passage rate of Florida Academic Scholars and Florida Medallion Scholars award recipients; the use of Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate examinations and dual enrollment courses to satisfy the requirements of the program; and the course credit provided.

Accordingly, it is the intent of the Legislature that a program be established through which many of the costs associated with postsecondary attendance may be paid in advance and fixed at a guaranteed level for the duration of undergraduate enrollment. It is similarly the intent of the Legislature to provide a program that fosters timely financial planning for postsecondary attendance and to encourage employer participation in such planning through program contributions on behalf of employees and the dependents of employees.

If the board perceives a need for additional assets in order to preserve actuarial soundness, the board may adjust the terms of subsequent advance payment contracts to ensure such soundness.

Any educational institution may distribute marketing materials produced for the program; however, all such materials shall have been approved by the board prior to distribution. Neither the state nor the board shall be liable for misrepresentation of the program by a marketing agent.

(e) Solicit proposals and contract, pursuant to s. 287.057, for a trustee services firm to select and supervise investment programs on behalf of the board. The goals of the board in selecting a trustee services firm shall be to obtain the highest standards of professional trustee services, to allow all qualified firms interested in providing such services equal consideration, and to provide such services to the state at no cost and to the purchasers at the lowest cost possible. The trustee services firm shall agree to meet the obligations of the board to qualified beneficiaries if moneys in the fund fail to offset the obligations of the board as a result of imprudent selection or supervision of investment programs by such firm. The board shall inform purchasers of changes to the tax or securities status of contracts purchased through the program.

(9) PREPAID COLLEGE PLANS.—At a minimum, the board shall make advance payment contracts available for two independent plans to be known as the community college plan and the university plan. The board may also make advance payment contracts available for a dormitory residence plan.

(a)1. Through the community college plan, the advance payment contract shall provide prepaid registration fees for a specified number of undergraduate semester credit hours not to exceed the average number of hours required for the conference of an associate degree. The cost of participation in the community college plan shall be based primarily on the average current and projected registration fees within the Florida Community College System and the number of years expected to elapse between the purchase of the plan on behalf of a qualified beneficiary and the exercise of the benefits provided in the plan by such beneficiary. Qualified beneficiaries shall bear the cost of any laboratory fees associated with enrollment in specific courses. Each qualified beneficiary shall be classified as a resident for tuition purposes, pursuant to s. 240.1201, regardless of his or her actual legal residence.

2. Effective July 1, 1998, the board may provide advance payment contracts for additional fees delineated in s. 240.35, not to exceed the average number of hours required for the conference of an associate degree, in conjunction with advance payment contracts for registration fees. The cost of purchasing such fees shall be based primarily on the average current and projected fees within the Florida Community College System and the number of years expected to elapse between the purchase of the plan on behalf of the beneficiary and the exercise of benefits provided in the plan by such beneficiary. Community college plan contracts purchased prior to July 1, 1998, shall be limited to the payment of registration fees as defined in subsection (2).

(b)1. Through the university plan, the advance payment contract shall provide prepaid registration fees for a specified number of undergraduate semester credit hours not to exceed the average number of hours required for the conference of a baccalaureate degree. The cost of participation in the university plan shall be based primarily on the current and projected registration fees within the State University System and the number of years expected to elapse between the purchase of the plan on behalf of a qualified beneficiary and the exercise of the benefits provided in the plan by such beneficiary. Qualified beneficiaries shall bear the cost of any laboratory fees associated with enrollment in specific courses. Each qualified beneficiary shall be classified as a resident for tuition purposes pursuant to s. 240.1201, regardless of his or her actual legal residence.

2. Effective July 1, 1998, the board may provide advance payment contracts for additional fees delineated in s. 240.235(1), for a specified number of undergraduate semester credit hours not to exceed the average number of hours required for the conference of a baccalaureate degree, in conjunction with advance payment contracts for registration fees. Such contracts shall provide prepaid coverage for the sum of such fees, to a maximum of 45 percent of the cost of registration fees. The costs of purchasing such fees shall be based primarily on the average current and projected cost of these fees within the State University System and the number of years expected to elapse between the purchase of the plan on behalf of the qualified beneficiary and the exercise of the benefits provided in the plan by such beneficiary. University plan contracts purchased prior to July 1, 1998, shall be limited to the payment of registration fees as defined in subsection (2).

(c) Through the dormitory residence plan, the advance payment contract may provide prepaid housing fees for a maximum of 10 semesters of full-time undergraduate enrollment in a state university. Dormitory residence plans shall be purchased in increments of 2 semesters. The cost of participation in the dormitory residence plan shall be based primarily on the average current and projected housing fees within the State University System and the number of years expected to elapse between the purchase of the plan on behalf of a qualified beneficiary and the exercise of the benefits provided in the plan by such beneficiary. Qualified beneficiaries shall have the highest priority in the assignment of housing within university residence halls.

Qualified beneficiaries shall bear the cost of any additional elective charges such as laundry service or long-distance telephone service. Each state university may specify the residence halls or other university-held residences eligible for inclusion in the plan. In addition, any state university may request immediate termination of a dormitory residence contract based on a violation or multiple violations of rules of the residence hall or other university-held residences. In the event that sufficient housing is not available for all qualified beneficiaries, the board shall refund the purchaser or qualified beneficiary an amount equal to the fees charged for dormitory residence during that semester. If a qualified beneficiary fails to be admitted to a state university or chooses to attend a community college that operates one or more dormitories or residency opportunities, or has one or more dormitories or residency opportunities operated by the community college direct-support organization, the qualified beneficiary may transfer or cause to have transferred to the community college, or community college direct-support organization, the fees associated with dormitory residence. Dormitory fees transferred to the community college or community college direct-support organization may not exceed the maximum fees charged for state university dormitory residence for the purposes of this section, or the fees charged for community college or community college direct-support organization dormitories or residency opportunities, whichever is less.

(10) TRANSFER OF BENEFITS TO PRIVATE AND OUT-OF-STATE COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES AND TO AREA TECHNICAL CENTERS.—A qualified beneficiary may apply the benefits of an advance payment contract toward:

If the cost of registration or housing fees at the independent college or university is less than the corresponding fees at a state postsecondary institution, the amount transferred shall not exceed the actual cost of registration or housing fees. A transfer authorized under this paragraph may not exceed the number of semester credit hours or semesters of dormitory residence contracted on behalf of a qualified beneficiary.

(b) An eligible out-of-state college or university. An out-of-state college or university that is not for profit and is accredited by a regional accrediting association, and that confers degrees, is eligible for such application. The board shall transfer, or cause to have transferred, an amount not to exceed the redemption value of the advance payment contract ~~at a state postsecondary institution or the original purchase price plus 5 percent compounded interest, whichever is less, after assessment of a reasonable transfer fee.~~ If the cost of registration or housing fees charged the qualified beneficiary at the eligible out-of-state college or university is less than this calculated amount, the amount transferred shall not exceed the actual cost of registration or housing fees. Any remaining amount shall be transferred in subsequent semesters until the transfer value is depleted. A transfer authorized under this paragraph may not exceed the number of semester credit hours or semesters of dormitory residence contracted on behalf of a qualified beneficiary.

(c) An applied technology diploma program or vocational certificate program conducted by a community college listed in s. 240.3031 or an area technical center operated by a district school board. The board shall transfer or cause to be transferred to the community college or area technical center designated by the qualified beneficiary an amount not to exceed the redemption value of the advance payment contract ~~at within~~ a state postsecondary institution. If the cost of the fees charged by the college or center, as authorized in s. 239.117, is less than the corresponding fees at a state postsecondary institution, the amount transferred may not exceed the actual cost of the fees. A transfer authorized under this paragraph may not exceed the number of semester credit hours contracted on behalf of a qualified beneficiary.

Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, an institution must be an "eligible educational institution" under s. 529 of the Internal Revenue Code to be eligible for the transfer of advance payment contract benefits.

(11) ADVANCE PAYMENT CONTRACTS; CONTENTS.—The board shall construct advance payment contracts for registration and may construct advance payment contracts for dormitory residence as provided in this section. No purchaser or qualified beneficiary whose advance payment contract is terminated pursuant to this subsection shall be entitled to a refund. The board shall retain any moneys paid by the purchaser for an advance payment contract that has been terminated in accordance with this subsection. Such moneys retained by the board are exempt from chapter 717, and such retained

(c) In the event of the death or total disability of the beneficiary, moneys paid for the purchase of advance payment contracts shall be ~~refunded returned~~ to the purchaser in an amount not to exceed the redemption value of the advance payment contract at a state postsecondary institution ~~together with 5 percent compounded interest, or the current rates at state postsecondary institutions, whichever is less.~~

(d) If an advance payment contract is converted from one registration plan to a plan of lesser value, the amount refunded shall not exceed the difference between the amount paid for the original contract and the amount that would have been paid for the contract to which the plan is converted had the converted plan been purchased under the same payment plan at the time the original advance payment contract was executed.

(e) No refund shall be authorized through an advance payment contract for any school year partially attended but not completed. For purposes of this section, a school year partially attended but not completed shall mean any one semester whereby the student is still enrolled at the conclusion of the official drop-add period, but withdraws before the end of such semester. If a beneficiary does not complete a community college plan or university plan for reasons other than specified in paragraph (c), the purchaser shall receive a refund of the amount paid into the fund for the remaining unattended years of the advance payment contract pursuant to rules promulgated by the board.

(14) CONFIDENTIALITY OF ACCOUNT INFORMATION.—Information that identifies the purchasers or beneficiaries of any plan promulgated under this section and their advance payment account activities is exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1). However, the board may authorize the program's records administrator to release such information to a community college, college, or university in which a beneficiary may enroll or is enrolled. Community colleges, colleges, and universities shall maintain such information as exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1).

(15) OBLIGATIONS OF BOARD; PAYMENT.—The state shall agree to meet the obligations of the board to qualified beneficiaries if moneys in the fund fail to offset the obligations of the board. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the board from investing in, by purchase or otherwise, bonds, notes, or other obligations of the state or an agency or instrumentality of the state. Unless otherwise specified by the board, assets of the fund shall be expended in the following order of priority:

(a) To make payments to state postsecondary institutions on behalf of qualified beneficiaries.

(18) PAYROLL DEDUCTION AUTHORITY.—The state or any state agency, county, municipality, or other political subdivision may, by contract or collective bargaining agreement, agree with any employee to remit payments toward advance payment contracts through payroll deductions made by the appropriate officer or officers of the state, state agency, county, municipality, or political subdivision. Such payments shall be held and administered in accordance with this section.

(19) DISCLAIMER.—Nothing in this section shall be construed as a promise or guarantee that a qualified beneficiary will be admitted to a state postsecondary institution or to a particular state postsecondary institution, will be allowed to continue enrollment at a state postsecondary institution after admission, or will be graduated from a state postsecondary institution.

(20) PROGRAM TERMINATION.—In the event that the state determines the program to be financially infeasible, the state may discontinue the provision of the program. (21) ANNUAL REPORT.—The board shall annually prepare or cause to be prepared a report setting forth in appropriate detail an accounting of the fund and a description of the financial condition of the program at the close of each fiscal year. Such report shall be submitted to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and members of the State Board of Education on or before March 31 each year. In addition, the board shall make the report available to purchasers of advance payment contracts. The board shall provide to the Board of Regents and the State Board of Community Colleges, by March 31 each year, complete advance payment contract sales information, including projected postsecondary enrollments of qualified beneficiaries. The accounts of the fund shall be subject to annual audits by the Auditor General or his or her designee.

(c) An annual financial and compliance audit of the financial accounts and records of the direct-support organization must be performed by an independent certified public accountant. The audit must be submitted to the board for review and approval. Upon approval, the board shall certify the audit report to the Auditor General for review. The board and Auditor General shall have the authority to require and receive from the organization or its independent auditor any detail or supplemental data relative to the operation of the organization.

(d) The identity of donors who desire to remain anonymous shall be confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, and such anonymity shall be maintained in the auditor's report. So the bill passed, as amended. The action, together with the bill and amendments thereto, was immediately certified to the Senate.

Explanations of Vote

Senate Bill 1162 was taken up as the last bill of the 2001 session at 11:15 p.m. There was a motion to call the previous question at 11:26 p.m. which only allowed each side 3 minutes of debate. Final passage of the bill was voted on at 11:31 p.m. Given the complexity and significance of the effort it was impossible to comprehend all of the proposed changes within the limited amount of time that was given for debate. In addition to the lack of time given to the bill, I was concerned about several provisions within the bill. In particular, I opposed the provisions that: abolish the board of regents; eliminate pre-k standards for staffing, training, security screening, and certification; and end home-school partnerships for parents of young children with disabilities and children at risk of future school failure.

Sometimes, members vote against legislation because the bad just outweighs the good. Other times, members vote no because they are philosophically or ideologically opposed to the proposed concept. However, today, I am voting against SB 1162 because I truly believe it is a bad product. This bill will require the state to completely overhaul its public education system in less than 30 days. In the meantime, the bill deletes many of the statutes currently used to govern our schools. I just don't believe that we can accomplish this in such a short time without serious consequences. Fortunately, even in defeating this bill, we can still work on the constitutionally required transition. The budget includes funding for the transition. There is nothing to keep the Governor from beginning the process of moving personnel and making other changes, such as appointing the local university boards. Worse yet, this major piece of legislation was tacked on as a last minute, late night amendment onto a the Prepaid College Bill. Members were only given a few minutes to read the amendment and even less time to debate the measure. I firmly believe that passing this bill will only lead to chaos in Florida's public education system.

Statement of Legislative Intent on CS/HB 409

On recommendation by Rep. Goodlette, Chair of the Committee on Rules, Ethics & Elections, the following remarks were spread upon the Journal:

Rep. Farkas: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members, this is the educator liability bill. There was some concern about the wording "competitive process" versus "competitive bidding." Just so you can hear the legislative intent, or our intent, and my intent as the sponsor of the bill, and Senator Webster's intent, the intent is not to circumvent nor to preselect a specific agent, broker or insurance company; rather, the intent is for the liability insurance coverage to be awarded by the competitive bidding process as it's done in every single state agency, and I hope that clarifies any misconceptions, Mr. Speaker.

Explanation of Vote on CS for CS for CS for SB 1202

I voted in opposition of CS/CS/CS/SB 1202 on May 2, 2001, because of the limits on punitive damages and the exemption from vicarious liability for nursing home facilities and assisted living facilities found in sections 8-12 and 43-44. The cap on punitive damages shields nursing homes and assisted living facilities from full accountability for their worst conduct. The exemption from vicarious liability prevents the resident and their family from holding the facilities accountable for the wrongful acts of its employees. These provisions are unfair and provide no guarantee that they could lead to availability of reasonably priced liability insurance for long-term care facilities.

There are other provisions in this bill that I support. Those provisions include an eventual increase in the minimum staffing requirements for direct care staff, the strengthening of AHCA's regulatory authority by increasing the number of nursing home inspections, an increase in the fines for violation of AHCA's requirements, and licensure requirements for the nursing homes and assisted living facilities.

I sponsored Amendment #191785, which was offered but not considered. That amendment would have provided much stronger and quicker protections for nursing home patients as well as litigation reform.

The Honorable Katherine Harris
Secretary of State

June 15, 2001

Dear Secretary Harris:

I hereby transmit to you without my signature Committee Substitute for House Bill 337, an act relating to public libraries.

In 2000, section 257.17, Florida Statutes, was amended to provide an exception for a municipality with a population of 200,000 or more that establishes or maintains a library to receive operating grants under certain criteria. The amended provision was to have been a one-time allocation to be repealed on July 1, 2001. Committee Substitute for House Bill 337 extends the repeal date provided in section 257.17, Florida Statutes, from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2002. This extension serves to allow the City of Hialeah to receive an additional operating grant from the State Aid to Libraries grant program.

I am allowing Committee Substitute for House Bill 337 to become law this year. While I recognize the importance of providing library services to all Florida citizens, I have concerns with legislation designed to specifically allocate funds to an entity not meeting the criteria set forth in law. Therefore, I strongly encourage the City of Hialeah, Miami-Dade County and the Department of State to work together to reach an interlocal agreement to address providing library services to all affected residents. With the expectation that such an agreement will be reached, if a similar extension passes next year, I will veto such legislation.

Sincerely,
JEB BUSH
Governor

Explanation of Vote on CS for CS for CS for SB 1202

Today [May 2, 2001], the Florida House of Representatives took a monumental step towards insuring quality care for the residents of Florida nursing homes. I was proud to cast my vote in favor of SB 1202. SB 1202 is a good bill, however, I believe there are several issues that we still must address. First, although the staffing standards are an improvement from past requirements, we can do better and our seniors deserve better. Second, we must further increase the compensation levels of those who take care of our seniors in nursing homes. Nursing home aides are not satisfied with the standards and pay set by SB 1202, however SB 1202 is an improvement from past standards and pay, and they are content to work for better benefits and work conditions in the future. Finally, I have discomfort with the provisions of this bill that treat the large self insured for-profit nursing homes the same as the non-profit Continuing Care Retirement Communities (CCRC). The CCRC's are placed at a disadvantage because of the escalating cost of liability insurance. These provisions create inequity and we must address them.

Explanation of Vote on CS for SB 1558

Subsequent to the passage of Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1558, it was reported in Florida newspapers that section 146 of this bill which mandates entry into Florida Medical Schools for eligible military academy graduates was written specifically to assist the admission of one particular student. This information was not known by myself or most other legislators prior to our vote. While I support the opportunity for qualified military academy graduates to attend medical school, I am troubled by the insinuation of political patronage.
