Section 1. Section 193.011, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

193.011 Factors to consider in deriving just valuation.—

(1) In arriving at the just valuation of property as required under s. 4, Art. VII of the State Constitution, the property appraiser shall take into consideration the following factors:

(a) The present cash value of the property, which is the amount a willing purchaser would pay a willing seller, exclusive of reasonable fees and costs of purchase, in cash or the immediate equivalent thereof in a transaction at arm’s length;

(b) The highest and best use to which the property can be expected to be put in the immediate future and the present use of the property, taking into consideration any applicable judicial limitation, local or state land use regulation, or historic preservation ordinance, and considering any moratorium imposed by executive order, law, ordinance, resolution, or proclamation adopted by any governmental body or agency or the Governor when the moratorium or judicial limitation prohibits or restricts the development or improvement of property as otherwise authorized by applicable law. The applicable governmental body or agency or the Governor shall notify the property appraiser in writing of any executive order, ordinance, regulation, resolution, or proclamation it adopts imposing any such limitation, regulation, or moratorium;

(c) The location of the property;

(d) The quantity or size of the property;

(e) The cost of the property and the present replacement value of any improvements thereon;

(f) The condition of the property;

(g) The income from the property; and

(h) The net proceeds of the sale of the property, as received by the seller, after deduction of all of the usual and reasonable fees and costs of the sale, including the costs and expenses of financing, and allowance for unconventional or atypical terms of financing arrangements. When the net proceeds of the sale of any property are utilized, directly or indirectly, in the determination of just valuation of the property, the property appraiser, for the purposes of such determination, shall exclude any portion of such net proceeds attributable to payments for household furnishings or other items of personal property.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1)(b), the property appraiser shall consider the highest and best use to which the property can be expected to be put in the immediate future if approved by a super majority vote of the governing body of the county where the property is located.

Section 2. Section 192.011, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

192.011 All property to be assessed.—The property appraiser shall assess all property located within the county, except inventory, whether such property is taxable, wholly or partially exempt, or subject to classification reflecting a value less than its just value at its present highest and best use. Extension on the tax rolls shall be made according to regulation promulgated by the department in order properly to reflect the general law. Streets, roads, and highways which have been dedicated to or otherwise acquired by a municipality, a county, or a state agency may be assessed, but need not be.

Section 3. Subsection (1) of section 193.015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

193.015 Additional specific factor; effect of issuance or denial of permit to dredge, fill, or construct in state waters to their landward extent.—

(1) If the Department of Environmental Protection issues or denies a permit to dredge, fill, or otherwise construct in or on waters of the state, as defined in chapter 403, to their landward extent as determined under s. 403.181(2), the property appraiser is expressly directed to consider the effect of that issuance or denial on the value of the property and any limitation that the issuance or denial may impose on the highest and best use of the property to its landward extent.

Section 4. Subsection (4) of section 193.017, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

193.017 Low-income housing tax credit.—Property used for affordable housing which has received a low-income housing tax credit from the Florida Housing Finance Corporation, as authorized by s. 420.5099, shall be assessed under s. 193.011 and, consistent with s. 420.5099(5) and (6), pursuant to this section.

(4) If an extended low-income housing agreement is filed in the official public records of the county in which the property is located, the agreement, and any recorded amendment or supplement thereto, shall be considered a land-use regulation and a limitation on the highest and best use of the property during the term of the agreement, amendment, or supplement.

(Redesignate subsequent sections.)

And the title is amended as follows:

On page 1, line 2, after the semicolon (:) insert: amending s. 192.011, F.S.; deleting the requirement for property appraisers to consider the highest and best use of property in determining the just valuation of property unless approved by a super majority of the county governing body; amending ss. 192.011, 193.015, and 193.017, F.S., to conform;

Amendment 1 (185410)—On page 17, line 18, insert:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the following statement be placed on the ballot:

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION
ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 3, 4, 6, AND 9
ARTICLE VIII, SECTION 1
ARTICLE XII, SECTIONS 27 AND 28

PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTIONS; LIMITATIONS ON AD VALOREM TAX INCREASES; ELECTED PROPERTY APPRAISERS.—This revision proposes changes to the State Constitution relating to ad valorem taxation and elected property appraisers. With respect to homestead property, this revision: (1) adds an additional homestead exemption for most homeowners, (2) provides an additional homestead exemption for certain low-income seniors, (3) provides an additional homestead exemption that diminishes over time for first-time Florida homebuyers, and (4) provides for the transfer of Save-Our-Homes benefits that are not related to school taxes. With respect to nonhomestead property, this revision allows the Legislature to provide by law for the assessment of (5) affordable housing and (6) certain waterfront property under specific circumstances, and (7) provides a $25,000 exemption for tangible personal property. Further, this revision (8) requires the Legislature to limit the authority of local governments other than school districts to increase property taxes, and (9) requires all county property appraisers to be elected.

In more detail, this revision:

(1) Increases the homestead exemption by providing an additional homestead exemption for the portion of the assessed value greater than $50,000 and up to $75,000. This exemption does not apply to school taxes.

(2) Provides an additional homestead exemption for certain low-income seniors. Persons 65 or older whose household income is less than $23,604, adjusted annually for inflation, will be exempt from ad valorem taxes, including school taxes, on the first $100,000 of the homestead property's assessed value.

(3) Provides an additional exemption for first-time homebuyers beginning in 2008. First-time homebuyers in Florida who qualify for homestead exemption will be eligible for an additional exemption in an amount equal to 25 percent of the initial just value of their new homestead, not to exceed 25 percent of the median just value for homesteads in the county for the prior year. The amount of the exemption is offset each year by the amount of the accrued Save-Our-Homes benefit. When the Save-Our-Homes benefit meets or exceeds the exemption, the exemption is lost. This exemption is also available to 2007 first-time homebuyers who qualify for homestead exemption on January 1, 2008. This exemption does not apply to school taxes.

(4) Provides for the transfer of accumulated Save-Our-Homes benefits in a manner that does not affect school taxes. Homestead property owners will be able to transfer their Save-Our-Homes benefit to a new homestead within 2 years after relinquishing their previous homestead; except, if the new homestead is established on January 1, 2008, the previous homestead must have been relinquished in 2007. If the new homestead has a higher just value than the old one, the benefit can be transferred; if the new homestead has a lower just value, the amount of benefit transferred will be reduced in proportion of the just value of the new homestead to the just value of the old homestead. The transferred benefit may not exceed $1 million. This provision does not apply to school taxes on the new homestead.

(5) Provides for assessing certain rent-restricted affordable housing property as provided by general law. This provision does not apply to school taxes.

(6) Provides for assessing certain waterfront property used for commercial fishing, commercial water-dependent activities, and public access as provided by general law. This provision does not apply to school taxes.

(7) Authorizes an exemption from ad valorem taxes of $25,000 of assessed value of tangible personal property. This provision applies to all tax levies.

(8) Requires the Legislature to limit the authority of counties, municipalities, and special districts to increase ad valorem taxes.

(9) Requires each county to have an elected property appraiser or person responsible for the duties of a property appraiser as a county officer and eliminates the option for choosing that county officer in any other manner provided by county charter or special law approved by vote of the electors of the county. The requirement that a property appraiser or person responsible for the duties of a property appraiser be elected by the electors of the county applies in each county without exception, including each charter county, regardless of the authority under which the charter was adopted and notwithstanding constitutional grants of authority to charter counties.
Further, this revision:

a. Repeals obsolete language on the homestead exemption when it was less than $25,000 and did not apply uniformly to property taxes levied by all local governments.

b. Moves two current provisions related to the homestead exemption and makes them applicable to the increased homestead exemption.

c. Schedules the changes to take effect upon approval by the electors and operate retroactively to January 1, 2008, if approved in a special election held on January 29, 2008, or to take effect January 1, 2009, if approved in the general election held in November of 2008.

On motion by Senator Haridopolos, CS for SJR 2-D was read in full as follows:

CS for SJR 2-D—A joint resolution proposing amendments to Sections 3, 4, 6, and 9 of Article VII and Section 1 of Article VIII and the creation of Sections 27 and 28 of Article XII of the State Constitution, to require an exemption from ad valorem taxation for tangible personal property, to provide for the transfer of the accrued benefit from the limitation on the assessed value of homestead property, to provide for assessing rent-restricted affordable housing and commercial and public-access waterfront property by general law, to increase the homestead exemption, to create an additional homestead exemption for first-time homestead property owners, to provide an additional homestead exemption for low-income seniors, to require the Legislature to limit county, municipality, and special district authority to increase ad valorem taxes, to require each county to have an elected property appraiser or person responsible for the duties of a property appraiser in certain counties in which the office of property appraiser has been abolished, and to provide an effective date if such amendments are adopted.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following amendments to Sections 3, 4, 6, and 9 of Article VII and Section 1 of Article VIII and the creation of Sections 27 and 28 of Article XII of the State Constitution are agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized by law for that purpose:

ARTICLE VII
FINANCE AND TAXATION

SECTION 3. Taxes; exemptions.—

(a) All property owned by a municipality and used exclusively by it for municipal or public purposes shall be exempt from taxation. A municipality, owning property outside the municipality, may be required by general law to make payment to the taxing unit in which the property is located. Such portions of property as are used predominantly for educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes may be exempted by general law from taxation.

(b) There shall be exempt from taxation, cumulatively, to every head of a family residing in this state, household goods and personal effects to the value fixed by general law, not less than one thousand dollars, and to every widow or widower or person who is blind or totally and permanently disabled, property to the value fixed by general law not less than five hundred dollars.

(c) Any county or municipality may, for the purpose of its respective tax levy and subject to the provisions of this subsection and general law, grant community and economic development ad valorem tax exemptions to new businesses and expansions of existing businesses, as defined by general law. Such an exemption may be granted only by ordinance of the county or municipality, and only after the electors of the county or municipality voting on such question in a referendum authorize the county or municipality to adopt such ordinances. An exemption so granted shall apply to improvements to real property made by or for the use of a new business and improvements to real property related to the expansion of an existing business and shall also apply to tangible personal property of such new business and tangible personal property related to the expansion of an existing business. The amount or limits of the amount of such exemption shall be specified by general law. The period of time for which such exemption may be granted to a new business or expansion of an existing business shall be determined by general law. The authority to grant such exemption shall expire ten years from the date of approval by the electors of the county or municipality, and may be renewable by referendum as provided by general law.

(d) By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, there may be granted an ad valorem tax exemption to a renewable energy source device and to real property on which such device is installed and operated, to the value fixed by general law not to exceed the original cost of the device, and for the period of time fixed by general law not to exceed ten years.

(e) Any county or municipality may, for the purpose of its respective tax levy and subject to the provisions of this subsection and general law, grant historic preservation ad valorem tax exemptions to owners of historic properties. This exemption may be granted only by ordinance of the county or municipality. The amount or limits of the amount of this exemption and the requirements for eligible properties must be specified by general law. The period of time for which this exemption may be granted to a property owner shall be determined by general law.

(f) By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, twenty-five thousand dollars of the assessed value of property subject to tangible personal property tax shall be exempt from ad valorem taxation.

SECTION 4. Taxation; assessments.—By general law regulations shall be prescribed which shall secure a just valuation of all property for ad valorem taxation, provided:

(a) Agricultural land, land producing high water recharge to Floridians’ aquifers, or land used exclusively for noncommercial recreational purposes may be classified by general law and assessed solely on the basis of character or use.

(b) Pursuant to general law tangible personal property held for sale as stock in trade and livestock may be valued for taxation at a specified percentage of its value, may be classified for tax purposes, or may be exempted from taxation.

(c) All persons entitled to a homestead exemption under Section 6 of this Article shall have their homestead assessed at just value as of January 1 of the year following the effective date of this amendment. This assessment shall change only as provided herein.

(1) Assessments subject to this provision shall be changed annually on January 1st of each year, but those changes in assessments shall not exceed the lower of the following:

a. Three percent (3%) of the assessment for the prior year.

b. The percent change in the Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers, U.S. City Average, all items 1967-1982, or successor reports for the preceding calendar year as initially reported by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

(2) No assessment shall exceed just value.

(3) After any change of ownership, as provided by general law, homestead property shall be assessed at just value as of January 1 of the following year, unless the provisions of paragraph (8) apply. Thereafter, the homestead shall be assessed as provided herein.

(4) New homestead property shall be assessed at just value as of January 1st of the year following the establishment of the homestead, unless the provisions of paragraph (8) apply. That assessment shall only change as provided herein.

(5) Changes, additions, reductions, or improvements to homestead property shall be assessed as provided for by general law; provided, however, after the adjustment for any change, addition, reduction, or improvement, the property shall be assessed as provided herein.

(6) In the event of a termination of homestead status, the property shall be assessed as provided by general law.

(7) The provisions of this amendment are severable. If any of the provisions of this amendment shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any remaining provisions of this amendment.

(8)a. For all levies other than school district levies, a person who establishes a new homestead as of January 1, 2009, or January 1 of any subsequent year and who has received a homestead exemption pursuant to Section 6 of Article VII of this constitution as of January 1 of either of the two years immediately preceding the establishment of the new homestead is entitled to have the new homestead assessed at less than just value. A person who establishes a new homestead as of January 1, 2008, is entitled to have the new homestead assessed at less than just value only if that person received a homestead exemption on January 1, 2007. The assessed value of the newly established homestead shall be determined as follows:

1. If the just value of the new homestead is greater than or equal to the just value of the prior homestead of the person establishing the new homestead as of January 1 of the year in which the prior homestead was abandoned, the assessed value of the new homestead shall be the just value of the new homestead minus an amount equal to the lesser of $1 million or the difference between the just value and the assessed value of the prior homestead as of January 1 of the year in which the prior homestead was abandoned. Thereafter, the homestead shall be assessed as provided herein.

2. If the just value of the new homestead is less than the just value of the prior homestead of the person establishing the new homestead as of January 1 of the year in which the prior homestead was abandoned, the assessed value of the new homestead shall be equal to the just value of the new homestead divided by the just value of the prior homestead and multiplied by the assessed value of the prior homestead. However, if the difference between the just value of the new homestead and the assessed value of the new homestead calculated pursuant to this subparagraph is greater than $1 million, the assessed value of the new homestead shall be increased so that the difference between the just value and the assessed value equals $1 million. Thereafter, the homestead shall be assessed as provided herein.

b. By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the Legislature shall provide for application of this paragraph to property owned by more than one person.

d. The legislature may, by general law, for assessment purposes and subject to the provisions of this subsection, allow counties and municipalities to authorize by ordinance that historic property may be assessed solely on the basis of character or use. Such character or use assessment shall apply only to the jurisdiction adopting the ordinance. The requirements for eligible properties must be specified by general law.

(e) A county may, in the manner prescribed by general law, provide for a reduction in the assessed value of homestead property to the extent of any increase in the assessed value of that property which results from the construction or reconstruction of the property for the purpose of providing living quarters for one or more natural or adoptive grandparents or parents of the owner of the property or of the owner’s spouse if at least one of the grandparents or parents for whom the living quarters are provided is 62 years of age or older. Such a reduction may not exceed the lesser of the following:

1. The increase in assessed value resulting from construction or reconstruction of the property.

2. Twenty percent of the total assessed value of the property as improved.

(f) As defined by general law, real property that is used to provide affordable housing and is subject to rent restrictions imposed by a governmental agency may be assessed as provided by general law, subject to conditions or limitations specified therein. This subsection shall apply to all levies other than school district levies.

g. As defined by general law, land that is used exclusively for commercial fishing purposes or that is open to the public and used predominantly for commercial water-dependent activities or for public access to waters that are navigable may be assessed as provided by general law, subject to conditions or limitations specified therein. For purposes of this paragraph, the term “water-dependent activity” means any activity that can be conducted only on, in, over, or adjacent to waters that are navigable and that requires direct access to water and involves the use of water as an integral part of such activity. This subsection shall apply to all levies other than school district levies.

SECTION 6. Homestead exemptions.—

(a) Every person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent residence of the owner, or another legally or naturally dependent upon the owner, shall be exempt from taxation thereon, except assessments for special benefits, up to the assessed valuation of twenty-five thousand dollars and, for all levies other than school district levies, on the assessed valuation greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and up to seventy-five thousand dollars, upon the assessed value of right of way owned by the owner. The real estate may be held by legal or equitable title, by the entirety, jointly, in common, as a condominium, or indirectly by stock ownership or membership representing the owner’s or member’s proprietary interest in a corporation owning a fee or a leasehold initially in excess of ninety-eight years. The exemption shall not apply with respect to any assessment roll until such roll is first determined to be in compliance with the provisions of section 4 by a state agency designated by general law. This exemption is repealed on the effective date of any amendment to this Article which provides for the assessment of homestead property at less than just value.

(b) Not more than one exemption shall be allowed any individual or family unit or with respect to any residential unit. No exemption shall exceed the value of the real estate assessable to the owner or, in case of ownership through stock or membership in a corporation, the value of the proportion which the interest in the corporation bears to the assessed value of the property.

c. As provided by general law and subject to conditions specified therein, each person who establishes the right to receive the homestead exemption provided in subsection (a) within one year after purchasing the homestead property and who had not previously owned property receiving the homestead exemption provided in subsection (a) is entitled to an additional homestead exemption in an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the homestead property’s just value on January 1 of the year in which the homestead is established, not to exceed twenty-five percent of the median just value of homesteads in the county in which the homestead is located in the year prior to establishing the new homestead. This exemption is not available if any owner of the property has previously owned property that received the homestead exemption provided in subsection (a). The additional homestead exemption shall be reduced each year by the difference between the homestead’s just value and assessed value as determined under subsection (c) of Section 4 until the value of the exemption is reduced to zero. The exemption provided under this subsection shall apply to all levies other than school district levies.

d. By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the exemption shall be increased to a total of twenty-five thousand dollars of the assessed value of the real estate for each school district levy. By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the exemption for all other levies may be increased up to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars of the assessed value of the real estate if the owner has attained age sixty-five or is totally and permanently disabled and if the owner is not entitled to the exemption provided in subsection (a).

e. By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the exemption shall be increased to a total of twenty-five thousand dollars of the assessed value of the real estate with respect to 1980 assessments, twenty thousand dollars with respect to 1981 assessments, twenty-five thousand dollars with respect to assessments for 1982 and each year thereafter. However, such increase shall not apply with respect to any assessment roll until such roll is first determined to be in compliance with the provisions of section 4 by a state agency designated by general law. This subsection shall stand repealed on the effective date of any amendment to this Article which provides for the assessment of homestead property at less than just value.

(f) The legislature may, by general law, allow counties or municipalities, for the purpose of their respective tax levies and subject to the provisions of general law, to grant an additional homestead tax exemption not to exceed fifty thousand dollars to any person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent residence of the owner and who has attained age sixty-five and whose household income, as defined by general law, does not exceed twenty thousand dollars. The general law must allow counties and municipalities to grant this additional exemption, within the limits prescribed in this subsection, by ordinance adopted in the manner prescribed by general law, and must provide for the periodic adjustment of the income limitation prescribed in this subsection for changes in the cost of living.

Each veteran who is age 65 or older who is partially or totally permanently disabled shall receive a discount from the amount of the ad valorem tax otherwise owed on homestead property the veteran owns and resides in if the disability was combat related, the veteran was a resident of this state at the time of entering the military service of the United States, and the veteran was honorably discharged upon separation from military service. The discount shall be in a percentage equal to the percentage of the veteran's permanent, service-connected disability as determined by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs.

To qualify for the discount granted by this subsection, an applicant must submit to the county property appraiser, by March 1, proof of residency at the time of entering military service, an official letter from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs stating the percentage of the veteran's service-connected disability and such evidence that reasonably identifies the disability as combat related, and a copy of the veteran's honorable discharge. If the property appraiser denies the request for a discount, the appraiser must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the denial, and the veteran may reapply. The Legislature may, by general law, waive the annual application requirement in subsequent years. This subsection shall take effect December 7, 2006, is self-executing, and does not require implementing legislation.

Real property owned and used as a homestead by a person who has attained age sixty-five and whose household income, as defined by general law, does not exceed $23,604 is exempt from ad valorem taxation on the first $100,000 of assessed value. The legislature shall provide for an annual adjustment of the income limitation prescribed in this subsection for changes in the cost of living and may provide additional financial eligibility requirements or other eligibility requirements.

SECTION 9. Local taxes.—

(a) Counties, school districts, and municipalities shall, and special districts may, be authorized by law to levy ad valorem taxes and may be authorized by general law to levy other taxes, for their respective purposes, except ad valorem taxes on intangible personal property and taxes prohibited by this constitution.

(b) Ad valorem taxes, exclusive of taxes levied for the payment of bonds and taxes levied for periods not longer than two years when authorized by vote of the electors who are the owners of freeholds therein not wholly exempt from taxation, shall not be levied in excess of the following millages upon the assessed value of real estate and tangible personal property: for all county purposes, ten mills; for all municipal purposes, ten mills; for all school purposes, ten mills; for water management purposes for the northwest portion of the state lying west of the line between ranges two and three east, 0.05 mill; for water management purposes for the remaining portions of the state, 1.0 mill; and for all other special districts a millage authorized by law approved by vote of the electors who are owners of freeholds therein not wholly exempt from taxation. A county furnishing municipal services may, to the extent authorized by law, levy additional taxes within the limits fixed for municipal purposes.

(c) By general law, the legislature shall limit the authority of counties, municipalities, and special districts to increase ad valorem taxes.

ARTICLE VIII
LOCAL GOVERNMENT

SECTION 1. Counties.—

(a) POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS. The state shall be divided by law into political subdivisions called counties. Counties may be created, abolished or changed by law, with provision for payment or apportionment of the public debt.

(b) COUNTY FUNDS. The care, custody and method of disbursing county funds shall be provided by general law.

(c) GOVERNMENT. Pursuant to general or special law, a county government may be established by charter which shall be adopted, amended or repealed only upon vote of the electors of the county in a special election called for that purpose.

SECTION 27. Elected property appraisers; application.—The requirement in Section 1(d) of Article VIII for a property appraiser to be elected by the electors of the county shall apply in each county, including each charter county, regardless of whether the charter was adopted pursuant to Section 1(g) of Article VIII or pursuant to Section 9, Section 11, or Section 24 of Article VIII of the Constitution of 1885, as amended and incorporated by reference in Section 6(e) of Article VIII. Any county that does not have an elected property appraiser on the effective date of the amendment to Section 1 of Article VIII of this constitution shall provide for electing a property appraiser at the next general election as provided by general law.

SECTION 28. Property tax exemptions and ad valorem tax limitations.—The amendments to Sections 3, 4, 6, and 9 of Article VII, providing a $25,000 exemption for tangible personal property, providing an additional $25,000 homestead exemption, authorizing transfer of the accrued benefit from the limitations on the assessment of homestead property, providing an additional homestead exemption for first-time homestead property owners, providing a complete homestead exemption for low-income seniors, providing for assessing rent-restricted affordable housing and commercial and public-access waterfront property pursuant to general law, and requiring the legislature to limit the authority of counties, municipalities, and special districts to increase ad valorem taxes, and the creation of Section 27 of this Article providing for election of county property appraisers, and this section, if submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at a special election authorized by law to be held on January 29, 2008, shall take effect upon approval by the electors and shall operate retroactively to January 1, 2008, or, if submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election, shall take effect January 1 of the year following such general election.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the following statement be placed on the ballot:

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION
ARTICLE VII, SECTIONS 3, 4, 6, AND 9
ARTICLE VIII, SECTION 1
ARTICLE XII, SECTIONS 27 AND 28

PROPERTY TAX EXEMPTIONS; LIMITATIONS ON AD VALOREM TAX INCREASES; ELECTED PROPERTY APPRAISERS.—This revision proposes changes to the State Constitution relating to ad valorem taxation and elected property appraisers. With respect to homestead property, this revision: (1) adds an additional homestead exemption for most homeowners, (2) provides an additional homestead exemption for certain low-income seniors, (3) provides an additional homestead exemption that diminishes over time for first-time Florida homebuyers, and (4) provides for the transfer of Save-Our-Homes benefits that are not related to school taxes. With respect to nonhomestead property, this revision allows the Legislature to provide by law for the assessment of (5) affordable housing and (6) certain waterfront property under specific circumstances, and (7) provides a $25,000 exemption for tangible personal property. Further, this revision (8) requires the Legislature to limit the authority of local governments other than school districts to increase property taxes, and (9) requires all county property appraisers to be elected.

In more detail, this revision:

(1) Increases the homestead exemption by providing an additional homestead exemption for the portion of the assessed value greater than $50,000 and up to $75,000. This exemption does not apply to school taxes.

(2) Provides an additional homestead exemption for certain low-income seniors. Persons 65 or older whose household income is less than $23,604, adjusted annually for inflation, will be exempt from ad valorem taxes, including school taxes, on the first $100,000 of the homestead property’s assessed value.

(3) Provides an additional exemption for first-time homebuyers beginning in 2008. First-time homebuyers in Florida who qualify for homestead exemptions will be eligible for an additional exemption in an amount equal to 25 percent of the initial just value of their new homestead, not to exceed 25 percent of the median just value for homesteads in the county for the prior year. The amount of the exemption is offset each year by the amount of the accrued Save-Our-Homes benefit. When the Save-Our-Homes benefit exceeds the exemption, the exemption is lost. This exemption is also available to 2007 first-time homebuyers who qualify for homestead exemption on January 1, 2008. This exemption does not apply to school taxes.

(4) Provides for the transfer of accumulated Save-Our-Homes benefits in a manner that does not affect school taxes. Homestead property owners will be able to transfer their Save-Our-Homes benefit to a new homestead within 2 years after relinquishing their previous homestead; except, if the new homestead is established on January 1, 2008, the previous homestead must have been relinquished in 2007. If the new homestead has a higher just value than the old one, the benefit can be transferred; if the new homestead has a lower just value, the amount of benefit transferred will be reduced in proportion of the just value of the new homestead to the just value of the old homestead. The transferred benefit may not exceed $1 million. This provision does not apply to school taxes on the new homestead.

(5) Provides for assessing certain rent-restricted affordable housing property as provided by general law. This provision does not apply to school taxes.

(6) Provides for assessing certain waterfront property used for commercial fishing, commercial water-dependent activities, and public access as provided by general law. This provision does not apply to school taxes.

(7) Authorizes an exemption from ad valorem taxes of $25,000 of assessed value of tangible personal property. This provision applies to all tax levies.

(8) Requires the Legislature to limit the authority of counties, municipalities, and special districts to increase ad valorem taxes.

(9) Requires each county to have an elected property appraiser or person responsible for the duties of the property appraiser as a county officer and eliminates the option for choosing that county officer in any other manner provided by county charter or special law approved by vote of the electors of the county. The requirement that a property appraiser or person responsible for the duties of a property appraiser be elected by the electors of the county applies in each county without exception, including each charter county, regardless of the authority under which the charter was adopted and notwithstanding constitutional grants of authority to charter counties.

Further, this revision:

a. Repeals obsolete language on the homestead exemption when it was less than $25,000 and did not apply uniformly to property taxes levied by all local governments.

b. Moves two current provisions related to the homestead exemption and makes them applicable to the increased homestead exemption.

c. Schedules the changes to take effect upon approval by the electors and operate retroactively to January 1, 2008, if approved in a special election held on January 29, 2008, or to take effect January 1, 2009, if approved in the general election held in November of 2008.
